LIQUOR BUYING CRIME, SAYS SUPREME COURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special.]—Bootleggers' patrons, the United States Supreme court ruled today in a unanimous opinion, are "guilty of crime."

The court, in an important test case brought by the government, held that persons not only "deliberately and knowingly" exempted purchasers in the Volstead act, but for ten years significantly left the law in its original form."

The question of the equal liability of a purchaser with a bootlegger was presented to the court in the government's appeal from an order of a Boston, Mass., federal District court dismissing an indictment against Jesse E. Farrar, charged with "unlawfully and knowingly having purchased intoxicating liquors in violation of the national prohibition act." The court's opinion upheld the lower court, which quashed the indictment on the ground that an "ordinary purchaser does not come within the purview of the act."

Farrar Loses Second Test Case.

It is a second test case, without passing upon the merits of the points involved, but because of a plea of guilty having been entered, the court upheld the contention of Alfred E. Norris, New York investment banker, indicted with Farrar for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

In the Farrar case the government relied upon section 6 of the Volstead act, which provides "no one shall . . . purchase . . . any liquor . . . without first obtaining a permit from the commissioner to do so . . ." but admitted at the outset that the ambiguity of the language to Farrar was not free from doubt.

Court Interprets Act.

In the Supreme court opinion, read by Justice Sutherland, pointed out that the language quoted, with other provisions of the same sections and corresponding sections, relates "only to a class of persons who are authorized to sell, furnish, or otherwise deal with intoxicating liquors for nonbeverage purposes and who proceed to do so without a permit."

"That this defendant does not belong to that class," said the court, "we could not, under any circumstances, have obtained a permit to make a purchase of the character here in question, is not in dispute."

"How long before the adoption of the eighteenth amendment," the opinion continued, "it has been held with substantial unanimity that, in the absence of an express statutory provision to the contrary, the purchaser of an intoxicating liquor, the sale of which was prohibited, was guilty of a crime. And statutes to the contrary have been the rare exception. Presently it was thought more important to preserve the complete freedom of the purchaser to testify against the seller than to punish him for aiding the purchase.

Buyer's Exemption Deliberate.

"However that may be, it is fair to assume that congress, when it came to enact the prohibition act, knew this settled rule, and acting in the light of it, deliberately and designedly omitted to make criminal upon the purchaser of liquor for beverage purposes any criminal intent.

"If aught were needed to support this view of the matter it would be found in the fact, conceded by the government's brief, that during the entire period of the national prohibition act, a period of ten years, the executive department charged with the administration and enforcement of the act has consistently construed it as not making the purchaser in a case like the present; no prosecution until the present one has ever been undertaken upon a different theory; and this court, of course, well aware of this long-continued and practice, has significantly left the law in its original form. It follows that, since the indictment charges no offense under section 6, it was properly quashed."

Shepard Bill Shelved.

An amendment to the Volstead act making the purchaser equally guilty with the seller of liquor was introduced early in the session by Senator Morris Sheppard [Dem., Tex.], author of the eighteenth amendment. The measure was originally endorsed by the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals, but the Anti-Saloon league declined to indorse the measure and no attempt has been made thus far to press for passage.

EDNA IS READY TO ELOPE, BUT PLANS GO AWRY

Seventeen year old Edna Essig was eloping. She had packed her suitcase, slipped out of her home at 3332 North Clark street after her parents had retired, and was waiting at Roscoe street and Southport avenue for the flivver bearing her fiancé, George Keifer, 18, of 2838 Sheffield avenue, and the best man, James Smith, 19, of 2653 North Halsted street. Crown Point was their destination.

The boys were late. It was almost 11 o'clock. However, as Edna watched a car approached. It came nearer and she saw it was a flivver—but it was not a black flivver. It was painted a bright yellow. It stopped in front of the grocery of Adrian Loefgren, 3417 Southport avenue. Police alighted and ran up fire escapes. They returned with Keifer and Smith.

"We didn't have enough money to buy gas or have a wedding breakfast," Keifer told Sergt. Edward Mullaney at the Town Hall station, "and we figured we could provide both by rifling the till and stealing a few groceries."

The elopement has been postponed.

Romance of the Old South Goes Flooey

Birmingham, Ala., May 26.—(Special.)—A romance of the old south is shattered. Born and nurtured under the silver moonlight and soft winds of Dixie, heavy with the odor of magnolia and jasmine; matured under the influence of unshakable family traditions and the faith handed down for generations, a sweet love has run its course.

Miss Southern Democracy has asked divorce, and alimony from J. Thomas Heflin, United States senator from Alabama. She also asks that heavy personal and punitive damages be assessed against the defendant. She accuses the senior senator of abandonment, infidelity and ill-treatment.

Love Spark Still Burns.

Miss Democracy, even in the papers filed in equity court today, admits the spark of love still lives in her heart; she would take back here erring spouse, should he abandon the evil companions of recent years.

"Your complainant and respondent," the petition says, "were married to each other in the fall of the year 1894 at Lafayette, Ala., where the respondent was a lowly cotton grower and where your complainant, through her aid and influence, first elevated the respondent to the rank of a public officer in this great state.

"But beginning in the spring of the year 1928 and until their separation this respondent began to stay out late at nights and was often seen in the company of disreputable characters known as Republicans; he would come home in a bad mood and banefully mutter 'Raskobite' at your complainant and her friends.

"He no longer fed and cared for the pet donkey that was their comfort during their married life, and brought into their happy home an ungainly elephant to which he devoted his entire time and attention.

Cruelty and Threats.

"Your complainant further charges that the respondent was cruel to her and committed actual violence upon her person; that he threatened to destroy her forever, attending his words and threats with actions well calculated to cause her grave apprehension of danger to her life and health.

"Your complainant further charges that the respondent during the time above mentioned (1928) failed to support her and furnish her with those necessities of life, and that, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of the year 1928, he utterly abandoned her, without cause, leaving her broke, destitute, and in ill health.

"Although respondent did cruelly wrong, humiliate, and slander the complainant, when she was ill and in great mental distress, beset by many foes, he would even yet seek to live in her house and enjoy her affections and favor without repenting his wrongs. He falsely pretends that, at the time he wronged and abandoned her, she was wrong, unchaste, impure, and defiled."

"Therefore," the petition adds, "the complainant prays that your honor will render a decree forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony and that your complainant again be permitted to plunge her adventurous prow once more into the bevexed waters of the seas of connubiality, and cast her fortunes with any man who gains her affections in the contest for her favor, provided for by the law of her father's home."

Plaintiff Not in Court.

The plaintiff was not in court when the petition was filed by A. Berkowitz, a young Birmingham lawyer.

A modest lady of now ageing years, Miss Democracy shunned appearance before the public, but consented later to grant an interview with the press. Seated on the wide, pillared porch of her ancestral home, clad in frilled bombazine and with flirtation curls winding about her forehead, she wept softly as she tried to tell of her broken love. Sobs choked her voice when she recalled the lost chivalry which, in the dead past, would have stopped any gentleman from so treating a southern belle.

EX-CORONER WOLFF SCOLDED FOR BEING TARDY AT INQUEST

Oscar Wolff was once coroner and when his witnesses did not appear on time at the inquests he used to scold them for "holding up the machinery of the court." Yesterday he held up the same "machinery" for one hour or more and he heard about it from Deputy Coroner Frank Donaghue.

"Don't you know that you can be put in jail for coming in here one hour late?" shouted Donaghue as Wolff bustled into the Western Undertaking rooms, 226 West Randolph street, where the inquest into the death of Mrs. Kate Perry, 47 years old, 6200 Kenwood avenue, was being held.

"If your name is Wolff hurry up and get in that witness chair and tell what you know about this case," said the deputy. "You are holding up the works. Next time you'll go to jail."

"Say, don't you know that I was once the coroner of this county?" asked the witness. "You shouldn't talk to me like that."

"You are late, but we will take your testimony anyhow," said the deputy. Wolff told of seeing Mrs. Perry jump from the crossover bridge of the elevated railroad at Clark and Lake streets. She was found to have committed suicide while temporarily insane.

MORE THAN HALF OF POPULATION IN COOK COUNTY

Figures Fortify Plea for Remapping.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The population of Illinois is placed in excess of 7,500,000 in a tentative total of the census of 1930 arrived at yesterday by the experts. It indicates a growth of more than a million in the last ten years. More than one-half of the state's increase appears to have been rolled up in Chicago alone, and that perhaps seven eighths of the total increase is in Cook county.

The figure is projected upon population trends as shown by the incomplete returns, and it is subject, of course, to final figures. In most of the downstate counties the count is said to have been completed, and the figures already reported are so widely distributed over the state, that the tabulators think they give a definite line on total population within perhaps 100,000 or so either way.

Important in Reapportionment.

Cook county now has more than one-half the population of Illinois, on the basis of the extensions of the incomplete figures. This is of more than passing interest to Cook county legislators at Springfield who have been awaiting the census returns for use in the battle for reapportionment, and in the fight against a revenue amendment to the constitution until the state is redistricted.

The Chicago Regional Planning association estimated that the final figure on Cook county's population will be in excess of 3,900,000. Other agencies figure that the incomplete returtures indicate about 4,000,000 population in the county, as against 3,053,000 in 1920.

Various estimates based on the incomplete returns indicate that Cook county now has at least 50 per cent of the state's population, probably 51 per cent, perhaps 52 per cent and maybe 53 per cent. Local legislators, dwelling upon this, point out that despite the growth in population, Cook county still has only 19 out of the 51 senatorial districts.

Changes in Thirty Years.

Thirty years ago when the present districts were carved out on the basis of the 1900 census, Cook county had 38 per cent of the population of the state. In 1910 it had 42.6 per cent, and in 1920 it had 47 per cent. In 1930, with incomplete figures indicating Cook county probably contains at least half the people in the state, it has the same old nineteen districts, and yesterday local legislators before entraining for Springfield declared the returns speak volumes upon disfranchisement and taxation without representation.

The tentative total of 7,500,000 for Illinois indicates an increase of about 15 2-3 per cent over 1920. In the decade 1910-20 population in the state grew 15 per cent; in the 1900-10 period it increased 16.9 per cent, and back in the decade 1890-1900 it grew 25 per cent. Actual growth is seen in the following figures:

1930 [tentative]	7,500,000
1928 [est. of federal census]	7,396,000
1920 federal census	6,485,280
1910 federal census	5,638,591
1900 federal census	4,821,550

Bomb Wrecks Home; Wife, Husband Hurt

A powerful dynamite bomb burst early this morning in the vestibule of a substantial two story residential structure at 4518 Montana street, wrecked the interior of the first floor, jolted ten persons from bed, and sent two of these to a hospital.

Rude Rasmussen, 60 year old cabinet maker, and his wife, Minnie, 61 years old, whose bedroom is just above the vestibule, were tossed from their bed, which the force of the blast rent apart, and were showered with plaster. They were taken to the Keystone hospital.

John Ganaldak, self-styled psychologist and healer, who owns the building, living upstairs and practicing healing in basement offices, was jolted from bed, as was his housekeeper, Betty Papinek, and his five children.

Another bomb was exploded early this morning at the entrance of the Barone pharmacy, 2601 Wentworth avenue, shattering windows and causing other minor damage. Chris Barone, proprietor of the place, could give no reason for the bombing other than that he was about to move to a new location across the street and open a lunch counter in connection with his drug store. Two families living over the drug store were driven out by the blast.

FIND POLICEMAN SLAIN; MYSTERY MARKS KILLING

A squad of Shakespeare avenue police, answering a report of a shooting early this morning in a cigar store at 1940 North California avenue, entered the darkened shop, groped to the rear, and, when lights were produced, found a uniformed officer lying on the floor, gun in hand, in what formed a comfortable speakeasy with private booths, a bar, and a stock of liquors.

The officer, Patrolman John McDonald, 35 years old, member of the force for two years, died in a taxi en route to the Norwegian-American hospital.

The key witness, seemingly, was another policeman, Harold Regan, who, also in uniform, was reported to have witnessed the shooting. Regan, who rode to the hospital with his dying fellow officer, returned to Shakespeare station after McDonald had been pronounced dead to make a statement.

The first report of the affair was telephoned the station by Patrolman Paul Alexander. He said he was awaiting a street car at California and Armitage avenues when a patrolman, whom he did not recognize, ran out of the supposed tobacconist's shouting: "McDonald's been shot. Get the wagon."

Alexander hailed the taxi, in which he and Regan accompanied the officer to the hospital.

Within the place the police found eight hats, including McDonald's, which was close to where he had lain; two caps, a gray topcoat and a jacket, a pair of woman's gloves, and an assortment of half filled and overturned glasses. One bullet had been fired from McDonald's gun.

HOOVER TO CALL SENATE BACK TO DECIDE ON NAVY

Will Stay Until a Decision Comes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special.]—Action on the London naval treaty will be taken at a special session of the senate to be called immediately after congress adjourns, probably within two or three weeks.

Following a day of conferences during which senate and house leaders explored the legislative program and discussed the situation with President Hoover, Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], majority leader, stated that congress would go ahead with its present business and adjourn without taking up the naval treaty.

"On the same day that congress adjourns," said Senator Watson, "the President will call the senate together in special session and the naval treaty will be taken up at once. The treaty will then remain the order of business until acted upon if it takes all summer. House leaders are ready to pass a resolution setting an adjournment date as soon as the senate is prepared for such a step."

Opposed to Hasty Action.

Opposition to hasty action on the treaty by opponents of the pact and a desire on the part of members of the house to get through and go home were two of the major reasons for the decision reached today. President Hoover's announcement of last Friday that he intended to call a special session, if necessary, to insure early action on the treaty was a principal factor.

The decision to postpone action on the treaty for a special session was made at a heated meeting of senate Republican leaders this morning. At this caucus Senators Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.] and Frederick Hale [Rep., Me.] of the senate naval affairs committee vigorously opposed an "attempt to railroad the naval treaty through the senate" by administration leaders.

Senator David A. Reed (Rep., Pa.), one of the leading American delegates to the London conference, minimized opposition to treaty ratification and took the position that the treaty should be acted on in a short time.

"Too Important to Hurry"

"No self-respecting senate would set a date for action on a treaty until the pact had been reported for discussion," Senator Johnson asserted. "I will have something to say when the treaty comes up for discussion," he is reported to have added, "and matters of the utmost importance to the country will be made public."

Under the program of the leaders the tariff and rivers and harbors bills will be acted on in the senate before congress adjourns. Other legislation, including the omnibus bills and veterans bills, also will be considerd.

As the situation stands tonight, it is probable both the senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees will complete hearings on the pact this week and the treaty will be reported to the senate next Monday.

Under Fire of Navy Men.

Not only the treaty but the attitude taken by the United States delegation at the London naval reduction conference came in for criticism by five members of the navy general board at the morning session of the foreign relations committee. In the afternoon two other flag officers of the navy attacked the treaty before the senate naval affairs committee as inimical to American interests. One admiral, five rear admirals, and one captain testified during the day.

Appearing before the naval affairs committee, Rear Admiral William H. Standley, assistant chief of naval operations, asserted that the London naval treaty would place the United States in a pathetically helpless position to protect its trade routes outside the limits of its coastal commerce. He asserted that the increased ratio given to Japan would end American influence in the orient and make it virtually impossible for the United States to win an American-Japanese war.

No Protection for Trade Routes.

"Under the treaty," asked Chairman Hale, "what is our chance of protecting commerce in the far east?"

"None," replied the witness.

"How would we stand in the eastern Atlantic?"

"Almost the same," replied the witness. "We would be limited to protection of our trade with Central America, the Caribbean area, and our coastal trade. We would be practically helpless to protect our trade in the far east. The result would be that our influence would gradually disappear.

"In case of a war with Japan we would have to make peace if we could not keep open our trade routes. We should have a 10-5 ratio with Japan. With a 5-3 ratio we have a chance to protect our routes, but with the ratios carried in the London treaty we would not be able to protect our trade and might have to sign an inglorious peace in event of war with Japan. Protection of trade is just as important as building a combat fleet."

"How would the treaty leave Great Britain?" asked Chairman Hale.

"It would leave her mistress of the seas," Rear Admiral Standley replied. "We would not have parity at any time during the treaty."

Debate Cruiser Allowance.

In criticizing the treaty before the foreign relations committee the five general board members insisted that the United States should have been allowed at least 21 8 inch gun cruisers instead of eighteen. Rear Admiral L. M. Bulton, former commander of the battle fleet, openly criticized the treaty because, he said, it permitted Great Britain to dictate the types of cruisers the United States should build. He also asserted that the United States should have insisted at London on a lessening of the restrictions placed on the fortifications of the Philippines, Guam, and other American naval bases in the western Pacific.

Capt. Alfred W. Johnson, chief of naval intelligence, and a member of the board, said the United States had made by far the most concessions of any of the powers. He pictured the American delegation as one which had gone to London so anxious to get a treaty it had made vital concessions in order to come back with a pact.

Lists Some Concessions.

Among concessions made by the United States, he mentioned the increased ratio in naval strength, including parity in submarines, accorded Japan, and the recession from twenty-one to eighteen 8 inch gun cruisers by this country at the insistence of the British.

Capt. Johnson illustrated his point by calling attention to the fact that at the beginning of negotiations the British admiralty was demanding fifty cruisers while the American general board was equally insistent that this country should not accept less than twenty-one 8 inch gun ships.

"At the conference," remarked Capt. Johnson, "the British delegation never went below the fifty cruisers demanded by the British admiralty. But the American delegation went below the twenty-one 8 inch gun cruiser minimum set by the naval general board of this country."

Taking exception to Capt. Johnson's remarks, Senator Reed cross-examined the witness regarding his statement that the United States had made the most concessions at London.

Questioned by Reed.

"Is it true," demanded the Pennsylvania senator, "that the British admirals are very unhappy about their reduction to 50 cruisers?"

"Very much so," replied Capt. Johnson.

"And that the feeling against the treaty was so strong in Japan that the Japanese delegates to the conference needed police protection?" continued Senator Reed.

"That's true, according to reports," confirmed Capt. Johnson.

MRS. McLAUGHLIN FIGHTS TO SAVE WAUKEGAN DOGS

Failing yesterday to dissuade Waukegan police from their intention of carrying out Waukegan's second annual massacre of stray dogs, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin last night announced plans which, she hopes, will reduce the casualties.

Late in May last year the city council ordered the police for a period of one week to shoot every unlicensed canine found and the death toll reached 500. When a similar order was issued yesterday, Mrs. McLaughlin pleaded for consideration of the canines, pointing out that this year many pet owners were too poor to buy licenses.

Her argument failed to move the council, whereupon Mrs. McLaughlin announced that any Waukegan citizen unable to buy a dog license and wishing to spare the pet's life would find a haven for the animal at Orphans of the Storm, Mrs. McLaughlin's animal refuge at Deerfield.

BOMBAY, May 26. — (AP) — Bloody rioting in Rangoon, Bombay and Dacca today brought British authorities in India face to face with a serious situation in these three big cities of Burma and the Indian peninsula.

The rioting at Rangoon, the most serious of the day, had no direct connection with the civil disobedience campaign of the Nationalists. It broke out between different bands of coolies, when laborers were imported to replace striking Burmese dock workers. The latest reports gave 26 dead and nearly 700 injured.

Troops Stand at Arms.

All bazaars were closed, and cavalcades of mounted police clattered through the streets in large patrols. Detachments of the Cameron highlanders and the Punjab regiment were ready to intervene if necessary.

The rioters were brought under control by a vigorous display of force late in the day.

In Dacca, an important city of Bengal, 150 miles northeast of Calcutta, Hindus and Moslems fiercely fought each other during the day. Six deaths were reported and many injuries. Scores of arrests were made.

Two Slain in Bombay Riot.

The situation was still so serious tonight that the chairman of the district board telegraphed the viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, for adequate police help "in order that the people may feel they are still living under the British government."

Bombay did not escape unscathed. Two persons were killed and 19 injured, including a Mohammedan woman, during the suppression of a riot in the heart of the Moslem quarter. A mob of 5,000 Moslems stoned European policemen.

The police were compelled to fire several volleys, first over the heads, and then into the mass of the rioters. They were forced to fire in self-defense.

Dog Cause of Riot.

The disorders, which were centered in the Bhendi bazaar, were caused by a mere trifle. A Mohammedan hooligan threw stones at a dog belonging to a European police sergeant, and when the sergeant started to pursue him a group of Moslems began throwing stones. A riotous mob rapidly gathered. They marched on the police quarters and stoned the buildings and the police, who finally responded by revolver fire to get the mob under control.

The government has declared forfeited the land where the Untadi camp, headquarters of Dharsana salt raiders, is situated. Police this afternoon bodily removed volunteers, who refused to vacate the camp. The commissioner of the northern district of the Bombay presidency served the expulsion order in person.

Eighty-three volunteers raided the Wadala salt pans this morning, thirty escaping with salt and thirty being arrested. The others fled. An official inquiry has opened at Peshawar into the disorders there in April.

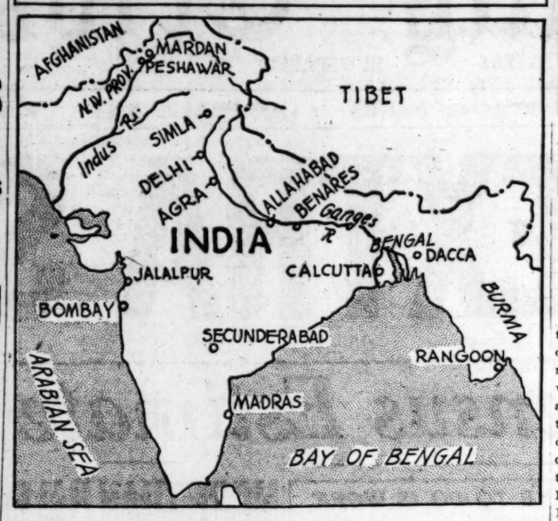
PESHAWAR, May 26.—D. B. Murphy, assistant superintendent of police at the village of Mardan, was killed by a mob mainly composed of "red shirts" yesterday. The young officer, who, two years ago, was decorated with the king's police medal for entering a burning house in Peshawar and rescuing a young Indian boy, met death in a courageous effort to disperse a crowd estimated at 1,200 with a force of 55 Indian policemen armed only with staves.

Last month police arrested six "red shirt" ringleaders. It was in demonstration of protest that yesterday's disturbance occurred. Murphy disappeared in the crowd at the head of his constables and in the fight was felled with a stone. The mob dispersed quickly.

MANY SLAIN IN RIOTS IN INDIA



Map shows scenes of bloody riots, where many were slain and wounded yesterday. Twenty-six were killed, 700 wounded in labor riot at Rangoon, while at Dacca, a city in Bengal, six were reported slain in fight between Hindus and Moslems.

The toll of dead in Bombay was two, with 19 wounded, in a Moslem riot. Police fired on a mob of 5,000.

An English police official was killed Sunday near Peshawar on the northwestern frontier. British troops have entrenched themselves behind sandbags in railroad stations north of Benares. At Calcutta, Moslems joined in the civil disobedience movement.

BUILD SANDBAG FORTS

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AGRA, India, May 26.—At all railway stations north of Benares, where British rule is being openly defied, strong British forces have been stationed, with orders to quell any signs of disorders. Sentries are standing guard, protected by sandbag barriers.

In striking contrast to Hindu dominated Benares, THE TRIBUNE correspondent finds a strong sentiment among the Moslems for the maintenance of British rule in Mohammedan centers like Allahabad and Agra.

Moslems of the United Provinces have called a convention for June 30 at Allahabad for the purpose of settling the Moslem position definitely and to formulate a minority program against civil disobedience and British boycotts. The Allahabad program is strongly indorsed at Agra and other Moslem regions.

On the other hand, at Delhi, to where THE TRIBUNE correspondent is now proceeding, Gandhi followers are preparing an outline for further revolt moves.

Support Labor's India Policy.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 26.—Except from a certain section of its own party, the back bench rebels, the Labor government received general support for its present policy in India from speakers of both opposition parties during tonight's debate in the house of commons on the situation in India. The discussion was adjourned without taking a vote.

"The government's duty is to govern," angrily declared Wedgwood Benn, secretary of state for India, to frequent interruptions in his speech by the Labor extremists. "In the face of this disorder it is the duty of the Labor government to carry on the government."

"Unrest Sporadic, Not General."

The India disturbances were characterized as sporadic and not general by Mr. Benn, who insisted that the vast population of India is continuing its daily work under a settled government in good order.

"We look forward to the day, when Indian liberty will be enlarged in order that it will take its place side by side with the other self-governing dominions of the empire," Secretary Benn continued. "It should not be right to hand over a legacy of anarchy and chaos."

FRANCO-ITALIAN NEGOTIATION FOR NAVY PACT ENDED

Duce's Speeches Blamed for Rupture.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 26.—The direct negotiations between France and Italy to overcome the obstacle over Italy's demand for naval parity with France, which prevented a five power treaty at London, have been ruptured. Further pourparlers through diplomatic channels, developing from the initial conversations at Geneva between Aristide Briand and Dino Grandi, with British Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson as mediator, have been abandoned.

Complicates Ratification of Pact.

This sudden aggravation of the tension in the Franco-Italian relations, already strained to the danger point during the London negotiations, postpones, sine die, further attempts to reach an amicable solution of their differences and complicates thereby the ratification of the London three power treaty.

Official quarters here today echo the opinion expressed by the press that Il Duce's inflammatory utterances seriously complicate the already delicate situation, and require the powers interested to consider what steps are necessary against potential eventualities.

"Will War Break Out?"

Certain newspapers—especially Pertinax in the Echo de Paris—blame the London conference for focusing public opinion and national interest upon the embarrassing problem of the Fascist ambitions to maintain sea power equal to that of France. Even the nationalist newspaper, La Liberte, admits Mussolini's defi is loaded with dynamite. "Monstrous as it seems," says La Liberte, "one asks the question, 'Will conflict break out between France and Italy?'"

L'Intransigeant stresses France's conciliatory attitude, reminding its readers that M. Briand declined to sign a four power pact because he was not willing to appear to isolate Italy.

DOG FRAUD RING IS BROKEN UP; 7 ADMIT GUILT

Batesville, Ark., May 26.—(AP)—The breakup of a hound dog fraud ring which came about when a Missouri farmer discovered he paid a mail order price of $50 for a dog he previously had sold for $2, today resulted in an eighteen months sentence for E. R. Moody of Hickman, Ky., reputed leader of the ring, on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Moody and six others involved in the operations of the ring which was alleged to have fraudulently disposed of worthless dogs to huntsmen and dog fanciers at high prices, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge John E. Martineau in federal court.

Italian Shipyard Merger Seen as Bid for Sea Power

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, May 26.—A huge merger of all Italian shipbuilding industries at the head of the Adriatic, centering chiefly around the port of Trieste, into a state subsidized corporation to be known as the Victory Ship Construction company — Cantieri Della Vittoria —was officially announced today.

The financial operations of the merger were effected through the Banca Commerciale Italiana in conjunction with the Cosulich and Lloyd Sabaudo Mercantile lines.

Three Main Firms Involved.

The three main shipbuilding yards to be united through fusion are the Trieste Technical Shipbuilding company, the Monfalcone Naval yards, and the San Rocco Shipbuilding company. One board of directors will in the future administrate all three concerns, but they will continue to operate individually, it was announced.

The directors and stockholders of the new concern will meet in two weeks, when budget plans and capital augmentation will be discussed. Several other large Italian industrial concerns are backing and cooperating in the new formation, it is announced.

Under government "tutelage the reorganization and combination of Italy's shipbuilding industry has been going on steadily for the last three years. The government gives heavy support to shipbuilding, subsidizing some activities to the extent of 60 per cent, it is reported. This government aid can be more systematically and economically applied with the consolidation of the shipping industry, it is said.

Increases Ship Output.

The merger calls attention to the bid for shipping traffic which Italy has been making and to the progress made during the last few years. Last year Italian yards turned out more than 100,000 tons of ships, compared to 30,000 tons in 1922. Important orders have been placed here by South American and Turkish governments.

The capitalization figures of the merger are not mentioned, but it is said the fusion will save the dockyards from an eventual crisis and assure a continuity of Italian shipbuilding. In view of the naval rivalry in the Mediterranean, the name of the new merger, the Victory Ship Construction company, is regarded as significant of Premier Mussolini's government aims.

SCHOOL GROUP AGAIN DELAYS AIRPORT ACTION

Action on the lease of 600 acres of the Clearing school property to the city for expansion of the Municipal airport has again been deferred. A new fifty year lease, providing for a rental of $25 an acre for the first ten years, $27.50 for the next five years, and a rental of $30 for the next five years, with a reassessment and cancelation clause for the end of the first twenty years was considered by the building and grounds committee and then shelved for further consideration.

DECIDE TO OPEN BIDS FOR LANE TECH BUILDING

Bids for the construction of the new $6,500,000 Lane Technical High school, to be erected at Addison street and Western avenue, will be opened today and contracts awarded next Wednesday, the building and grounds committee of the board of education decided yesterday. The plans, which have been called too ornate, will be changed after the contracts are let and revision charges fixed by a committee from the Builders' association.

Mr. Bohlen said that the wet candidates thought they were performing a patriotic service by making the race. They were unable to win, he said, because voters placed party organization ahead of the prohibition issue.

BOY POLICE CHIEF LIVES UP TO TRADITION

Roy Ladewig, 14 year old Boy Scout who served as "chief of police" of Harvey during Boys' week, was called on yesterday for his opinion as to what should be done with William Beckhoff, 21 years old, who pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery. Beckhoff asked for mercy, saying that he had robbed an ice cream parlor of $100 because he was out of work and needed the money to buy food for his family.

"Well, chief, what do you think about this case," Judge John J. Sullivan asked the Boy Scout. "Is he entitled to mercy?"

"Well, your honor, anything that you may decide will be entirely satisfactory to the people of Harvey," replied the youth. It was remarked by court attachés that this is the usual police answer given when a recommendation is asked by the judge.

The case was continued until June 10 to allow the judge time to make an investigation of the defendant's story.

Charge Alleged Quack with Drug Violation

A warrant charging Albert Bronston, 3745 Pine Grove avenue, with violation of the Harrison narcotic act was sworn out before United States Commissioner Walker by operatives of the federal narcotic department yesterday. Bronston was arrested on Thursday night on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. He will be arraigned today on the state charges. Col. William E. Smith, acting narcotic agent in charge, said the federal warrant would be served at the court and that Bronston would be taken into custody there.

Mrs. Mary Slomba, 37 years old, 5211 Kilpatrick avenue, who was shot on Sunday by Mrs. Josephine Kuwaja, 36 years old, of 5317 South Menard avenue, died yesterday in Holy Cross hospital. Mrs. Kuwaja shot Mrs. Slomba when she met her husband, Stanley Kuwaja, and Mrs. Slomba walking together in Archer avenue. Mrs. Kuwaja told Chicago Lawn police that her husband had left her for Mrs. Slomba two years ago.

MRS. HARRISON JOINS WOMEN IN WAR ON DRY LAW

Assists in Campaign for Prohibition Reform.

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison was announced yesterday by the Illinois branch of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform as a recruit to the ranks of objectors to the dry régime. Mrs. Harrison, wife of the Democratic ex-mayor, is notable for her literary achievements.

Mrs. Harrison is the second prominent Democratic woman to ally herself with this organization within the last few days, Mrs. George Brennan, widow of the Democratic leader, having joined last week. A third, Mrs. Charles M. Conkey, president of the Illinois Woman's Democratic club, manifested a sympathetic attitude towards the anti-prohibition campaign when questioned yesterday, but she declared that because of the disagreement in the Democratic ranks over a state dry referendum, she had not identified herself with the organized women's movement.

Put on Executive Board.

Mrs. Harrison's name was immediately added by the officials at the headquarters of the National Prohibition Reform society, 700 North Michigan, to the growing executive committee, which will have in charge the development and extension of the society in the state.

Her husband's opposition to prohibition was confirmed recently when the Harrisons returned from a long foreign tour and former Mayor Harrison announced that he would actively support the candidacy of former Senator James Hamilton Lewis for the senate on the anti-prohibition issue this fall against Mrs. Medill McCormick, the Republican nominee.

The Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform was started about a year ago by Mrs. Charles Sabin of New York, who resigned from the Republican national committee in order to be free to carry out her campaign. The Illinois branch of the organization is headed by Mrs. Leslie Wheeler of Lake Forest, with Mrs. William H. Mitchell as co-chairman, Mrs. Charles Cushing as treasurer, and Mrs. Wirt Morton secretary.

DRY DESPOTISM ASSAILED

"Nowhere in the world today is the absolutism of the eighteenth amendment paralleled, except in Soviet Russia," Stephen A. Day informed women meeting yesterday at the Stevens hotel under the auspices of the Illinois Women's Moderation Union. Miss M. Louise Gross of New York, national chairman, presided.

"Consider the invasion of personal liberty," said Mr. Day, who ran for congress man at large in the recent primary. "Take the tearing up of the bill of rights, the enthronement of bigotry, the right to padlock property without trial by jury, and all the other results of the prohibition legislation, and you have an appalling situation.

Dr. Georgia A. Burk, 901 Airdrie place, chairman of the Illinois organization, offered a resolution pledging support of the seventy-five women present to the candidates for congress who will come out against prohibition. It was passed unanimously.

YOUTHS RECOVER FROM BEATING AT DANCE HALL

Bearing the marks of blackjacks and brass knuckles, two Wilmette youths, Larry Mouat, 616 Lake street, and Monfort, 127 17th street, were recovering last night from the beating they received early yesterday at the hands of five Chicago youths in a fight at the Cottage, a dance hall in No Man's land, between Wilmette and Kenilworth.

Contrary to reports, the Wilmette police were nowhere near the vicinity when the fight occurred, nor was the battle over the favor of two girls the Wilmette youths were reputed to have escorted to the dance hall. Mouat and Monfort, who came to the place unattended, brushed the fender of another car as they parked their own, provoking the occupants of the damaged machine to retaliation.

LONDON, May 26.—(AP)—Queen Mary today celebrated her 63d birthday in the privacy of Buckingham palace, where all the family were gathered with congratulations and presents. Most importance was attached to the visit of the grandchildren—Princess Mary's two sons and little Princess Elizabeth of York—whose presentation of gifts to grandma was made with impressive enthusiasm.

DROP CHARGES AGAINST EX-AID OF PROSECUTOR

The state's attorney's office yesterday entered a nolle prosse order in pending cases against Andrew Bender, former employé of the state's attorney's office, in Judge Martin Isaac's Criminal court. Charges of forgery and of operating a confidence game were dismissed. Bender served under the Hoyne and Crowe régimes and part of the Swanson administration. He was in charge of the bond forfeiture department.

Bender was tried on one charge, but was acquitted by a jury in Judge E. I. Frankhauser's court. His defense was that Attorney Albert O. Olson, a brother of State's Attorney Swanson's son-in-law, filed some of the suits in which the bond forfeitures involved in the indictments were set aside. Olson was a state's witness in the case.

"There is no use of trying Bender alone," Prosecutor Charles Mueller explained.

Trip Disappoints; Girl, 18, Takes Poison in Station

En route to her home in Buffalo, N. Y., from Kansas City, where she had learned that her fiancé had dissipated his inheritance and no longer loved her, Miss Margaret Dickinson, 18 year old stenographer, swallowed poison while awaiting departure of her train yesterday in the Park Row station. She was taken to the County hospital where physicians said she would recover.

HUSBAND SHOT DEAD AS HE AIMS PISTOL AT WIFE

In a crowded city street yesterday Charles S. Seavers, a machinist, aimed a revolver at his estranged wife, Margaret, a seamstress, and pressed the trigger, saying, "I've got you this time." The cartridge failed to explode. Before he could press it again a bullet fired by an unseen hand dropped him in his tracks. A second later another bullet killed him instantly.

The arm of coincidence, reaching out through the person of Detective Sergeant John Barton of the Stockyards station, had intervened to save the lives of Mrs. Seavers and her unborn child and lift an obscure domestic drama to the plane of high tragedy.

The Story of Tragedy.

The Seaverses were married last October. Both were parishioners of St. Cecelia's church, 220 West 45th street. He was then employed at the Armour technical works. They went to live with Mrs. Seavers' married sister, Mrs. Hugh Tierney, 4221 Wentworth avenue.

"He began drinking heavily last Christmas time," said Mrs. Tierney yesterday, "because he had been laid off and jobs were scarce. We pleaded with him to stop it, telling him that we would pull through somehow, but he wouldn't."

Finally, Mrs. Seavers declared, she could not endure it any longer. They separated, she remaining with her sister, he going to a rooming house. He would reappear at intervals to threaten her if she did not consent to return to him. Three months ago he started to attack her with a razor. Neighbors rescued her.

"I'll get you yet," he said.

Wife Finds Work.

Mrs. Seavers in the meantime had gone to work at the A. G. Spalding sporting goods factory at West 54th and South La Salle streets.

Yesterday, after leaving the factory, she was shopping in the 5500 block in Wentworth avenue. She had just left a store and was about to cross the street to board a car, when Seavers overtook her. Grasping her right arm with his left hand, he drew the revolver and said, "I've got you this time," and pulled the trigger.

Detective Opens Fire.

Barton, sitting in the front seat with the driver, Harry Clark, saw Seavers in the act of snapping the pistol at his wife. Barton fired. The bullet struck Seavers in the right leg. With a scream he fell, turning as he did so.

The flivver by then was directly opposite him. The husband raised his gun at Barton, and Barton fired again. The bullet entered Seavers' brain, killing him.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special.]—Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to Great Britain, will sail on June 7 for this country in order to assist with arrangements for the Chicago 1933 World's Fair. Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson announced today that Ambassador Dawes had been granted permission by the state department to make the trip.

Two weeks ago when it first became known that the ambassador planned to return it was reported that he probably would come late in the summer or fall, and some surprise was occasioned by announcement of the earlier date.

Mr. Stimson stated that Ambassador Dawes was granted a leave of absence of one month from his post of duty. His trip will be the second that he has made to this country since his appointment.

Mr. Dawes, as chairman of the finance committee of the Chicago fair, was one of the initial sponsors of the project and his visit is expected to stimulate the fair program which now is well under way.

CHANGES HIS MIND.

LONDON, May 26.—(AP)—Regarding dispatches from Washington that leave had been granted him from June 7, Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, in explanation of his formal statement, May 17, in which he said he would not apply for leave in September, said tonight that "I changed my mind" owing to the fact that business called him to Chicago sooner.

His previous statement called forth rumors that he intended to visit the United States sooner than September, confer with President Hoover, and then offer his resignation.

In the earlier announcement he said he was going to Chicago in connection with his duties as chairman of the finance committee of the Chicago fair.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 26.—Foreign Minister Curtius has called for a detailed report on an affray on the Polish-German border in which a Polish border guard was killed and a German border guard critically wounded. According to the report issued by the Prussian governor at Marienwerder, the German police guards on coming back to the guardroom at Neuhoefen found it occupied by two Polish border guards. They proceeded to arrest them. The Poles drew their guns and fired, wounding one of the Germans who answered the fire and wounded one of the Poles. Shortly afterward another group of Poles tried to free their comrades and started a big fusillade.

Polish Account Varies.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, May 26.—According to accounts here of the frontier incident which resulted in the death of one Pole, the Polish guards were approaching the German border and when still within Polish limits were suddenly fired on by German guards. The Germans then crossed into Polish territory, captured two Poles, dragged them across the frontier, and took them to Marienwerder.

The Polish government immediately instructed the Polish minister to Berlin, M. Knoll, to make a verbal protest to the German government.

Rough Water Bars Search for Three Lost in Yacht

Rough water yesterday forced coast guardsmen to cease dragging for the bodies of the three youths who were drowned Saturday night when the sailboat, Wagtail, sank in the lake two miles off Belmont avenue. Although the water is only 22 feet deep where the boat sank, dragging is difficult, according to Chief Mate Carl Howell of the Central Coast guard, because of the rocky formation of the bottom. The youths were Earl Shutes, 433 Wrightwood avenue; Lloyd C. Bishop, 6006 Kenwood avenue, and Joseph Rajoum Jr., 611 North Keeler avenue.

COOK COUNTY AND DOWNSTATE BATTLE TODAY

Row Due in Legislature Over Tax Relief.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 26.—[Special.]—Certainty that the first showdown between Cook county and downstate in the special session will come tomorrow morning was developed at conferences this evening following the convening of the legislators for the opening of the third week.

Each house today lacked a quorum. There were sixteen members in sight in the house, but even this small number was sufficient to decide that the big question tomorrow will be whether the house shall proceed to consider the pending resolution for the amendment of the revenue article of the constitution or postpone it and take up the Strawn bills for the relief of the local governmental units in Cook county.

Issue Before Governor.

House leaders say that the sectional issue is squarely before Gov. Louis L. Emmerson. The decisive voting is to be done by the downstate members. Regardless of the attitude of the Cook county minority, downstate can muster a majority to compel immediate consideration of the constitutional proposal to the exclusion of the Chicago bills. The controlling bloc will take its orders from the governor.

House members hope to get a statement from the governor giving a hint as to the program he wants followed. They say that the attempt to effect a revision of the basic law concerning taxation is the governor's personal effort and that it is up to him to determine whether its chances are better or worse if action is forced at this time before any one of the thirty-two Strawn bills has even been taken up.

County Groups Policy.

The Cook county groups policy also will be under discussion at a meeting before the session begins.

The members leading the conference are Representatives Elmer J. Schnackenberg, David I. Swanson, and William G. Thom, Republicans, and the Democratic minority leader, Representative Michael Igoe. In last week's conference they were a unit for urging that the bills constituting the Strawn schedule be advanced to the final voting stage before action upon the revenue amendment. It is believed that, as steering committee, they will recommend unified Cook county support for this policy tomorrow.

If they stick to this decision, either Gov. Emmerson must consent to the taking up of the Strawn bills or there will be a deadlock over the proposed constitution change. Approval of the latter in the house requires 102 votes, and the governor's friends admit no such lineup is in sight.

Propose Compromise.

Some downstaters tonight suggested what they called a compromise. Their proposal was that the house passed a resolution binding the members to attend the session until the Chicago bills are disposed of. This presupposes that the constitutional question will be threshed out first and Chicago members insisted this arrangement would be unsatisfactory as a resolution would not bind the individual members.

If Cook county's prayer is heard, its representatives conceded there will be day after day of consideration of the Strawn bills, some of which are extremely complicated and technical. This raises the question whether the two houses would go back into joint session or would sit separately. Proponents of joint sessions say it would expedite the proceedings, but the senate leaders are said to oppose this suggestion.

Normally downstate has 96 members. That figure has been reduced three by deaths. The maximum attendence of downstaters the first week was 86. For the second week, last week, it dropped to 84 for the two business days, the maximum for either day being 81. If the maximum this week does not pass the previous record of 86 the votes of 16 Cook county members would be needed and friends of the governor claim only seven votes from Chicago.

SUBPOENA NEW YORK SOCIETY PATRONS OF LONDON WINE AGENTS

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—A number of socially prominent New Yorkers, all of whom are reported to have written letters to Edward Tatham, director of Justerini & Brooks, Ltd., wine and liquor merchants of London, will be subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury in the government's investigation of an alleged conspiracy to smuggle liquor into the United States, Robert B. Watts, assistant United States attorney, announced today.

Mr. Watts, whose investigation resulted last Wednesday in the secret indictment of Tatham and the London company and the former's arrest Friday night, said the persons to be subpoenaed, some of whom own yachts, would not be made defendants in the case.

All, he said, were among the distiller's prospective customers, who were to have been supplied with liquor from a base beyond the twelve mile limit.

SEIZE SECOND RUM SHIPMENT HIDDEN IN CAR

Another shipment of Canadian booze smuggled by rail to Chicago, transportation free, was seized yesterday by special prohibition agents in a Pullman car of the Canadian National railway in the Chicago and North Western railroad yards. There were 19 gunny sacks, each containing 12 quarts of Old Inspector whisky. The liquor was stored in the roof of the car, to which access was gained by removing a steel plate. It was shipped from Vancouver, British Columbia. No one appeared to claim it. A Negro, Rudolph Young, was arrested last week while he was removing 25 sacks of liquor from a car.

7 MORE STRAWN BILLS ARE FILED IN LEGISLATURE

Total of Relief Measures Reaches Thirty-two.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 26.—[Special.]—Introducing seven additional bills into the house of representatives late today, the Strawn citizens' committee completed its program for the financial relief of the major taxing bodies of Cook county. The measures were introduced by Representative John M. Lee [Dem.], Chicago, and brought the total of the Strawn bills filed during the special session of the legislature to thirty-two.

Today's presentations are designed to aid these bodies: The south park commissioners, Chicago board of education, Lincoln park commissioners, and the west park commissioners. They also would amend the school playgrounds act to bring the playgrounds tax within the budget regulation provisions included in bills previously filed, and would amend the Juul law which provides for the scaling of taxes.

Survey Will Be Made.

The bills were brought to Springfield by Attorney William H. Sexton of the Strawn committee. Mr. Sexton announced that tomorrow he will issue a complete survey of the thirty-two legislative suggestions.

On May 12 the Strawn committee filed the first thirteen bills, which provided for the adjustment of taxes in conjunction with the assessment of property and collection of taxes. Twelve more bills were introduced last Wednesday.

The first of today's bills permits the south park commissioners to issue bonds without a referendum to the extent of $2,250,000 to partially make up for the decrease in income due to slashed valuations. The second bill gives authority to the board of education to similarly issue bonds without a referendum in the sum of $5,700,000 which would provide ready cash for the operation of the Chicago schools.

Amends Playground Act.

The third bill amends the school playgrounds act, bringing the playgrounds tax within the budget regulation provisions included in senate bill No. 26, house bill No. 27, which already have been introduced.

The fourth and fifth bills of the series are planned to aid the Lincoln park commissioners. One authorizes them to issue bonds without a referendum in the sum of $750,000 to make up for the reduced income in 1928 and 1929 caused by the decrease in valuations for the district. The other has a referendum provision and, upon approval of the voters of the district, will allow the commissioners to issue $1,000,000 in bonds to repair last winter's storm damage to the lake front and Outer drive.

The west park commissioners are permitted by the sixth bill to issue bonds in the sum of $2,000,000 without a referendum to meet their operating deficits caused by the decreased valuations. The seventh bill amends section two of the Juul law. The tax for judgments against the city, the committee explained, and the working cash fund taxes for the city of Chicago, Cook county, and the board of education, are exempted from the scaling called for by this act.

The rate of taxation below which taxes for the south park commissioners shall not be reduced under the law is changed from 20 to 23 cents, and for the west park commissioners from 27½ to 33 cents.

County to Spend $4,000,000 Over Budget in 1930, Efficiency Expert Tells Board

The county board met yesterday. Ten commissioners listened to a report revealing that $4,000,000 in excess of the 1930 budget, passed six months ago as an example of what could be accomplished when strict economy was practiced by politicians, would be spent this year.

The report of J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency engineer, which gave a full explanation of how this excess has been accumulated, will be presented here. But the gloom of yesterday's session was in such marked contrast to the mood of former sessions that there should also be included the story of how the jovial board of 1926-'30 has come to a parting of the ways. For a number of the members will not be included in the next board.

Once such a report as was presented yesterday would have called for spirited comment. Many a smart quip and nicely turned phrase would have delighted a gleeful audience. But there will be nine new faces on the board next fall, no matter what the result of the elections and the faces of all those present were gloomy.

Only Chief Clerk Michael J. O'Connor had a comment to make. He remarked:

"Well, we all knew the budget was too low when we passed it. The money wasn't there and the appropriations were ridiculously insufficient."

An onlooker, who had been present when the budget was passed on Dec. 12, recalled, however, the optimism of that meeting. The commissioners had slashed their own salaries and put the county on a ten month's salary basis. They had announced that a day of real economy had come.

Budget vs. Expenditures.

The following list of corporate items shows the original sums as appropriated by the board and the present estimated expenditures which Mr. Jacobs says will be necessary in 1930:

	1930 appropriations.	1930 est. expenditures.
Salary fund	$8,121,985	$8,621,985
Supply fund	1,105,000	1,650,000
Light, heat, power	350,000	450,000
Furniture and repair	52,000	120,000
Office supplies, expense	209,400	300,000
Outdoor relief fund	60,000	100,000
Children's home plac'g	250,000	300,000
Election fund	850,000	1,400,000
Housing prisoners	[nothing]	200,000
Interest fund	754,164	1,450,000
Int. on sal. judgments	[nothing]	160,000
Juror's fund	650,000	800,000
Relief for blind	300,000	375,000
Telephone fund	50,000	80,000
Reassessment supplies	13,000	50,000
Reassessment salaries	135,000	500,000

An analysis of the statement showed that of the 60 corporate expenditure items only 17 remained as originally appropriated for. Each of the remaining 43 items is marked for increased expenditure needs totaling $3,983,536. Thirteen of these 43 items are approximately doubled. The other increases, all of which are based on the actual needs of the various departments as determined after surveys, range from $100 to approximately $700,000.

The total of the 1930 appropriations for corporate expenditures was $15,947,745. The estimated corporate expenditures now are fixed at $19,931,381.

Mr. Jacobs' data were used by the Strawn committee in drafting emergency legislation affecting the county corporate fund. This proposed legislation includes provisions for the issuance of $2,500,000 bonds to cover the deficiency at the end of 1929 and an increase in the corporate tax rate from 25 to 32 cents for the year 1930.

"This financial condition has been brought about through the extraordinary direct and indirect expenditures for the reassessment, the reduction in the full assessed valuation of property in Cook county, and the delay in the collection of taxes and county fee revenues," Mr. Jacobs' report stated.

Although the report made no mention of the fact, many county officials agreed that no attempt had been made by certain departments to place themselves upon the 10 months' basis which was authorized in the budget. These departments have relied upon the emergency legislation to be presented at Springfield.

His Dirge for Board.

It remained for Commissioner Louis Nettelhorst to sound the lament for the board as it quietly adjourned.

"Look at us all," said Commissioner Nettelhorst, who as a candidate for Probate court clerk, will not be among the members of the next board. "Once as fine and jolly a bunch of fellows as you could wish.

"President Cermak, Emmett Wheelan, William Busse, Frank Kriz, Maurice Kavanagh, and John Jaranowski are the only ones running for reëlection. Andy Metzger is running for the sanitary district, Francis Bouteil for assessor, and John Gibson is dead."

Of the remainder, it was pointed out, Francis Wilson, Oscar Schmidt, Joseph Carolan, and Harry Newby failed of renomination in the primaries. Charles S. Peterson did not run.

Ralph Capone Denies He Owns Raided Cicero Club

Ralph J. Capone, through his attorneys, yesterday filed an answer to padlock proceedings against the Cotton club and the Montmarte, Cicero cabarets, in which he disclaimed ownership. Temporary injunctions have been granted against the places. True bills have been voted by the federal grand jury charging Capone and five of his employés with conspiracy to violate the dry laws as a result of raids.

MacDonald Takes Charge in British Jobless Crisis

The building is 12 years old and has a brick garage. His neighbor, Joseph La Rochelle, at 7505, will pay $147.24 on a building of the same age with a wooden garage. His 1927 tax was $111. A 20 year old flat at 7506 is taxed $139.05 against $116 in 1927. A 12 year old flat of greater size at 7510 is taxed $157.29 against $115 in 1927.

Other Assessments Given.

Identical with the last building, except for garage construction, F. C. Haack at 7512 is taxed $156.72, where he was only taxed $78 in 1927. A 20 year old building at 7516 without a garage, is taxed $130.71 where it was taxed $107 in 1927. At 7518 a 7 year old flat is taxed $185.40 against $129 in 1927. At 7522 a flat, 15 years old, is taxed $147.91 against $54 in 1927.

At 7526 a larger building than the others, having 12 rooms instead of 10, and being 5 years old, is taxed $282.64 as against $190 in 1927. It is flanked at 7528 by a 20 year old smaller building without a garage, which is taxed $128.65 and was taxed $47. A neighbor at 7530 was taxed $97 in 1927 for a 15 year old building and is raised to $145.39. The same 1927 tax was paid by E. Mullaney at 7534 on an 18 year old building, slightly different in construction. He will now pay $135.71.

Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, selected the district for investigation. The block was chosen at random. The district choice was made particularly because the 1928 tax bills are higher than those for 1927 but are on a par, while the 1927 bills vary without reason, he said.

The county board yesterday adopted a resolution asking County Treasurer Harding to extend the penalty date from July 1 to July 5. The resolution was introduced by President Cermak, who declared that with the postponement taxpayers having savings accounts may receive full interest on their deposits for the first six months of the year.

TAKE 5 IN HOTEL ROOM; $300,000 GEMS ON TABLE

Suspected as Members of International Gang.

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—Ending a nine weeks' chase that led to almost every section of the country, police today broke into a room of the Commodore hotel and arrested four men and a woman charged with stealing jewelry valued at $300,000 from Florida hotels.

The detectives came upon them seated around a small table on which sparkled a heap of jewelry. Tonight, while the prisoners were refusing to tell their true names and addresses, the authorities were trying to link the gems with the winter resort robberies. But there was a thought that loot might have been included from two big New York state robberies.

Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney said he considered the group as part of "an international gang of jewel thieves, who have cleaned up a million dollars in jewels in recent months."

The commissioner, jubilant at the coup so early in his administration, told how it had been brought about. On Feb. 2, he said, at the Blackstone hotel at Miami a large quantity of jewelry was stolen from the room of David J. Bonwit of Pittsburgh. Then, on the 26th of the same month, at the Ambassador, Louis W. Harman of New York lost a large collection.

Circulars describing the separate pieces were sent out, and nine weeks ago the information was received that the thieves were headed towards New York. The trail had been followed from the south to Chicago, Detroit, and other places, and then—last Saturday—traced to a William J. O'Connor, on the nineteenth floor of the Commodore.

The detectives camped near by and quietly waited for O'Connor's friends to appear. Today they did so.

At 3:30 in the afternoon they learned that three men and a woman had gone into the room. The detectives broke open the door, rushed in, pistols drawn, and the five men jumped up from their chairs, disclosing the jewels on the table.

One of the prisoners stepped to the open window and appeared to throw something out. The woman at the same time stuffed a piece of paper into her mouth and swallowed it before a detective could reach her.

ZEPPELIN RESTS IN BRAZIL; OFF TO U. S. TOMORROW

Will Fly North Via Cuba and the Bahamas.

BY GUSTAV KAUDER.

[Special Correspondent of The Chicago Tribune and the New York Times aboard the Graf Zeppelin. Copyright: 1930: In the United States and Canada by the New York Times company; elsewhere by Ullstein A.-G. All rights reserved.]

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, May 26.—The Graf Zeppelin will arrive over New York by Sunday night at the latest, Dr. Hugo Eckener announced today.

While passengers loafed about Pernambuco, which had declared a holiday, the airship, with her nose tied to the mooring mast, was being refueled. The Zeppelin will leave here early Wednesday morning for Havana, Cuba, where only a short stop will be made. It will then head for Lakehurst, N. J., by way of the Bahamas. The ship is expected to stay in the United States only a short time, as Dr. Eckener wants to be back in Germany by June 9.

Struts Broken by Wind.

A treacherous gust of wind broke the struts holding the after motor gondola while the Zeppelin was swinging at its mast late this afternoon. These are the same struts which were broken at Tokio when the dirigible was being moved out from the hangar, causing a day's delay, but this time the ship was moored at the mast and swung free in the wind with the rear gondola seated in a portable rubber tired two wheeled movable cradle car. The sudden air bump raised up the ship and then brought down its entire weight on the rear gondola, breaking the struts. Repairs were made in two hours and there will be no delay in the departure.

Brazilians Praise Zep.

The Zeppelin reached here on its return from Rio de Janeiro at 9:10 a. m. [7:10 a. m. Chicago time]. The round trip took 48 hours, including the change of passengers and mail. Planes on the same route need 48 hours for a single trip, staying overnight at Bahia.

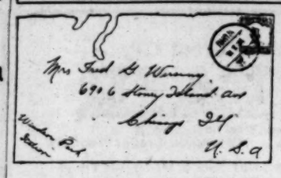
The bad temper of the Brazilians about the uncertainty of our Rio visit was completely changed by the appearance of the silver whale. While they admired our ship, we admired the beauty of their city. They showered flowers and presents on Dr. Eckener. A valuable gift was sent by the Brazilian Aero Touring club.

During tea hour en route back to Pernambuco the always cheerful, good humored Infante Alfonso entertained us, performing perfectly as a shoe shiner. He shines shoes really better than the Greek from whom he learned the science as a boy in an English college. He regularly makes his bed and shines his shoes daily in the Zeppelin.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.

FROM WUHU, CHINA



Letter received by Mrs. Fred Wirsing, 6906 Stony Island avenue, Chicago.

"I am inclosing the envelope I just received from my son in Wuhu, China," Mrs. Wirsing writes. "He has been all around the world and lived in China for more than two years. He tells us Wuhu is a native Chinese city, with no international settlement.

"My son also has visited Nanking, and seen there the Ming tomb of Sun Yat Sen, the first president of China. He says they built Sun Yat Sen a wonderful tomb on the side of a mountain, and that he never got so tired of climbing stairs as he did going up there. Sun Yat Sen's body was moved into the tomb eight months ago from Peiping, the old capital of China."

Wuhu is a district city and the treaty port of the province of Anhwei, China, situated about a mile from the southern bank of the Yangtze-kiang, with which it is connected by a small suburb. It is about fifty miles above Nanking. Although it was marked out as a treaty port in 1858 it was not opened to trade until 1877, and even then its commercial progress was quite slow, being handicapped by the older ports of Kiu-kiang and Chin-kiang. The first decade of this century, however, saw a marked improvement in the volume of trade.

The principal exports of Wuhu are rice, cotton, furs, feathers, tea and wheat. The feathers come from the large quantities of ducks raised in the vicinity of the city. The imports include matches, window glass, needles and sandalwood. Coal in considerable quantities is found in the surrounding country. The city is connected by canals with several smaller towns in the silk districts.

WIFE WHO SHOT MATE TO DEATH IS FOUND INSANE

Mrs. Belle Irene Chenoweth, 39 years old, who shot and killed her husband, Claude, on April 17, was found to be insane yesterday by a jury in Judge E. I. Frankhauser's Criminal court. She was sent to the Kankakee asylum. Both Dr. Francis J. Gerty, superintendent of the psychopathic hospital, and Dr. H. Douglas Singer, a defense alienist, testified as to the insanity of the defendant.

Mrs. Chenoweth shot and killed her husband while he was sleeping in their home at 3238 Oketa avenue. She reported her act to the police, but they paid no attention to her because she had notified them many times before of things which proved to be untrue. It was not until she told Attorney Frank Zeleska what she had done that the police went to the Chenoweth home and found the husband dead.

GOVERNMENT OF CHINA IN PERIL, MINISTER WARNS

Soong Says Army Must Quell Revolt Quickly.

SHANGHAI, May 26.—(AP)—The Nationalist government of China today was fighting with its back to the wall. Struggling with civil war in north China and harassed by bandit and Red armies in numerous provinces, the government imperatively needed money for military operations while confronted with an economic crisis.

T. V. Soong, Nationalist minister of finance, who is in Shanghai, has telegraphed President Chiang Kai-Shek at Kweiter, Honan province, where the president is commanding Nationalist government forces, that a speedy Nationalist victory was imperative. Otherwise, said Mr. Soong, grave detrimental developments within the Nationalist government would be likely.

"Faces Grave Menace."

Mr. Soong's message said nationwide communistic and bandit ravages, depreciated silver, crop failures, and paralyzed business were combining to constitute the gravest menace the government had been called to face.

The minister's message was interpreted to mean that Mr. Soong was approaching the limits of his capacity to supply the military's seemingly endless demands for funds to maintain the war machine. He, therefore, issued the warning that if the Nationalists were to overcome the northern alliance rebellion it must be accomplished quickly.

Both Sides Claim Victory.

Dispatches concerning the tide of battle during the last two days were conflicting tonight, except that all agreed that heavy fighting is taking place along both the Hai-Chow-Tung-kwan railway in Honan province and the Peiping-Hankow railroad south of Chengchow. Both sides claimed victories. The Nationalists reported continued advances westward along the former railway, and northward along the latter railway. The Nationalist forces, it was asserted, were converging on Chengchow.

The northern rebel leaders, on the other hand, stated that their armies had stiffened in the neighborhood of Lanfeng in Honan, had pierced the Nationalist lines and captured 20,000 prisoners. The Nationalists were asserted to be retreating. Both northerners and Nationalists reported heavy losses.

"Ordinary soaps may irritate the skin and hurt the tissues. Palmolive is pure. It is made of vegetable oils. Its color is the natural color of palm and olive oils, and it has a fresh, delicate odor. Palmolive leaves the skin refreshed and soothed."

"NO woman deserves a lovely skin," declares Pezza, of Naples, "if she fails to observe the most important daily beauty rule: wash the face with Palmolive Soap every morning and every night regularly."

There you have the world's favorite home beauty treatment, as expressed by one of Italy's beauty experts, Signor Armando Pezza. He is head of the Institut Marcel Pezza, an elegant establishment frequented by many traveling Americans as well as the highly distinguished members of society in Naples.

"Use Palmolive," say 19,813 experts

Signor Pezza's reasons for preferring an olive oil soap are quoted above. They are the same reasons given by more than 19,800 experts, the world over, for preferring Palmolive.

You see, the pores clog with impurities, dirt, oil, make-up; to cleanse the skin thoroughly, yet safely, requires a unique soap . . . a soap that is bland, gentle, but remarkably effective. Palmolive answers every one of these requirements.

Consult your beauty expert, who is the only authority qualified to speak on beauty care. She will agree that you could use nothing finer than Palmolive for bath as well as face. And it costs only 10c the cake. Start this famous treatment tomorrow: massage a lather of Palmolive and warm water tenderly into the skin. Rinse with warm water, then with cold. Refreshed and colorful, your skin is then ready for make-up. A very short trial will show you the difference!

Two U.S. Gold Star Mothers Are Near Death in France

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, May 26.—Two American gold star mothers who are members of the first group to make the pilgrimage to their sons' graves in France were at the point of death tonight and relatives in America were notified.

Mrs. Mary Reynolds of Damascus, O., is suffering from acute peritonitis in the American hospital at Neuilly, just outside of Paris. She was one of the mothers who insisted on making the overseas journey despite poor health and against her doctor's advice. Physicians hold out little hope for her recovery. Her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Barber, living at Damascus, has been notified of the seriousness of her condition.

Another Ill with Pneumonia.

One of the most elderly members of the party, which was caught in a sudden downpour of rain at the Meuse-Argonne cemetery at Romagne last Wednesday, Mrs. Florence Williams, 72, of Portsmouth, O., is in a critical condition with bronchial pneumonia at a Verdun hotel. She is being attended by a United States army doctor, Maj. Richard Eames, and a nurse who stayed with her after the departure of more than 100 mothers belonging to the first group who returned in motor busses from Verdun today. Mrs. Williams' daughter, Mrs. Jack Harphag, in Portsmouth, was advised by cable tonight that her mother was sinking rapidly.

The second group of mothers, who arrived in Paris Friday, was favored by bright sunshiny weather for sightseeing today. Mrs. James Forsythe of Akron, O., was chosen by 106 of her fellow pilgrims to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown French soldier at the Arc de Triomphe this afternoon.

Shown Sights of London.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 26—Bundled in heavy coats and blankets against the damp, foggy London chill, 153 American Gold Star Mothers and wives of the 27th division today were shown the principal sights of London. A battalion of sightseeing buses was kept busy throughout the day bearing the aged visitors to the birthplaces of illustrious Englishmen, churches, monuments, and other points of interest.

Despite the long day, however, many tonight attended the British Legion's Empire ball in Albert hall, where they met the prince of Wales, and even danced a few waltzes. The majority turned in, however, for a good night's sleep.

Tomorrow the party will visit the American cemetery at Brookwood.

Tomorrow night they will leave for Brussels, from where they will proceed to St. Mihiel and other cemeteries.

ADMITS TAKING $84,000 FROM A NEW YORK BANK

New York, May 26.—(AP)—Two hours after he was arrested, James D. Thomson, 27, an employé of the Chase National bank, confessed tonight that he had embezzled $84,000 from the bank and spent it in the stock market, for "extravagant living," and gambling.

In a signed confession Thomson, manager of the bank's security department of purchases and sales, said the defalcations covered a period of one and a half years and that he had lost all the money.

Thomson came to New York from Centerville, S. D., five years ago. His parents still reside there.

Shot to Death in Car by Robbers as Wife Looks On

Anniston, Ala., May 26.—(AP)—Attacked by highwaymen while en route to Jacksonville, Ala., to attend his daughter's graduation exercise, W. C. Gunn of Sylacuago was shot to death tonight on a highway about five miles from Anniston. Gunn's wife said she was forced to look on helplessly while three men who had held them up killed her husband. A posse was organized and a search begun for the bandits.

CLASHES MARK CULLEN'S TRIAL ON PAY CHARGE

Merit Board Takes Case Under Advisement.

The charge of payroll padding brought against B. W. Cullen, superintendent of the water pipe extension bureau, by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe was taken under advisement yesterday by the civil service commission after a lengthly hearing. The commission is expected to announce its decision tomorrow.

Cullen was charged with authorizing the payment of salary to W. H. Cummings, a plumber, for three and one-half days that he did not work at the central division where he was assigned. After the charges had been made Cullen was suspended by Wolfe and later reinstated when his case was not tried within the 30 days prescribed by law. While under suspension Cullen was supplanted by John P. Allen, who had notified Wolfe of the salary authorization.

Works for Back Pay.

Evidence was produced to show that Cummings was working during the disputed period, with Cullen's consent, to obtain two and one-half months' back pay for sixteen plumbers that had been held up because of jurisdictional strife between two unions.

"I ordered Cummings paid," testified City Engineer Loren Gayton, "because he was devoting his time to obtaining the back pay for himself and his fellow plumbers." Cullen's testimony was the same and Cummings said that he had obtained the promise of Gayton and Cullen that he would be paid for his time before accepting appointment on a committee dealing with the back pay problem.

A little excitement was furnished the spectators when Attorney Blackwood asked the commission to dismiss the case because the letter was lost.

"The letter is not lost," shouted Attorney Cook. "It may be in the hands of the state's attorney." Cook was reported to have recently asked the state's attorney to investigate the water pipe bureau.

Attorneys in Verbal Clash.

"Who are you and what are you doing here?" countered Attorney Blackwood. "I object to any questions you may ask."

"Don't push me," answered Attorney Cook. "I'll inject evidence here and elsewhere that will convict your client."

Another altercation arose when Cook attempted to question Col. A. A. Sprague, a character witness for Cullen, concerning litigation in which Sprague was involved after the campaigning of the late Gen. Leonard Wood for the Republican nomination for President.

"I am perfectly willing to answer pertinent questions," said Col. Sprague, "but I will not answer impertinent ones." The interchange of words was ordered stricken from the records.

3 MURDER SUSPECTS FREED.

Three youths, arrested on Saturday as suspects in the murder of Mrs. Marie Pelletier, the Berwyn housewife who was killed in a robbery, were freed yesterday by Judge Padden for lack of evidence. A fourth, Frank Berardi, 1456 Polk street, was held on a robbery charge.

'SAVE ME FROM A GANG,' BANKER WIRES DENEEN

Glenn Also Is Asked for Secret Service Guard.

Belleville, Ill., May 26.—(AP)—William J. Reichert of Freeburg, Mo., president of the St. Clair County National bank here, alarmed by threats he might be "taken for a ride," today sent telegrams to United States Senators Deneen and Glenn of Illinois asking protection of operatives of the United States secret service.

Plan to Take Him for Ride.

The action followed Reichert's learning "a former resident of Freeburg, who now lives in St. Louis, suggested a plan to 'take me for a ride' as a means of 'picking up some easy money,'" and a demand for $45,000 made upon his son, William C. Reichert, wealthy race horse owner and milling operator.

Both father and son, as well as another son, Elmer W. Reichert, associated with his brother in business, have hired personal body guards.

Police Not Enough.

The telegrams to Deneen and Glenn read: "My life and property have been threatened by gangsters. Local police protection inadequate. 'Won't you please see that I have protection through government secret service operatives?'"

The demand sent William C. Reichert apparently was made by the same group who, ten days previously, had made demands totaling $2,000,000 on 100 gamblers and bookmakers in various parts of the country.

DISTANT KIN OF CANTACUZENE IS KILLED IN PLANE

Prince Mircea Cantacuzene, a distant relative of Prince Michel Cantacuzene of Chicago, died yesterday at Bucharest, Rumania, of injuries received when an airplane he was piloting crashed at the Baniaza airdrome, cable dispatches announced last night. A passenger in the plane, Mme. Polizu, was only slightly injured. The accident occurred as the two were returning from having distributed pamphlets from the air favoring the return of Prince Carol.

Prince Michel Cantacuzene, whose mother was the former Julia Dent Grant, granddaughter of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, and who is a grandnephew of Potter Palmer, said yesterday that he never had heard of the aviator. The dead man was a member of the same Cantacuzene family, but of a branch that settled in Rumania 150 years ago, he explained.

CHARGES UNION AND EMPLOYERS ARE PRICE FIXERS

Cleveland, O., May 26.—(AP)—Court action alleging that the Cleveland union of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is in conspiracy with the Electrical Business Association of Cleveland, a contractors' organization, to fix prices of electrical work in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, an Ohio law, was filed today by County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller.

The prosecutor's action is in the form of an injunction suit filed in Common Pleas court. It alleged the conspiracy was stifling competitive bidding.

With More than Half in Cook County.

lieved by some to be somewhat too high, as it would mean an increase of more than 17.5 per cent for the decade. Last January, a special estimate by the census bureau in connection with a reapportionment bill, figured the Illinois population at 7,555,000, and the experts have an idea this may be pretty well borne out by the actual count, judging by the incomplete returns.

Returns from downstate localities yesterday maintained the trends of the earlier returns. They showed the surge in population in the Chicago area, and the growth in the industrial towns downstate, the drop in the coal mining and rural regions.

Complete returns were received yesterday from the 19th Illinois census district, embracing five counties, as follows:

County—	1930.	1920.
Piatt	15,589	15,714
Douglas	17,903	19,604
Cumberland	10,316	12,858
Coles	38,292	35,108
Champaign	64,243	56,950

Incomplete figures in the metropolitan area, which includes Cook, Du Page, Kane, Lake, and Will counties, yielded an estimated total of 4,500,000, which would be about 60 per cent of the tentative total of Illinois.

For the entire metropolitan region, including nine counties in Illinois and three each in Indiana and Wisconsin—extending from Racine to Michigan City—the regional association yesterday made an estimate of 5,000,000 population.

FLORIDA GAINS

Jacksonville, Fla., May 26.—(AP)—Complete census returns from forty-eight of Florida's sixty-seven counties and 27 municipalities today showed a population of 1,231,073. In 1920 the entire population of the state was 968,470.

The census bureau at Washington said indications were that Florida would gain an extra congressman, bringing the number to five. It was stated that the 1930 population apportionment for congressional representation would be about 280,780 persons per congressman. The last apportionment was 211,877.

OFFICIALS TELL DETAILED PLANS FOR POSTOFFICE

Fear Original Site Will Remain Eyesore.

Preliminary details of construction of the new Chicago postoffice were given out in Washington yesterday while in Chicago public officials and members of the Chicago Plan commission debated the wisdom of the federal government's rejection of a downtown site in favor of a new site near railroad tracks of the Union Station company.

No final decision has been made on the design of the exterior of the new postoffice, but the officials in Washington said that the plan which probably will be adopted calls for a ten story building, nine of the stories being above the Canal street level.

Offices 13 Stories High.

On Van Buren street, the building will appear as a 13 story structure. This part will be used for offices, which do not require the high ceilings necessary for postoffice work. A lobby will run all along the Van Buren street side, and will be two stories high, having eleven stories above it.

The building will measure 797x344 feet, its boundaries being Van Buren, Harrison and Canal streets and the present parcel postoffice on the east. The parcel post building will be remodeled to fit into the general architectural scheme for the new structure. The roof of the new postoffice, according to the preliminary plan, will be flat. It will not be used as an airplane landing field, at least not in the beginning.

Entrance on Van Buren street.

The entrance to the postoffice will be on Van Buren street, and that side of the building will have columns in architectural design. The postoffice officials declared the building will be monumental, harmonizing with the general type of architecture in that part of the city.

An arcade is planned to be built through the building to prevent the blocking of the proposed Congress street improvement. The arcade will be between one and two stories high, and will be similar, it was said, to the Washington street arcade under the Northwestern station.

Proposal Government Move.

Andrew D'Esposito, consulting engineer for the Union Station company, returning from conferences with the postoffice officials in Washington, said in an interview that the government had sought to learn the attitude of the company toward acquisition of the site.

"I think it should be emphasized," said Mr. D'Esposito in behalf of the company, "that we are not offering our site in competition with any other plans for another site. The selection of the site over our tracks originated with the government. We are ready to cooperate with the government in every way if it is decided that ours is the right site, and we shall give every aid in promoting the construction of the building.

"As an engineering problem, I told the government men that the project is feasible. We can build a postoffice by the same methods by which we built the Daily News building, over railroad property."

Sale Price Discussed.

Mr. D'Esposito said the matter of leasing the air rights to the property now to the government would be a simple matter, since ownership of the site is vested entirely in the Union Station company, and could be sold by action of it's directors. The plan is to sell the government the fee to the property, reserving to the railroads perpetual rights to using the ground levels.

The engineer declined to discuss price quotations which figured in his discussions with the postoffice authorities, but it was stated in Washington that the price would be somewhat less than $20 a square ground foot. Using the dimensions given by the postoffice men, 797x344 feet, a total of 274,168 square feet, the total cost of the site, if it cost $20 a foot, would be $5,483,360. It was reported the company will accept considerably less, however. The Union Station company is owned by three railroads, the Milwaukee, the Pennsylvania, and the Burlington.

City Planners Give Views.

The position of the Chicago plan commission officials, that the government should retain the site it already owns, bounded by Canal, Harrison, Clinton, and Polk streets, and follow through on the original plans to build the new postoffice there, holds that the Chicago Beautiful plans would be better served in this way.

An inspection of the original site, made yesterday, reveals it an eyesore to the general neighborhood, and it was declared that in all probability the government would be forced to let the land lie idle for a long period before a purchaser may be found. Meanwhile the nuisance now existing there would increase, it was pointed out.

A reporter, walking around the site yesterday, was panhandled by six hoboes in the circuit. The whole area is a ruin of razed buildings and is used as a dumping ground for tin cans, refuse and general debris. In sections of it, where the wreckers left pits protected from the wind, knots of bums have built themselves ramshackle shelters about which they squatted yesterday, warming themselves by fire fed from the wooden wreckage of the place. In one of the hobo fraternities, singularly favored, a large bottle of moonshine was perched upon a tin drum and was passed from man to man until it was drained.

Under Harrison street the wreckers left a trough which was lined with hoboes. They sleep there nights, vieing with each other for the softer planks and plaster heaps. One vagrant made his bed in a huge funnel-shaped sheet metal pipe left from one of the factories which formerly occupied the site.

Iron fences protect pedestrians along Canal street, where the railroads have built a viaduct over the street. But along the other three streets broken down wooden fences, in some places only stumps of posts, line the property.

LIQUOR BUYING NO CRIME, SAYS SUPREME COURT

Dry Enforcers Lose in Test Case.

the Philadelphia federal District court, George E. Kerper, the alleged bootlegger, pleaded guilty and Norris entered a plea of nolo contendre. Kerper, a Philadelphian, it was charged, supplied a select list of New Yorkers with choice liquors on telephone orders.

Sentenced to pay a $200 fine, Norris appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals, which ruled that the transaction "did not subject the purchaser and seller of intoxicating liquor to an indictment for conspiracy to transport" and reversed the lower court, only to be reversed itself today by the Supreme court.

Norris' plea of nolo contedere, "as conclusive as a plea of guilty would have been," foreclosed him from an appeal on the question of guilt, according to Supreme court, which added that "as to whether the stipulated facts, if open to consideration, make out a case of criminal conspiracy, we express no opinion."

Protest Hop Store Raids.

Led by State Senator Ben Gettleman of Milwaukee, Wis., a delegation of Wisconsin officials and business men, here to attend sessions of the safety conference, today visited Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran to protest against a series of raids on malt and hops stores by federal dry agents following the Supreme court ruling that caps, bottles, and other apparatus "designed and sold" for home brewing purposes are illegal.

Commissioner Doran, it is understood, informed the delegation that specific instructions have been issued to all federal enforcers warning them against interfering with legitimate dealers or making seizures in cases where they are unable to prove that the materials seized are solely designed and knowingly sold for use in the production of illegal beverages.

Seattle Dry Chiefs Indicted for Huge Rum Running Plot

Seattle, Wash., May 26.—[Special.]—The federal grand jury investigating charges of corruption and bribery in the prohibition unit here returned an indictment this afternoon against Roy C. Lyle, prohibition adminstrator for Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Alaska.

Others indicted included William M. Whitney, Mr. Lyle's assistant and legal advisor; Earl Corwin, a prohibition agent; M. L. Fryant, a deputy sheriff who won notoriety as a wire tapper in the famous Olmsted "whispering wires" case; C. T. McKinney, a dynamic young lawyer from Kentucy who led the prosecution of the Olmsted liquor gang and who has been a favorite speaker before W. C. T. U. gatherings.

Put in Office by Jones.

Lyle and Whitney were appointed at the instance of Senator Wesley L. Jones, author of the "five and ten" dry law.

Their indictment came on the heels of a rebuke administered to Senator Jones Saturday at the state Republican convention at Bellingham, which demanded modification of the prohibition laws and charges the senator with shielding those guilty in the rum conspiracy.

The charges against Lyle and Whitney were unearthed two years ago by special agents from Washington, whose report has long been in the possession of Senator Jones, his opponents charge.

Lyle and Whitney were at United States Marshal B. Benn's office an hour after the indictments were returned. Lyle was released on his personal recognizance and Whitney on $5,000 bail. Corwin arranged for $2,500 bond.

10 Day Investigation.

The indictments followed ten days investigation by the grand jury of charges brought by government secret service operatives and other witnesses of purported corruption in the prohibition unit. Whitney was painted by these witnesses as the "master mind" of one of the most gigantic rum-running conspiracies in the country. The ring's activities were at their height from 1925 to 1928, it was asserted.

O. Y. Olmsted, so-called "king of the rum runners," was declared to have been a mere tool of Whitney. Olmsted supposedly "took the fall," and after fighting his case to the Supreme court of the United States, was sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Moneil island and fined $10,000. The Supreme court held by a vote of five to four that wire-tapping, by which much of the evidence was obtained, was legal.

Olmsted was returned from the prison twice during the present investigation to give his testimony and is reported to have made a clean breast to the grand jury, asserting he had been double crossed.

ROBIN FAMILY COMMANDEERS RAILROAD CAR

Tacoma, Wash., May 26.—(AP)—Commerce may thunder around a railroad car stationed at dock No. 1 here of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, but it must not disturb that car. It houses a robin's nest with three blue eggs.

C. A. Norwood, clerk for the road, discovered the nest. Word was sent to Charles E. Devlin, superintendent, who issued the following order:

"Under no circumstances is that car to be moved. Air dump No. X905055 must stay. If possible, don't even move the other cars on the same track. But first and last, keep that car stationary until the eggs are not only hatched but until the robins can fly."

The car has been on the siding since May 3.

BILLS FOR RUM TRIALS WITHOUT JURY ADVANCED

Reported Out by House Committee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special.]—Sponsors of President Hoover's law enforcement program won a victory today when the house judiciary committee favorably reported the Wickersham commission bills providing for preliminary trials of minor liquor cases before United States commissioners.

The so-called "juryless trial" bills, designed to relieve congestion in the federal courts, constitute one of the major sections of the administration's prohibition plan, which includes transfer of the dry forces to the department of justice, prison expansion, a unified border patrol, and a new District of Columbia dry law. The transfer and prison bills already have been passed by congress.

Action by the house committee on the court bills was preceded by a stormy executive session during which a new report from the Wickersham commission urging a favorable report was considered. A divided roll call resulted. Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.], a wet, immediately after the meeting announced that he would submit a minority report.

Scoffs at Measure.

"The Wickersham commission has labored, groaned, and toiled and all we have now is a legislative monstrosity," La Guardia declared in a written statement. "In a desperate attempt to do something, an entire new system of criminal procedure has been hastily, ill-advisedly and most unscientifically slapped together.

"The entire Anglo-Saxon idea of trial by jury is abruptly brushed aside. Under the guise of seeking to relieve conditions in the federal courts they have provided rubber stamp justice, long distance testimony and trial by correspondence. It is simply an effort by the commission to do something to satisfy the clamor and insistence of the drys. The plan simply will not work. I am preparing a minority report on the bill."

Despite the opposition of La Guardia, a strong majority of the committee was reported to have voted for the bills and as the house also is dry it is believed that they stand a good chance for passage now that they are over the first committee hurdle.

Special Consideration Asked.

Chairman George S. Graham [Rep., Pa.] was authorized by the committee to ask the house leaders for a special day to consider the trial bills, together with bills previously recommended providing for 16 additional federal court judges. Graham said he believed they would be given the right of way.

Three measures in all were reported by the committee today, two of them supplemental to the key bill providing for commissioner trials. Summarized they were as follows:

H. R. 10341, by Representative C. A. Christopherson [Rep., S. D.]. Defines petty offenses as crimes the penalty for which does not exceed six months in jail or a $500 fine or both, and permits such offenses to be prosecuted upon information or complaint.

H. R. 9985, by Representative G. R. Stobbs [Rep., Mass.] Amends the Jones law to classify as a petty offense the manufacture, sale or transportation of not more than one gallon of liquor.

The Main Bill.

H. R. 9937, by Representative Christopherson. The commissioner bill. Provides that the defendant in a petty offense case shall plead before a United States commissioner. If he pleads guilty, the commissioner shall report to a judge, who shall render sentence. If he pleads not guilty, he shall have a hearing before the commissioner, who shall transmit his recommendations to a judge who will confirm or disapprove the recommendation and, accordingly hold the defendant convicted or acquitted.

In the latter bill it is provided that in case of conviction the accused may within eight days after the filing of the commissioner's report take exception and demand trial by jury. In case the court disapproves a commissioner's recommendation of acquittal and finds the accused guilty, the defendant may except within five days and demand a jury trial. If he does not except within the designated time, the defendant waives his right to a jury trial.

DIVORCES WIFE AS UNFAITHFUL; FORCED TO PAY HER ALIMONY

Policeman Thomas A. Weemhoff, 3935 West Division street, filed a petition, said to be unique in the Illinois courts, before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch yesterday in which he asserted that he had been forced for two years to pay alimony to his former wife, whom he divorced on grounds of unfaithfulness.

Weemhoff obtained a decree before Judge George F. Rush in April, 1928, which found that Mrs. Mae Igoe Weemhoff had been guilty of illicit relations with one Albert Koelikamp. Mrs. Weemhoff is a sister of Congressman James T. Igoe.

Weemhoff married again and now has two children. After his marriage, his petition stated, he was astonished to learn that the decree contained the provision that he should pay $30 monthly alimony to his ex-wife.

"Never before in my experience have I known of a case where a man was forced to pay alimony to a divorced wife who had been proved unfaithful to him," said Attorney Owen F. Andrews, who represented the policeman.

Weemhoff declared that the question of alimony was never mentioned at the divorce hearing and that the alimony provision was included in the decree without his knowledge. There were no children by Weemhoff's first marriage, the petition stated, and the court was asked to vacate the alimony order.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 26.—France's latest submarines, Ajax and Achilles, will be launched at Brest tomorrow. The new vessels which are "patrolling submarines," were built under the 1926 naval estimates and have a surface displacement of 1,560 tons and a submerged displacement of 2,060 tons.

Their hulls are each 365 feet long and 26 feet wide. The armaments consist of two guns, one 4 inch and one 1.38 inch, and ten 22 inch torpedo tubes. Two Diesel engines will drive these submarines at a speed of 18 knots on the surface and 10 knots submerged.

It was also announced that the new 10,000 ton cruiser Duplex will be launched in October at the Brest navy yard.

Committee Plans Crusade for Referendum.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Harold Foreman of the Foreman State National bank is to head the committee which will raise the funds for informing the public on the indeterminate transit franchise. The referendum on this ordinance will be held July 1. The other members of the finance committee, selected by Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, are John C. Bowers of the Central Uptown Chicago association; Patrick F. Sullivan, head of the building trades council, and Frank A. Mulholland, vice president of the Brainerd State bank.

The McDonough committee desires to print and distribute 100,000 copies of the ordinance, and to supply to each of the 1,350,000 registered voters a printed summary of the ordinance.

Headquarters Are Opened.

The committee promoting the ordinance has established headquarters in the Foreman bank building, room 1302. There the committee discussed yesterday afternoon its plans for the campaign.

In addition to the executive committee headed by Ald. McDonough it is planned to have a city wide committee of 500 or more. Each of the 50 aldermen will be asked to name 10 men or women for each ward. Then there is to be an organization for each ward.

A luncheon was held yesterday noon at the Hamilton club attended by approximately 50 foreign language editors and publishers. Ald. McDonough started the speech making.

Thanks Editors for Aid.

"I want to thank you for the excellent work you did in aiding the passage of the enabling legislation at Springfield," said McDonough. "I believe that this ordinance will be of great benefit to Chicago as a whole, but I think it is of unusual benefit to the foreign communities.

"I believe the people generally welcome an opportunity to express their opinion for or against better transportation under this ordinance. I do not claim that it is perfect, but it is the best upon which we could obtain an agreement. It will permit the best transportation supplied any city in the country, and probably in the world.

"In addition to its benefits in transportation it will provide a large amount of employment, which we greatly need at present. The spending of $200,000,000 for the companies and half that amount by the city is bound relieve the unemployment."

Ald. O. F. Nelson explained the ordinance in detail. Others who spoke were Ald. Jacob Arvey and James B. Bowler and Attorney Allan T. Gilbert.

BLOCKED 15 MINUTES BY TRAIN; UNCOUPLES IT AND IS ARRESTED

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—Ludwig Lanther had been waiting at the Erie crossing at East Rutherford, N. J., today for fifteen minutes. His engine was getting hot and so was he, and the 124 car freight train which stood across the Bergen turnpike showed no signs of moving.

Lanther got out of his car and uncoupled the train. It presently started, or part of it did, and Lanther shot through the opening. The front end backed up again, but Lanther had put the whole train out of commission.

LANDLORD FINED FOR VIOLATIONS OF SMOKE LAW

Erickson Waives Jury Trial and Pleads Guilty.

Carl A. Erickson, operator of five rooming houses in the 42d ward, yesterday waived a jury trial which he had previously demanded and pleaded guilty to five violations of the city other smoke violation charges against Erickson were dropped by the city after he pleaded guilty to one violation for each building and Municipal Judge Charles F. McKinley levied fines totaling $125.

Hearing Set For Sept. 18.

A motion to vacate the fines was set for a hearing on Sept. 18. The city according to Frank A. Chambers, chief smoke inspector, will not contest the motion at that time provided no more violations are noted for the Erickson buildings in the intervening time and provided Erickson makes the necessary repairs to operate his heating plants without smoke next winter.

"I am well satisfied with the victory in the Erickson cases," said Mr. Chambers. "Erickson has evinced a willingness to coöperate with us, as shown in the fact that the last violation reported against him was on Feb. 18. I do not believe that we will have any more trouble with his buildings."

Two Laundries Fined.

The Acme Wet Wash Laundry at 4209 South State street, was fined $100 on each of two violations of the smoke abatement ordinance. After officials of the Calumet Laundry, 7027 South Chicago avenue, had produced evidence that they have abated the smoke nuisance at their plant, a fine of $10 was levied. The case against the Prompt Laundry, 2650 Southport avenue, was continued for two weeks to allow completion of repairs to the boiler plant, which officials say, will eliminate any further violations.

PREME COURT LES AGAINST COMPANY UNION

olds Labor in Dixie Railroad Case.

ington, D. C., May 26.—[Spe- -Labor won a victory today when United States Supreme court, in majority opinion delivered by f Justice Hughes, upheld an in- tion restraining the Texas and Orleans railroad, a Southern Pa- system subsidiary, from organiz- a so-called "company union" or ting with the activities of the rhood of Railway and Steam- Clerks among its employés.

Under the injunction the road was ly compelled to abolish the "com- union" and recognize the broth- but was also ordered to re- employes discharged for refus- to join the company organization. In its opinion the Supreme court es- lished the principle that the right employe, under the 1926 railway or act, to select their own repre- tatives to bargain with employers relation to contracts of service is property right or interest to be pro- ted by injunction if necessary.

Figured in Parker Debates.

This attention was directed to the ct during the senate debates pre- ding the rejection of the nomination Federal Judge J. J. Parker to the United States Supreme court when tor W. E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] and ther opponents of Parker, refrred to as typical of the "human rights property rights issue" cases ng before the court for settle- .

"By recognizing the brotherhood, T. & N. O. company, it was ced, inspired the organization of company union" and sought to "coerce" and "intimidate" its employés to desert the brotherhood, which retained Attorney Donald R. Richberg of Chicago and secured a temporary injunction. Notwithstanding the injunction, the company recognized spokesmen for the "company union" which claimed to hold signed authorizations from a majority of the employés affected.

Injunction Made Permanent.

Contempt proceedings were brought against the company and its officials which were found guilty of "having violated and completely nullified" the injunction. The result was an order making the injunction permanent. The injunction was affirmed by the Circuit Court of Appeals and the company carried the case to the Supreme court.

"The legality of collective action on the part of employés in order to safeguard their proper interests is not to be disputed," said the court in the opinion. "It has long been recognized that employés are entitled to organize for the purpose of securing redress of grievances and to promote agreements with employers relating to rates of pay and conditions of work. Congress was not required to ignore this right of the employés, but could safeguard it and seek to make their appropriate collective action an instrument of peace rather than of strife."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—As much as ten days of debate in the senate on the conference report on the tariff seemed in prospect today. Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the finance committee, formally filed the report with the senate and gave notice that he would commence the discussion tomorrow with an explanation of its provisions.

Senator Smoot said that no attempt would be made to bring it to a vote by Thursday at which time the senate under an agreement made today will adjourn over Memorial day until next Monday. The leaders hope to obtain final action in the senate about the middle of next week.

JUSTICE HOLMES SPEAKS MIND TO SUPREME COURT

Calls Tax Ruling Blow at State Rights.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special.]—Invalidation of a section of the Missouri estate tax law today by a majority opinion of the United States Supreme court provoked a sharp protest from Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes against the growing tendency of the court to cut down the "constitutional rights of the states" by constantly expanding the scope of the 14th amendment. Justices Brandeis and Stone joined Justice Holmes in a dissenting opinion.

The constitutionality of the Missouri law was contested by Thomas A. Baldwin of Quincy, Ill., whose mother, Mrs. Carrie Pool Baldwin, died in the latter city on Oct. 4, 1926, and left property, both real and personal, in Illinois and Missouri to Baldwin. The state of Illinois levied and collected an inheritance tax on all of the personal property and the state of Missouri sought to collect a transfer or inheritance tax on the bonds, notes and bank deposits held in Lewis county in that state.

14th Amendment Invoked.

The Missouri tax was resisted on the ground that "the property was not within the jurisdiction of the state for taxation purposes and to enforce the demand would violate the due process clause of the 14th amendment." Neither Mrs. Baldwin nor her son ever had lived in Missouri. The Missouri state court held the personal property was not taxable, but the state Supreme court reversed the lower court and directed payment.

In its opinion today the United States Supreme court held that the personal property was taxable only by the state of Illinois, where Mrs. Baldwin lived and died and where the ownership actually passed from the dead to the living.

"I have not yet adequately expressed the more than anxiety that I feel," said Justice Holmes, "at the ever increasing scope given to the 14th amendment in cutting down what I believe to be the constitutional rights of the states. As the decisions now stand I see hardly any limit but the sky to the invalidating of those rights if they happen to strike a majority of this court as for any reason undesirable."

No Carte Blanche Given.

"I cannot believe," continued the venerable justice, "that the amendment was intended to give us carte blanche to embody our economic or moral beliefs in its prohibitions. Yet I can think of no narrower reason that seems to be to justify the present and earlier decisions to which I have referred.

"Of course, the words 'due process of law' if taken in their literal meaning have no application to this case; and while it is too late to deny that they have been given a much more extended and artificial signification, still we ought to remember the great caution shown by the constitution in limiting the power of the states, and should be slow to construe the clause in the 14th amendment as committing to the court, with no guide but the court's own discretion, the validity of whatever laws the states may pass."

Says Tax Was Just.

Justice Holmes pointed out that the personal property involved in the case had received the protection of the state of Missouri; that the state was logically justified in demanding a quid pro quo; that the practice of taxation in such circumstances "has been ancient and widespread"; and that the tax was warranted by previous decisions of the Supreme court.

"It seems to me to be exceeding our powers to declare such a tax a denial of the due process of law," concluded the justice in asserting that the restriction of taxation to a single place, if desirable, should be reached by understanding among or uniform legislation by the states rather than by "evoking a constitutional prohibition from the void of 'due process of law,' when logic, tradition and authority have united to declare the right of the state to lay the now prohibited tax."

When tempted to over-indulge

"Reach for a Lucky instead"

Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Avoid that future shadow* by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that modern, ever-youthful figure. "Reach for a Lucky instead."

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Lucky Strike has an extra, secret heating process. Everyone knows that heat purifies and so 20,679 physicians say that Luckies are less irritating to your throat.

*"Beyond 30 years of age, the mortality among overweights rises rapidly with the age and with the weight,"—says Dr. Brandreth Simmons in an article in The Medical Record. We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY UNDER PROHIBITION.

Republicans in the Washington state convention took control from United States Senator Wesley L. Jones and his prohibition associates, declared the party against Volstead and proposed modification permitting lawful use of liquor under regulation which could be enforced and would be obeyed.

Jones is the author of the law bearing his name which allows the imposition of excessive punishment, the federal equivalent of the former Michigan life law, and he impersonates the bigotry which has been in power in Washington. He was in the convention to hear his work denounced and himself accused of protecting enforcement officers accused of misconduct.

The modification resolution which the convention adopted was proposed by a total abstainer, who said that the government under prohibition had turned to Cossackism and that society was being disorganized by contention, hypocrisy, intolerance, violence, and excesses of law. That view was indorsed by a majority of the delegates.

The Republican national party may still be fascinated by the vision of southern electoral votes controlled by political clerics, but if it continues to make its obeisance with its attention fixed there it will find that the fascination has been fatal. Its own house is falling down. One of the first sharp evidences of it this year was when the Second congressional district of Massachusetts, a Republican district with ribs of rock, was carried in a special congressional election by a wet Democrat with 31,000 out of 57,000 votes.

Dwight Morrow in opening his campaign for the Republican nomination for the senate in New Jersey declared for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. A year ago Wisconsin repealed its prohibition law by legislative act, following a referendum in which a command was given by a vote of 350,000 to 196,000, joining four other northern states which have no enforcement acts, and three, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Rhode Island, never consented to the eighteenth amendment. Every referendum in Illinois has been carried against prohibition. Now the Republican party in Washington on the Pacific coast denounces Volstead methods and consequences and Republicans in Pennsylvania are organizing to present an opposition to fanaticism, a confused primary election having given the nomination for governor to Pinchot.

It is not in the blood of Republicanism to support intolerance and oppression. If the party looks south for authority in this respect it will look in vain to the north for support. The traditions and loyalties of the true party are against it. It was founded with another mission.

MAKE AN ISLAND SIX MILES OUT.

The island project six miles or eight off the Chicago shore would have a double value, according to Thomas Gilmore, Lincoln park commissioner: Besides providing a new site unique for recreation, commercial fishing, a yacht harbor, a beach and a high grade hotel center, it would give area for dumping rock and soil from Chicago's diggings without soiling the lake water. In 1929 no less than 843 scows laden with rock and stone were dumped beyond the line of 13 miles off the Chicago shore. It is clean dirt, no doubt, at least for the most part, but instead of muddying the water uselessly it should be concentrated within inclosures or retaining works and built up above the surface. In water from forty feet to sixty this is not difficult nor very costly.

Chicago's island would build itself in great part were the dumping operations now continuously under way coördinated and focused. A square mile of island built from the half million cubic yards of rock and soil now dumped annually off shore would not take long to grow. It would be relatively inexpensive and without doubt could be made self-paying.

With one island done, others might be found worth while. As a stimulus to the summer tourist and recreational facilities of Chicago as well as summer residence for Chicagoans the project is well justified.

DARTMOUTH SANS CULOTTES.

Dartmouth has abandoned trousers, according to a recent telegram from our far northern border, and the young gentlemen of this noncoeducational institution will clothe their lower limbs hereafter in vivid shorts and track pants of poetic hue. It is a protest, say the Dartmouth men, against the idiocies of man's summer clothing, and from woolen wrappings and inclosures that muffle man during the warm months of summer from his neck down to the ankles Dartmouth will emerge fresh, bright winged and legged, as the butterfly from the cocoon. Pants must go, chants Dartmouth, at least the long wool ones. Young legs will have their way.

In re man's trousers, for several years an insurrection has been brewing. Bright shorts and passionate pajamas, colored track pants of modernistic pattern, and silken uppers have swarmed suddenly upon mankind in a shining cloud, and no one knows when he interviews the solemn banker or the dun trousered wholesale grocer what fantasies of color and ecstatic decorations those trousers may conceal. Their shorts have become secret and suppressed emotions crying for expression these several years. Only time is needed for them inevitably to break through the breaches and appear boldly before the world.

If pants are superfluous at Dartmouth, coats, it would seem, must be even more so. The cotton shirt, close fitting like a middy, worn outside the trousers, is claiming some attention as a substitute for coats for summer wear, and Dartmouth, with characteristic energy and vision in behalf of suffering humanity, will no doubt explore this and other possibilities to the full. In any case we hope young legs and arms will find a way. If Dartmouth be the Moses to lead man from the stifling woolen wilderness, there will be many millions more of those who love her.

THE NEED FOR BETTER AIRPLANES.

The Fokker Aircraft corporation will change its name to General Aviation corporation and become for airplanes what its older brother, General Motors, is for automobiles. The Dornier company, and perhaps others, will enter into this new holding company, and the financing of aviation manufacture in America will be concentrated considerably. It is a financial concomitant of the need and development of standardized safe aviation.

The aviation business needs better airplanes primarily. When standardized, secure planes are built, sure to run on schedule safely, the financing will acquire new facility and momentum. Though aviation accidents acquire a publicity out of all proportion to their number, it remains true that flying is not safe enough or sure enough as yet to justify industrialization and quantity production of airplanes, as for example motoring is industrialized. Perhaps it never will be, but the probabilities are that an improved plane can make aviation a much greater part of our transportation system. Landing fields and marked out airways and, above all, improved planes are the first essentials to a great aviation business.

A standardized plane, reliable and safe, should be the aim of research and experiment in this field.

STREET CARS ON THE DRIVE.

The Lincoln park commissioners want the street cars removed from Lake Shore drive. With the outer bridge completed and through motor traffic surging down the boulevard from Devon to Jackson park, the street cars debouching at Chicago avenue on to the lake shore, crossing the drive and clattering southward along the bridle path to Navy pier will be out of place, dangerous and ugly, say Warren Wright, Sheldon Clark, and others most concerned. And they are right.

A change in routing of the Chicago avenue line must preserve two functions: it must continue to give the great west side outlet to the lake shore and the Navy pier; it must also serve the growing needs of Streeterville. If a way is found to meet these two needs and at the same time keep off the Lake Shore drive, avoid close proximity to the great hospital group of Northwestern university and still serve such great centers as the Furniture Mart, the university, and other foci of activity, it will be satisfactory.

If St. Clair street were cut through one short block, now used for rooming houses, to Chicago avenue, the street car line could be routed south from Chicago avenue to Grand avenue, thence eastward under Lake Shore drive to the Navy pier. This extension of St. Clair street is much needed. A second alternative would be to route the street car line from Chicago avenue south on State street, east on Huron street, south on Fairbank court to Grand avenue and the Navy pier. This route will serve the west side adequately, the Furniture Mart, the university and hotels, without endangering the value of the new Lake Shore drive or the great 30 story Wesley hospital, the Passavant hospital and others to be grouped around Northwestern university at Chicago avenue and Fairbank court.

The street car remains an unfortunate necessity of urban transportation. If one-tenth the effort towards eliminating noise and giving comfort and beauty had been applied to street car transportation that has been applied to motor cars, problems such as this would not arise. Few would then object to street cars on the drive.

Editorial of the Day

THE CANADIAN-AMERICAN TARIFF SITUATION.

[Minneapolis Tribune.]

More has been made of Canada's so-called retaliatory tariff than the facts justify.

It is true that Canada proposes to impose countervailing duties on a long series of articles which this country produces. In effect, this means that the Canadian rate will be made identical with the American rate whenever it happens that the American rate is higher.

The measure is one, of course, which Canada is entirely warranted in resorting to. It is well understood in all circles that a nation's tariff policy is its own business.

The argument, however, that here is proof that the wicked United States is forcing Canada into a Canadian-American tariff war impresses us as ridiculous. Canada has no legitimate grievance against the American tariff policy, nor has the United States any legitimate grievance against the Canadian tariff policy.

The very products which bear the new rates to which Canada now takes exception happen to be the products that would have been free-listed had Canada accepted the reciprocity agreement.

The idea, therefore [which is now being sedulously fostered in certain quarters], that there is something inherently monstrous in America's raising its tariff rates on dairy products, meats, eggs, poultry, fish, and flaxseed, and that such action constitutes a wanton and malicious crime against Canada, is nonsensical.

The fact is that America once offered to free-list the bulk of these articles, so far as Canada was concerned, and Canada wouldn't have it so. Canada forced this country to maintain its traditional tariff policy towards Canada.

WE'RE GETTING AROUND TO GRADUATION DAY—

and then we're going to find out what's wrong with the world. There's been a lot said that employment isn't all that it ought to be. Wait until the graduates hold forth on "Success In Life And How It May Be Assured." Then all you boys and girls that haven't got jobs will know what the trouble is and go right in and grab off jobs right and left and order any high priced automobile that you want. The stock market is still sulking and you birds that own Rubber Soup Spoon Preferred are wondering how much longer you've got to put up margins. Wait till the graduates flutter down to the center of the stage and speak sweetly from the text, "Cheer Up, Sad Heart, The Sun's Still Smiling." That'll help you a lot. Then all you faint-hearted and despairing ones who allow the country is going to the demnition bowwows at the rate of a mile a minute, wait for the graduates who hold forth on the subject, "Friendship, Be It But An Idle Word?" Oh, that's going to help a lot. And if you've got a cold in the head, or winter itch, or something like that, wait for the graduate whose theme is "Our Todays and Yesterdays Are the Blocks With Which We Build." Anyhow, they're nice children, and we wish 'em all the luck in the world. But, honestly, the way things are now we're not going to buy any bonds from 'em.

Buy a forget-me-not? Say, lissen, Lady,
I don't need bokays to remember
A cold, foggy day along Verdun way
When we jumped the Huns that November.

Lissen, Lady, I've seen a rolling barrage
Cross the fields o' France like black death,
And I stumbled along through poppies knee deep
With my heart in my throat, craving breath.

Lie cursing in mud, blood and sweat.
I'll buy all your goddam forget-me-nots.
How in hell can a doughboy forget?

THE RUM BUYER is not acting unlawfully if he purchases hootch from a bootlegger, said the honorable Supreme court of the United States yesterday. That's going to take the kick out of it for a lot of people.

And Even Worsern Than That; But This Is a Family Line.

Old Hal Foust, THE TRIB'S auto editor, in an eloquent and tear compelling description of the crowded condition of Chicago's traffic lanes Sunday, said that all the motorists did was to "step on the clutch, shift gears into low, depress the accelerator, release the accelerator, apply foot brakes, step on the clutch, release gear, wait, step on accelerator—and so on and so on. Stop, Hal Foust. You are not telling all! This is the way it really goes: Step on clutch, tell the man in front to get his ice wagon out of the way, shift gears into low, tell man hollering behind to go wash his face, depress the accelerator, tell car that is trying to pass you to go learn how to drive, release the accelerator, tell idiot who has jumped on running board and is shrieking for slaughter that one more word out of him and you'll biff him one with the monkey wrench, apply foot brake, tell red faced man screaming from car that has pushed in ahead that his grandfather was a ring-tailed South African baboon, step on clutch, tell shouting family in clanking tea kettle car to go plumb to hell and stay there, release gear, tell motor cop to mind his own business, wait—oh, well, and so and so on.

THE LAST SAILING.

The wind is rising, and a long, slow roll
Shows where the edgeless ocean circles in;
The storm birds scream, and from the church a toll
Tells final shriving of some sailor's sin.

Shall I, who loved all storms of night or day,
Who challenged winds and waves however high,
Fear this last one that bears me far away
Uncharted seas and questioned shores to try?

The heavy anchor lifts, the swelling sheets
Fill to the full; far off upon the main
I see gray wraiths of other ships; the fleets
That crossed the bar but did not come again.

Shore lines go blotting out to inky night,
The whitecaps link into a coat of mail;
Dimly I see the throbbing harbor light,
The wind is swiftly rising . . but I sail.

Lagniappe.

POLICE IN TRENTON, N. J., last Sunday took the names and address of wicked and designing people who played golf, tennis or radios, bought or sold gasoline, cigarets, cigars or groceries, or operated trolley cars, busses, or trains. All such devilish actions are prescribed under a statute of 1798, which the reformers have recently dug up and declare is still the law. If the reformers were only satisfied in reëstablishing a law made in 1798, we wouldn't care. But after they got everybody obeying the old Sunday blue laws then they would send them to jail for disobeying a law laid down by William the Conqueror, or for eating pie with a knife, or for taking a bath any time but Saturday night. Gosh! The trouble is those people are never satisfied.

HEY! LOOK AT YOURSELF! Great Scotland, don't appear in public like that! Oh, you look terrible! Why, don't you see—you haven't got your poppy pinned on and this is poppy day. That's it—now you look all right. R. H. L.

DIET FOR RHEUMATISM.

D. W. asks for a rigid diet for persons with rheumatism. I wish I had enough information to comply with this request. Frankly, I have not.

If a person has an acute rheumatic attack with swollen joints, high fever, sour sweat, and highly acid urine, I would feel confidence in recommending that he go on a very light, liquid diet such as soups, milk, fruit, and some toast, for a few days. There is ample reason for advising him to get plenty of water in the form of plain water, carbonated water, lemonade, orangeade, grape juice, soups, cambric tea, hot water tea, and even caffein beverages such as coffee, tea and cocoa.

There is ample reason for advising a fruit and vegetable diet. During the fever stage when there is no appetite there is no reason for eating anything. Certainly there is reason for declining to eat acid ash foods such as fats, meats, beef tea, breads, crackers, and cereals. This, however, relates only to the acute febrile stages. This form of rheumatism destroys blood rapidly. Anemia is the natural outcome. There is loss of muscle strength and loss of weight.

The restrictive diet of acute rheumatism fever must presently give way to one in which there is more protein, meat, eggs, and bread, and more iron or its equivalent—liver, tripe, juicy meats, oysters, eggs and vegetables.

There is one variety of chronic joint trouble, commonly spoken of as rheumatic, which calls for dieting. It is gouty arthritis and gout nodes. If this diagnosis is agreed on the person affected should outline a diet and then follow it for the remainder of his life. In the first place, he should get on the water wagon and never fall off. He should avoid spices and high seasoning. Food gorges must never be indulged. He should eat sparingly of roe, eggs, meats, and meat juices. In the main he should live on sauerkraut and potatoes, with a backing of other vegetables and fruits. He should get his proteins from cheese and milk foods with some grain foods. One of his great difficulties will be in getting enough iron to supply his bodily needs. The great food sources of blood iron are: Liver, tripe, egg yellow, bone marrow, spleen. All these are on his taboo list. He can get the equivalent in spinach, greens, and other pigmented vegetables.

PROHIBITION AND DRUGS.

J. C. F. writes: A relative [as the result of prohibition] has become an addict of veronal, which is far worse than chronic alcoholism and for which the physicians say there is no cure. This tablet has the same effects and same results as any narcotic which is unlawful to sell, but the tablet can be purchased easily at any drug store. The patient will go to the same extremes as any dope fiend in order to secure and when on a spree with it is very violent and dangerous, requiring a constant attendant. Why does the government allow the sale of this body and mind destroying drug? Can the makers be sued for damages?

REPLY.

There is no evidence that addiction to this drug is any more prevalent or harmful now than before prohibition. Of course, it should come under the Harrison act, as you say. The same could be said of some other drugs. But why is your faith in this act greater than your faith in the prohibition act? The principles involved are the same as regards all habit forming drugs, including alcohol, opiates, and the barbital group.

HAY FEVER BULLETINS.

N. W. asks: Are there any public health booklets on hay fever and where could I get such?

REPLY.

Write to the U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., for booklets on hay fever. They have bulletins 739, 931 and 1078, and radio broadcasts 144, 145, 146 and 147.

In addition, many state and local health departments have bulletins on hay fever, available on application or written request.

I have a booklet on hay fever, which is one of the "How to Live With" series. This you can get by sending me ten cents and stamped addressed envelope. This is the only booklet on the subject I have for distribution.

ALCOHOL AND BOWLEGS.

C. E. K. writes:

1. Will rubbing an 11 year old boy's legs with alcohol stop or help bowlegs which he has had for three years?

2. What usually is the cause and remedy of burning, itching, and breaking of the skin between the toes of one's feet?

REPLY.

1. No.

2. This is toe scald. The usual cause is infection with a form of ringworm. Keeping the feet clean and well aired and greasing them with a good sulphur ointment suffice to keep mild cases in hand.

NAGLE [NARRAGANSETT] AVENUE IMPROVEMENT.

Chicago, May 18.—[Friend of the People.]—Will you kindly advise me if there is any action being taken either by the city or the county for the paving of Narragansett avenue from Irving Park boulevard north. G. W. P.

The joint committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Chicago Regional Planning association recommended the five year program of construction adopted by the county board March 18, 1930. This program provides that Nagle avenue [Narragansett avenue] from Irving Park to the Northwest highway, a distance of 2.2 miles, is to be improved with 20 inch Portland cement concrete pavement in 1932.

NEIGHBOR'S FENCE TRESPASSES.

Chicago, May 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My neighbor has a fence about six feet long on my land. 1. Could I remove this fence without any court proceedings?

2. Is it necessary to have a city permit to build a fence on one's building line?

3. Is there a city ordinance which would prevent coal being carried to my neighbor over my land? F. W.

1. Yes, if there is no question about the boundary, but it seems probable that you might have some trouble proving you are right as to the boundary.

2. No.

3. No one has any right to use your land without your consent.

ENLARGEMENT OF CURTIS JUNIOR HIGH.

Chicago, May 18.—[Friend of the People.]—Kindly advise if it is true that the board of education contemplates the purchase of East 114th place property to enlarge present Curtis school. E. S.

A recommendation has been made by the superintendent of schools to enlarge the Curtis Junior High school site in order to permit the construction of an addition which would provide this school with modern educational facilities.

Because of restricted building fund finances the buildings and grounds committee of the board of education referred the matter back to the superintendent of schools. Hence, it is being held in abeyance for the time being.

DON C. ROGERS,

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 27, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the grand jury of the District of Columbia reported to the Supreme court of the district an indictment against Jeff Davis. It is long, full of repetitions and law lumber, but may be summed up in one word, "treason." It begins that the grand jurors "present that Jefferson Davis, late of the county of Henrico in the state of Virginia, yeoman, being an inhabitant of the United States of America and owing allegiance and fidelity to the said United States of America, and not having the fear of God before his eyes nor weighing the duty of his said allegiance, but being moved and seduced by the instigation of the devil, etc.," then continues to enumerate various crimes of the former president of the confederacy.

WASHINGTON.—In the trial of the Lincoln assassination conspirators witnesses testified to overhearing a conversation in Montreal last February between Sanders and Cleary in which Cleary said to Sanders: "I suppose that they will be getting ready for the inaugural of Lincoln," and that Sanders replied: "Lincoln will not trouble us much longer," and that Booth was bossing the job.

NEW YORK.—The Washington special to the Herald says: "Information has been received here that Kirby Smith intends marching his rebel army across the Rio Grande and tendering its services to Emperor Maximilian. This movement will be prevented."

CHICAGO.—The Alton Telegraph says of THE TRIBUNE: "The success which has attended the publication of this paper has never before been equaled in this country. Although it is comparatively in its infancy (being scarcely 18 years old), yet its daily circulation is nearly as large as that of the old papers in New York City." The Peoria Transcript says: "THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has been enlarged to a ten column paper. This makes it the largest paper in the west."

CHICAGO.—Six hundred policemen, sixteen patrol wagons and two unarmored cruiser tugs were about to advance by land and sea against the invading army that was holding the strip of land in Cap'n Streeter's District of Lake Michigan, but the attack did not take place. As they were about to advance a Lincoln park "sparrow cop," William L. Hayes, spoiled everything by calmly ambling into the district alone and arresting the entire Streeter army of invasion. He took their cartridge belts away from them, kicked their mud fortification down and marched them off to the police station. Previous to that for over twelve hours the Streeter army, with loaded Springfield rifles, defied the Chicago police force and took pot shots at any citizen who presumed to put foot on their sacred soil. One boy was shot and two others were injured. The Streeter army consisted of thirteen soldiers who had sworn to give their lives if need be.

CHICAGO.—The College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago at its annual meeting decided after an animated debate henceforth to refuse recognition to athletics and no longer give official sanction and support to the college football team, which has taken so prominent a part in intercollegiate athletic competition. Dr. William E. Quine, dean of the college, said the step was taken "because experience has taught us that college athletics have a demoralizing and disturbing influence on the students and interfere with the educational work of the college."

BOSTON.—Mrs. Julia Ward Howe is 81 years old and a distinguished party gave a birthday reception and luncheon in her honor.

CHICAGO.—Timothy B. Blackstone, who was president of the Chicago and Alton Railroad company from 1864 to 1899, died of pneumonia at his residence, 252 Michigan avenue. He was 71 years old. He started his career as a rodman on the New York and New Haven railroad in 1848. Three years later he took a position as a civil engineer with the Illinois Central, with headquarters at La Salle, Ill., where he lived for three years and served a term as mayor, the only elective position he ever held.

NEW YORK.—Miss Edith C. Gould, daughter of George J. Gould and sister of Lady Decies, eloped and was married in Elkton, Maryland's Gretna Green, to Carroll L. Wainwright, a New York art student. He is 21 and she is 18. She is the third of the seven children of George Gould to wed without having their parents' consent. The couple went to Philadelphia by train and were refused a license there because of Miss Gould's age. Then they raced to Elkton by auto. Mr. Gould said after being informed of the marriage that he is acquainted with Wainwright and that he is "a fine young man." Parental forgiveness awaits the couple.

YACHT HARBOR.

Chicago, May 21.—I can well sympathize with Miss Isabel Jarvis, whose letter in this morning's paper reports she is unable to obtain mooring for a boat in Jackson park. The harbors under the jurisdiction of the Lincoln park board are just as difficult to get space in this year. I, too, was about to purchase a new boat, but upon inquiry find that I would be unable to keep it on the north side anywhere within reasonably convenient distance of my home, so have given up the idea.

The boat I was to get was to be a 25 footer. Upon application for space at Belmont harbor, the harbor master there told me that only the large boats [and I suppose therefore expensive boats belonging to wealthy owners] were permitted in his harbor, and that there would be no space that I could have even if all moorings had not already been applied for. He told me to arrange for space in the Lincoln park lagoon near North avenue.

At the office of the chief engineer of Lincoln park I was told that the lagoon will not be open to boats for another six or eight weeks at the earliest. They have just begun dredging and repairing the docks there. Thus if I went there I would lose approximately one-third of the boating season, and they could not tell me definitely even if I would be able to get space at the end of that period. I have kept boats in this lagoon in other years, and was always able to get admission in April or May. There seems to be no good reason why the repairs being made could not have been done earlier so that the lagoon would be ready for the opening of the boating season, instead of late in the season as is the case this year.

Earlier in the year the Lincoln park board announced that the new Clarendon yacht harbor near Montrose avenue would be open this summer, but the park engineer's office informs me now that it will be another two or three years before it is ready. Also, that moorings there will be restricted to sailboats, power boats being excluded. So in addition to providing inadequate facilities, and being late in getting them ready, there seems to be a discriminatory class system in operation whereby the Lincoln park administration favors the wealthy owners of large boats, but does not welcome the owner of a modest power boat. WOULD-BE SAILOR.

PEACE ISLAND.

Chicago, May 22.—To continue with THE TRIBUNE'S suggestions regarding an island in the lake: For some time I have felt the urge to suggest a zoned island for quiet at night, an island free from the traffic noises, from radio disturbances, from the honkings and cutouts and other objectionable noises—and from all obnoxious human noises, as the whoopee noises and loud talking of vulgar neighbors—where all of these could be abolished for those who wished to pay the price of peace and live for a time segregated on an island out in the lake. References and guarantees from landlord and from tenant would have to be rigidly exacted, which, if the peace was not all that was promised or if there were transgression on the part of tenant, would automatically release either party, owner or tenant. Contracts of guarantee drawn up by both parties would take care of the lawbreaking and lawabiding on Peace island. PAX.

CICERO'S REPUTATION.

Chicago, May 22.—I see that the criticism of the Hon. Frank J. Loesch is now being directed against the town of Cicero.

If he or any one else thinks that there is anything wrong with Cicero—a town having the finest educational system in the state; the highest percentage of home owners and literacy; a town having the most efficient local administration; where there are well kept streets and no slums; a place where crime is the lowest of any city or town of its size and where a citizen and his property are safer than anywhere else—then they probably have never been in Cicero. ALBERT MARTIN.

FINANCIAL SERVICE.

Chicago, April 23.—As a subscriber to THE TRIBUNE please accept our congratulations for new market quotation published this morning of the New York produce exchange stocks.

OLGA BERGER.

MEXICAN IMMIGRATION.

Chicago, May 23.—I wish to challenge statements regarding Mexican immigration made by Mr. De La Mora in the letter in today's TRIBUNE. He said that most of his people return to their own country. May I ask how it happens that there are two million Mexicans in the United States today? Furthermore, I challenge that Mexican labor has tendencies to lower wages and if it were not for this there would be a great deal less unemployment in the United States today.

As to his statement that the English and Canadians are unassimilable, it is ridiculous. The United States census bureau is authority for the statement that the British and Canadians are the most people that spread over the country evenly and are easily assimilated. The draft board tests during the late war show that the British had the largest percentage of higher intelligence of all of our immigrants, with Germans, Netherlanders and Scandinavians following. That's the kind of immigrants we want, isn't it, people that will help us raise standards of living, literacy and wages not lower them? S. C. ARMSTRONG.

THE ADMIRALS' TESTIMONY.

Chicago, May 23.—Calling on the members of the general navy board for criticism of the three-power agreement seems to me very much like asking a farmhand who is about to be superseded by a machine what he thinks of the latter. Naturally he thinks very little of it that is complimentary. Just what we should expect the biggest navy boys, admirals and lesser fry, to break out into paeans of ecstasy over the curtailment of their opportunities for advancement is beyond me. While I don't agree at all with old Doc Johnson's dictum that patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel, still I'm not so simple minded as to believe that even admirals and such like are never actuated by any but the loftiest motives. They're merely mortals, with a passion for gold braid. O'CONNOR.

WHY HE PREFERS BUSES.

Manitowoc, Wis., May 22.—If you think the railroads would like to hear reasons why buses are preferred, I'll give a few.

1. No news venders on buses. (As you know, they are a terrible pest on trains, especially if one wants to take a nap.)

2. Buses have more comfortable seats. Seats should be higher in front than at the rear, so as to take up, to absorb, the longitudinal recoil from starting and stopping.

3. Buses are quieter. No clanging bells at crossing (or on engines ahead). No clatter of couplings, etc.

JOHN CALKINS.

QUESTION FOR MUSICIANS.

Chicago, May 17.—Are there any good choirs or singing societies in Chicago, consisting of nonprofessional singers, where a girl, interested in music, can join and benefit thereby? I mean a society where all members attend rehearsals without being begged to come by them by the director; a society where the members can give a concert or play without making fools of themselves.

I am anxious to join such a society but as yet none have I found that are not a complete waste of time.

HELEN DOMAR.

TAXES.

Chicago, May 23.—Will some one please tell me why we were taxed $153 on our property and the house next door, exactly alike to the smallest detail on the same size lot, was taxed only $95? It seems that in spite of the reassessment the same old graft is going on. DISGUSTED.

FOR A NEW POLITICAL PARTY.

Chicago, May 15.—Let's have a new political lineup, a new liberal party that will stand like iron against a tariff that enriches a manufacturing group at the expense of consumers; let's have men and women who will fight the rape of the country's natural resources, against the packing of the federal trade commission, the interstate commerce commission and other bodies designed to curb the rapacities of big business. Let's have leaders whose concern shall be with the many, not with the powerful few. A new liberal party is the answer. M. COHN.

WHY EVERYWOMAN HAS FAITH IN GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

GOOD HEALTH through GOOD FOODS

A New Era in Food History

THE tomato-juice cocktail . . . the demand for broccoli . . . the vogue of orange juice . . . they are signs that the 23 billion dollars a year which the American people spend for food is being spent with health as well as appetite in mind.

There is a new era in foods. The American woman, having won her fight against adulterated foods, now turns her attention to choosing the food products that best create health and energy.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING, which led in the fight against food adulteration, pioneers today in showing women-guardians of the table how their families can be kept well and vigorous through proper diet.

Every month in GOOD HOUSEKEEPING, Dr. Walter H. Eddy, Director of its Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health, tells why spinach, liver and whole wheat make red blood; how we can nourish the teeth by eating certain foods; how vitamins create vitality. Dr. Eddy, an authority and discoverer in the field of nutrition, is eminently fitted to explain the new food values.

The work of GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Bureau does not stop here. It gives Everywoman standards by which she can decide which of the many food products offered her can give the appetizing or strength-giving elements she wants.

Food preparations that meet the Bureau's high standards receive its Seal of Approval. This Seal when found on a package is a sign that the product is wholesome; that it contains the nutriment and health value claimed for it.

So great is Everywoman's patronage of products bearing the Bureau's Seal of Approval that in 1929 one manufacturer used 50 million seals on his packages. One billion seals are used annually. This means that one billion sales are made each year of products bearing the Bureau's symbol.

The Bureau, in addition to foods, tests cosmetics and pharmaceutical preparations. Your table, complexion, medicine cabinet—you protect them all when you make sure the products you consider buying are advertised in, and guaranteed by, GOOD HOUSEKEEPING.

CONNIE RITTER GETS LIFE, ALSO TWO YEAR TERM

Sentenced for Murder of Mayor; In Rum Case.

East St. Louis, Ill., May 26.—(AP)—Conrad [Connie] Ritter, southern Illinois gangster, was taken to the southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester today to begin serving a life term for the slaying of Joe Adams, mayor of West City.

At Benton, earlier in the day, Ritter had pleaded guilty to taking part in the slaying, which occurred the night of Dec. 12, 1926, and for which Ritter's chief, Charlie Birger, gang lord, was hanged.

Judge Charles H. Miller of Benton, who heard Ritter's plea, pronounced the life sentence, and Ritter immediately was brought to East St. Louis, where he pleaded guilty in federal court to the charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

Ritter was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on the Volstead plea. The conspiracy charge to which he admitted guilt was the same case in which former State's Attorney Arlie Boswell of Williamson county was convicted and sent to the penitentiary.

Woman Motorist Weeps but Cop Is HardHearted

Mrs. Frank W. Fritchek, 724 Mulford street, Evanston, wife of a lace paper manufacturer, burst into tears when arrested for driving past a stop signal in Evanston yesterday. "I feel like a hardened criminal," she said. Sergt. William Johnson consoled her by saying, "We arrest very nice people."

NEW CHARGES MARK BATTLE ON SPEED TRIALS

Claim Court Rule Is a Blow at Safety.

The controversy between the police department and Judge Freeman L. Fairbank of Speeders' court over prosecution of motorists was no nearer a settlement yesterday. Commissioner of Police Russell and Judge Fairbank issued new statements, but the proposed conference with Chief Justice Harry A. Olson of the Municipal court, who is prepared to act as mediator, was not held.

Judge Fairbank commended Commissioner Russell's campaign to reduce automobile fatalities, but declared he was compelled to abide by the law, which requires that evidence must be presented against violators. Last week he voided 4,000 capiases for the arrest of speeders because the complaining officers did not appear in court.

"The law requires the officer to appear in court with the offender," Judge Fairbank said. "Police officers can not be represented by proxy. I will not tolerate the cafeteria method of fining speeders—that is, assessing set fines against motorists who plead guilty, although there is no evidence presented against them.

"It is all very nice to take their money but I do not feel like doing it unless they are given a fair trial. It means the public is tricked into pleading guilty."

The judge has also announced there is no established speed limit and that the only question is whether the driver has been reckless.

"I have no controversy with Commissioner Russell," he continued. "His drive is a fine thing and I am willing to cooperate all I can. The whole difficulty lies in a shortage of motorcycle policemen."

Earlier in the day Commissioner Russell issued a statement which, in part, follows:

"Since the police started their drive last October we have shown a marked reduction in the number of auto fatalities. If we had the coöperation instead of the antagonism of the courts we would be able to show an even greater reduction.

"Under Judge Fairbank's ruling I may as well assign the motorcycle policemen to other duty."

One death yesterday raised the Cook county motor toll for the year to 346.

Jack Damato, 18 years old, 524 North Curtis street, died in the county hospital from injuries received Sunday in an automobile accident two miles west of Dunning.

Joseph Benesh, 55 years old, 2620 South Karlov avenue, Chicago, was killed and his son, Jerry, 32, of English Lake, Ind., was seriously injured last night when the car in which they were riding from English Lake to Chicago was struck by a Monon passenger train on the Lincoln highway near Dyer, Ind. The injured man was taken to St. Margaret's hospital in Hammond.

LONDON, May 26.—The prince of Wales stressed the value of aircraft as an instrument of peace, when opening the twelfth congress of federation of chambers of commerce of the British empire in the Guildhall today. "Aircraft does much to make the whole world kin," the prince said, "and to lead to that community of thought among the nations, which is the best augury of future peace, and, with peace, of the confidence and prosperity of the world."

IN NAME AND PERFORMANCE THE DOMINANT ROAD CAR OF AMERICA

A new Sedan by Franklin—unsurpassed in riding comfort, spirited in performance—a triumph of the air-cooled, airplane-type engine. Its years-ahead power plant and engineering design—its brilliant beauty and renowned comfort—give this new Sedan the same fine performance and quality for which Franklin long has been noted.

All the many Franklin exclusive advantages give a value representative of a price far above $2395—the price which also makes the new Franklin Transcontinent Sedan the wisest, most satisfactory motor car investment you can make. Considering the pride of ownership, the increased motoring enjoyment, the longer life, the economical operation, you can own a Franklin at no greater cost than that of a car of lesser quality.

Franklin's impressive list of achievements, including all major American road records, were made by a Franklin Sedan. The coast-to-coast round-trip record, the New York to Miami speed record, and a score of other speed and endurance records, are held by the Franklin Sedan. With such a tradition behind it, the new Franklin Transcontinent Sedan—employing the most powerful type of motor built—assures alert, responsive, carrying-through power that is consistently faithful in the severest kind of service.

At its favorable low price of $2395 at the factory, and on the convenient monthly terms, the Transcontinent Sedan presents an unusual opportunity for fine car ownership. Your present car, if of average value, may serve as the down payment. See the car—drive it—you'll thrill to its airplane feel.

Former Sanitary Official Before Grand Jury.

John T. Miller, head of the department of permanent plants and structures of the sanitary district when Timothy J. Crowe was president of the board, was the chief witness before the special grand jury yesterday. Miller was questioned for hours by First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup about the $1,062,000 cinder bridle path and the north shore channel road and its $727,000 lighting system.

Prosecutor Northup said that Miller, builder of the bridle path, told the jurors as he has stated publicly beore—that a waste of approximately 25 per cent occurred in the building of the cinder path due to the fact that the job was done by political labor. The trustees, he said, authorized the project by officially approving the payment of the vouchers not in excess of $500. He explained that this system allowed the work to be carried on without a contract and without formal action by the trustees.

Northup said Miller stated that $400,000 of the total cost of the bridle path was for the rental of trucks, $190,000 was for the purchase of cinders, and the remainder for labor.

Attorneys Charles S. Dougherty and Samuel P. Hoffman filed a notice with Prosecutor Northup yesterday that today they would ask Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle to expunge a report filed by the special grand jury last week. The report clears Northup of charge of giving out grand jury secrets. The attorneys point out in the petition that the grand jury has no right to make reports under the law except on conditions of the jail.

New Report in Danger.

Prosecutor Northup, it became known, has drafted a long report for the grand jury to make at the end of this week. Should the judge expunge the earlier reports attorneys say it will prevent the jury from returning Northup's document. Several times judges have expunged reports when attorneys have objected to them.

The grand jury is about to return indictments in was indicated yesterday when Prosecutor Northup announced that he had retained Attorney Edwin J. Raber to draft the documents.

George L. Chamberlain, head of the U. S. A. company, failed to appear in the federal court yesterday so that he could be subpoenaed for the state grand jury. He is to appear this afternoon.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED TO WIFE OF GRANDSON OF JOHN WANAMAKER

Philadelphia, Pa., May 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Peltz Warburton was granted a divorce today from C. Egerton Warburton, son of Maj. and Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, and grandson of the late John Wanamaker.

Cruel and barbarous treatment were the grounds, according to counsel for Mrs. Warburton.

Mrs. Warburton is the daughter of Mrs. George M. Dallas Peltz of Philadelphia. She and Mr. Warburton surprised social circles by eloping to Elkton, Md., on April 28, 1923.

At the time of the elopement Mr. Warburton was 21 and his bride 17.

COUGHLIN SEEKS LAW TO PERMIT HIGHER TOWERS

Will Present Amendment to Council June 4.

Another amendment to the building code to permit higher towers on buildings in the central business district will be presented to the city council at its meeting on June 4, according to Ald. John J. Coughlin [1st]. An amendment changing the street line building height, which was passed by the council a year ago was later repealed and litigation growing out of its passage is pending now before the state Supreme court. Under the provisions of this ordinance John F. Cuneo proposed to erect a 60 story tower at Randolph street and Michigan avenue.

Coughlin Describes Plan.

In a memorandum to the council building and zoning committee, Ald Coughlin described the changes he would make in the present height restrictions. His plan, he said, would permit the enlargement of the area of tower base from 25 per cent of the area of the base of the building proper, as at present, to 40 per cent. The proposed amendment also would permit an increase in the tower volume from one-sixth of the volume of the entire structure, as now, to one-fourth. Proportionate increases in height would be allowed.

"I think that there is less restriction in that than in the Cuneo tower amendment which was repealed," said an attorney familiar with zoning regulations. "There doesn't seem to be any limitation on the height to which the towers can rise."

"Street Height the Same."

O. W. Rosenthal, a contractor who is on a committee appointed by Building Commissioner Paschen to revise the building code, said the proposed amendment does not propose to change the 264 foot street line building height, but affects towers only. The offset of the tower, he said, must be 15 feet from the street line.

"The increased volume allowance would be offset by the greater area of the tower," said Mr. Rosenthal, "which would make the tower height nearly the same as fixed under the present restrictions."

Others pointed out that a builder might decide to keep the tower area to 25 per cent, which, with the increased volume allowed, would permit a greater height for the tower.

Coughlin's amendment will be referred by the council to the building and zoning committee, which will hold public hearings.

CHARGED WITH 26 BURGLARIES.

Charged with twenty-six burglaries, Arthur Davis, 28 year old Negro, in whose flat the police found stolen clothing and jewelry worth $15,000, is to be arraigned in Felony court today.

ADLER TO BRING ASHES OF WIFE HOME FOR BURIAL

Is Prostrate from Shock at Paris Hotel.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 26.—The body of Mrs. Katherine Adler, who was killed when her car skidded into a tree yesterday near Evreux, was brought here tonight for cremation. Wednesday was tentatively fixed as the date for the cremation, and David Adler, her husband, will return shortly after to America with the ashes for interment in Chicago.

The body is temporarily resting in the mortuary chapel of the American cathedral here, pending final arrangements. Paris friends of Mr. Adler indicated that cremation will be probably at the Pere La Chaise crematorium.

Married Chicago Architect.

Mrs. Adler, before her marriage, was Katherine Keith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Keith of Chicago. She was 37 years old. Mr. Adler is a prominent architect and has designed a number of north shore residences.

The Adlers arrived here recently planning to spend a few weeks in Europe. They had left here Saturday to spend the week-end motoring in Normandy and were returning yesterday afternoon when the accident occurred. According to Mr. Adler they were a few miles out of Evreux on the road to Paris when Mrs. Adler, who was driving, attempted to slow down for a dangerous curve. The road was extremely slippery on account of a heavy rainfall, and as soon as the brakes were put on the car skidded and crashed broadside into a row of trees bordering the road.

Mr. Adler, who was bruised and slightly cut but was not seriously injured, extricated his wife from the wreckage, and hailed a passing motorist, who drove them to the Evreux hospital, where a local doctor decided an immediate operation was necessary to remove the pressure of skull splinters on the brain.

Mr. Adler frantically telephoned the American hospital here for Dr. Thierry de Martel, one of the most famous surgeons in Europe, but before Dr. Martel could arrive Mrs. Adler was dead, not having recovered consciousness.

After testifying at the inquest at Pacy-sur-Eure, a village near the scene of the accident, this morning Mr. Adler accompanied the body here and immediately returned to the Hotel du Rhin, where they were staying, and went to bed in a state of virtual collapse resulting from shock and grief.

Gypsies Group Continues as Radio Favorite

Symphony Concert Soloist Pleases.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The Gypsies' orchestral program from New York, through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8:30, is one of the wonders of the air. It is easy to become indifferent to a program, however good it may be, through repeated hearings. This program is among those which year in and year out hearings do not dull. The members of the orchestra are gypsies by name, yet no claim is laid to vagabond gypsydom. Their mastery of radio stagecraft is such that the appeal of their offerings, classical or popular, is practically universal.

Sessan Whist-Nespia, contralto, soloist on the W-G-N 9:30 to 10 symphony orchestra program, opened her part of the concert with Mendelssohn's "On the Wings of Song" and other numbers of classical character, and then sang "In the Gloaming" and the homey everyday type of song. She was successful in both types. With all respects to operatic arias and the classics, it is the old time favorites that make the strongest appeal, provided the singer can do justice to them. This singer can. Many famous singers cannot.

Alfio Tedesco, Metropolitan Opera tenor, soloist on the orchestral program from New York through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9, presented a splendid concert. Though his program was entirely operatic, the pleasing and dignified Neopolitan character of his voice lent an air of romance. The frequently sung "Quest e Quella," from "Rigoletto," was excellent.

The fashion talk by Mrs. Lytton-Benello, from W-G-N, at 9:20, was as easy as music to listen to. This weekly fashion talk by well informed speakers is an innovation that will enjoy popularity.

Coast Guard Rescues Two After Their Boat Upsets

BOY KILLED IN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

Harold Holmes, colored, 10 years old, of 1711 Dodge avenue, Evanston, was crushed to death late yesterday in an elevator shaft of an apartment building at 425 Grace avenue, Evanston, where he had been delivering newspapers. He apparently had slipped while the automatic elevator car was in motion and fell between the shaft and the elevator.

C. L. WORTHINGTON SURRENDERS ON FRAUD CHARGES

CRIMINAL COURT.

George Burke, larceny, sentenced to one year in the county jail by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Belle Irene Chenowith, murder, sentenced to the Kankakee asylum for the insane by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

Clyde L. Worthington, who is alleged to have defrauded a number of women—most of them widows—surrendered yesterday in Judge John Sbarbaro's felony court. He walked into the courtroom with his attorney as had been promised last week when warrants were issued for him. The case, however, was continued until today because the judge's docket was crowded.

It is charged that Worthington, a real estate promoter, persuaded many women to invest money with him for the purchase of "fig land" on the promise of big returns. It is alleged that he made misrepresentations to his clients. Mrs. Eleanor Freiberger, 2138 Ridgewood avenue, Highland Park, who obtained some clients for Worthington, was also named in one warrant.

Attorneys for Worthington asked that the charges be dismissed inasmuch as they had already been presented before Judge Borrelli. Judge Sbarbaro refused to take any action until he has time to hear the entire evidence, he said.

Kraemer of the health department as the healthiest girl and boy in Division 2 of the county schools yesterday. The selection was made at the annual forest preserve festival at Schiller Park. Young Chaney is a cousin of Lon Chaney, motion picture actor, according to Edward J. Tobin, county superintendent of schools.

On Sunday Cerny learned his former hired hand was working on a neighbor's farm and had him arrested. Mraz was held in $2,000 bond.

GIVES MILLION FOR SANITARIUM FOR NAMESAKES

Unusual Provision in Nevadan's Will.

Reno, Nev., May 26.—(AP)—George D. Kilborn, late publisher of the Nevada State Journal of Reno and mining man, who died a few months ago, left the bulk of his million dollar estate to found a free sanitarium "where any Kilborn, no matter where he lives, may regain his health."

The will has been filed for probate at Auburn. Under its terms his widow, Mrs. Katherine Kilborn, will have the use of the fortune as long as she lives, and it will then be placed in trust to support the sanitarium to be founded at the old Kilborn homestead in Jefferson county, New York.

The will further states that if there are not enough Kilborns to fill the sanitarium the needy residents of Jefferson county, New York, may obtain treatment there, and if there are further vacancies the people of Lewis county, New York, may be admitted.

A trust fund of $2,500 was also created, the income from which is to be used every fifty years to write a history of the Kilborn family. Ten thousand dollars is set aside for the erection of a mausoleum in Copenhagen, N. Y., where the remains of Kilborn and widow are to be placed.

Seaman Gives to Charity.

DENTIST ADMITS MURDER; GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Bentonville, Ark., May 26.—(AP)—Dr. Andrew J. Bass, retired, wealthy dentist of Columbia, Mo., tonight was on his way to the penitentiary at Little Rock to begin the life sentence imposed on him for the killing of William R. Pearman, Columbia garage mechanic and his co-conspirator in a $200,000 insurance fraud plot.

Abruptly ending his case before the trial began at a special term of Circuit court here today, Dr. Bass, on advice of his counsel, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of killing Pearman, whose body with three bullet wounds in the head was found by the highway near Gravette, Ark., exactly two months ago.

2 Los Angeles Children Die by Fire in Tent in Canada

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., May 26.—Joey and Sandy, aged respectively 2 and 4 years, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Williamson of Los Angeles, Cal., were burned to death today when the family tent they were occupying at Brandon, Man., was destroyed by fire. The blaze was started by the explosion of a gasoline stove inside the tent.

FOUND ALIVE IN CENTER OF ROOM SWEPT BY FIRE

John K. Chrimes, an employment agency manager, was found sitting in the center of a fire wrecked room of a three story business and apartment building at 1618 Sherman avenue, Evanston, early yesterday. He seemed to be in a stupor, and although flames had swept the two upper floors of the building, causing $10,000 damage, Chrimes was not seriously burned. His hair was singed and his face was burned. Three women and a man had been awakened from sleep by firemen and rescued with difficulty, but Chrimes had apparently been in the building throughout the fire. Evanston police said they planned to take him to the psycopathic hospital for examination.

Chrimes, said the fire started from an electric heater but no heater was found. His wife, Helen, was among those helped from the building by firemen as were Mrs. Mary Hansen, Mrs. Osborne Dahl, and Thomas Caughwell.

The rug store owned by William Slater Jr., and a florist shop conducted by John Wieland, on the ground floor, were damaged by smoke and water.

More than 300 persons, many of them avitators, attended the funeral services yesterday at the Presbyterian church of Lake Forest for Harold L. The crash occurred early last Friday while Mayer was piloting a physician and a young woman to her injured parents in Georgia. Dr. John S. WORLD HATES U.S. AS RICH FAT BOY, FOREMAN WARNS

General, Home from Tour, Tells of Turmoil.

In the midst of present and prospective hostilities among foreign nations, those nations hold a common antagonism toward Uncle Sam, whom they regard as "that fat boy with the apples," Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman told the Junior Association of Commerce members, adressing a luncheon meeting yesterday in the Hotel Sherman. Gen. Foreman, who commanded the 122d artillery during the world war, has just returned from a foreign tour.

"We have come through what was called a war to end war," he said. "Now, more than eleven years after the signing of the armistice, I submit whether Arcadia has come.

"The echo of guns in the French mandate in Syria has scarcely died away. British mandates and the Indian empire are dissatisfied and ridden by rebellion and poverty. Civil war continues in China. Her silk industry is at a standstill. Japan has been undergoing a depression for years.

"Each one has his grievance against some pet enemy, and each is against either the French or the British. But all the nations, large and small, are united in hating 'that fat boy with his pockets full of apples,' the United States.

"Why is the United States believed responsible for the ills of the world? May they not have their common source in the spirit of hate and rebellion that is so difficult to repulse? See to it that we are not left alone, friendless, and unprepared to guard the heritage of our fathers. That is your task, and it is in good hands."

Save Woods for Recreation Spots, Waltons' Chief Urges

If you don't know what the great open spaces are for, let Dr. George Edgar Vincent, national president of the Izaak Walton league and former head of the Rockefeller foundation, tell you. He gave an address on that subject last night at a dinner given for him at the Palmer house by the Illinois chapter of the league.

"There is a fraternity and a comradeship of the great out of doors that is the finest in the world," he said. "Biologists tell us we have an instinct acquired over long periods of time to throw off our urban habits and get back to nature. Out literature and our traditions were builded on the great outdoors, when man contested with his environment—forests, streams, mountains.

City Folk Invading Country.

"Then along came the industrial revolution, which is still going on and we are going with it, but psychologists say we have suppressions which can be overcome only by going out into the country. But the people of the city, invading the country, have developed the habit of throwing things away. We get rid of all unpleasant things that way. Even our sewage we put in the river and send it on down to the next town. Our motorists get rid of their spare boxes and egg shells and the like along the roads.

"During our great industrial revolution we needed lumber and though the Dunsinane forest was moved it was nothing like modern times. Then some one feund a way of making paper out of wood pulp and our forests went faster.

"But recently our states and our national government adopted policies of conservation and the Izaak Walton league was born to help in protesting against the pollution of our rivers and lakes, against destroying the beauties of nature, and against sacrificing our national inheritance. States are repossessing themselves of unprofitable lands and turning them into national parks and state parks, bird refuges and other preserves.

"Need Woods for Health."

"We need those for our health and the mental pleasure we can derive from living out of doors. We hear talk of a national slowing down of prosperity. Let me therefore call attention to the simple and inexpensive pleasures of life.

"American legs have gradually been becoming the subject of atrophy. In Europe they walk for the pleasure of it and they use the bicycle. I hope we will not cause added depression if we go back to simple pleasures in the country and use our motor cars as a means of getting to the country, where we will leave them while we take our pleasure and exercise there and not use them in littering up the country.

"Remember, the conservation and outdoor movements are not party questions. The preservation and the beautification of the great outdoors is a nonpartisan but enlightened policy for public welfare generally."

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 26.—Miss Amy Johnson, whose lone flight to Australia has roused the British as no air feat has ever done, is richer today by $50,000. Lord Rothermere's Daily Mail announces it has placed this amount to her credit in recognition of her performance.

Missouri U. Fires "Sex Questionnaire" Professor

Columbia, Mo., May 26.—(AP)—Dr. Max F. Meyer, who last year figured in the sex questionnaire case at the University of Missouri and who later criticized two members of the board of curators in a speech, tonight was relieved as head of the psychology department.

"Mad! Stark Mad!" That's what sympathetic colleagues said of Dr. Albert Einstein while he was struggling alone with the theory of Relativity fifteen years ago. . . Today many scientists call him the most profound thinker of all time.

High Priest of SCIENCE

It is said that only twelve men in the world can understand Dr. Einstein's theory of relativity. But nearly 4,000 volumes have poured from the presses trying to explain just what it means!

Yet practically nothing has been written about Albert Einstein, the human being.

How does he work? What are his hobbies? Does he believe in God? And what of his wife—his children?

He doesn't care for money, or decorations, or titles, or praise. Then what is his definition of success—of happiness?

The American Magazine sent a reporter 4,000 miles to answer these and many other questions about the man who is revolutionizing scientific thought. And he has brought back the most intimate story of Einstein ever written. You'll like the human, little great man this story reveals—and you'll understand why they once called him a madman!

INTO A DITCH!

"My wheels struck a culvert, and I crashed into the ditch. Of course, I thought my insurance covered me, but I found out that the insurance company did not consider sliding into a ditch a collision, and, as a matter of fact, that the policy expressly excluded such accidents."

A complaint such as this will never be uttered by the member of the Chicago Motor Club who has placed his insurance with the Inter-Insurance Exchange. The policy issued by the "exchange" considers sliding into a ditch a collision and the claims department handles it as such.

Another feature of the policy issued by the "exchange" is that it is the valued form which, in the event of total loss, pays the face value of the policy.

ELECTROLUX chosen for

At left—LONDON TERRACE as it will appear when fully completed—a small city in itself.

LONDON TERRACE—Illustration above shows London Terrace as it appears today. Note Hudson River in background. First units will be ready for May 1st occupancy. Development covers entire block between 23d and 24th Streets, Ninth and Tenth Avenues, New York City.

It's unlikely you'll ever be called on to select an automatic refrigerator for 1,669 apartments. But it's extremely likely you'll some day choose one automatic refrigerator for your own kitchen. When that time comes, it will be reassuring to know the basis upon which experts make their choice.

NEVER BEFORE has there been such an apartment house development as London Terrace. It is a city in itself. Upon completion it will cost $25,000,000. The building materials used in the various units would provide housing for a city of 25,000 people. If placed end on end, the 12 units of this immense development would be more than 210 stories high. The garden court will be as large as some city parks. There will be a swimming pool, gymnasium, restaurants—even a private police force.

Why Electrolux was chosen

In such a structure, every single item of equipment must be proved right before it is installed. On what basis, then, were the automatic refrigerators chosen? Let Mr. Victor C. Farrar, of Farrar & Watmough, the architects, tell you. He says:

"We are installing Electrolux Gas Refrigerators—1,669 of them—in London Terrace because of our satisfactory experience with them in other properties of the Henry Mandel Companies. The Lombardy apartment hotel, a Mandel development, was the first building of its kind in New York to be Electrolux-equipped. Since its completion in 1928, four other Mandel buildings have been equipped with this refrigerator. Our experience has proved Electrolux to be silent in operation, economical to use, and remarkably free from trouble. We know beyond a doubt that it will give the same satisfactory service in our latest project—London Terrace—largest in the world both as to number of apartments and number of refrigerators used."

It is interesting to note that the building owners, and not the tenants, will pay for the gas used in the Electrolux Refrigerators at London Terrace. The entire 1,669 refrigerators will be fed through ten giant meters. With such a myriad of refrigerators upon which to pay the operating cost, the owners had to be most careful to install the kind that would not only give entire satisfaction to tenants, but would cost the least to run.

Runs for a Few Cents a Day

And Electrolux is the one that costs least to operate. Right in your own home you can use this refrigerator for a few pennies a day. That low cost includes even the very largest models. It is possible because Electrolux works differently from other refrigerators. There is no machinery in it, no moving parts at all. A tiny gas flame and a tiny flow of water are the whole "works." They circulate the vital, cold-producing refrigerant that freezes the ice cubes and keeps the refrigerator constantly, steadily cold.

This operating method makes it possible to seal the refrigerant for life inside a rigid, one piece steel unit without openings of any kind. The refrigerant never needs renewal. Even the tiny gas flame is safeguarded. Should the flame ever go out, the gas shuts off automatically.

Permanently noiseless

But that isn't all. Electrolux is more than just economical and safe. It is absolutely silent as well. Silent not only when you buy it, but as long as you have it. It can't grow noisy with age. There is nothing to wear loose and vibrate as time goes on. You simply never hear this refrigerator at all. Even in a one-room apartment, it can't get on your nerves.

Costs no more to buy

Electrolux gives you all the advantages that have sold leading architects and builders on this refrigerator. Yet it costs you no more to buy, size for size, than other makes. $195 to $430, F. O. B. Evansville. Liberal purchase terms. Many models and sizes to choose from.

See them at nearest display room or fill in and mail coupon for complete information.

Bobashela Scores in Secondary Feature.

Mistep, the little red streak of the western turf, didn't fail his backers in the crowd of 15,000 at Washington Park yesterday when the Chicago racing season opened.

At the end of a furious drive in the six furlong Washington Park handicap, carrying a gross value of $4,750, Mistep's nose was bobbing in front of Brown Wisdom's. A length back came the flyer, My Dandy, teammate of Brown Wisdom, to take down third money.

Mistep has been a gallant horse on many occasions in Chicago. Last year in most heroic race came in the Washington handicap, when after being overlooked by his usual army of backers, who had been swayed by the past reputations of Sun Beau, Display, and other eastern stars, he came from behind and beat Display by a nose.

Mistep Second Choice.

From that day until yesterday Mistep was a solid favorite of his Chicago public. But he was making his first start of the year under colors and his public was skeptical. Mistep's admirers let the great record which Brown Wisdom and My Dandy rang up during the winter at Agua Caliente and this spring at Fairmount had influence them. The entry was the favorite at post time, and Misstep was the second choice. A late plunge made Pansy Walker, the Three D's stable filly, the third choice.

Mistep's followers gasped when he broke tardily in ninth position as starter Morrissey sent the field of 12 away. Camp Boss was the leader, My Dandy was flying along in second place, Mistep's stable mate, Morsel, was third, and Pansy Walker was running fifth.

Mistep did not begin to move up until they hit the head of the stretch. Johnny Hernandez brought him to the outside and gave the little red streak his head. He galloped on past 'one after another. A sixteenth from home only My Dandy was in front of him. No more rally and Misstep went on and let My Dandy. But as Misstep moved up to the Brown Wisdom, which also had raced from far back.

Red Streak Holds Own.

There came a desperate duel for the final sixteenth of a mile between Mistep and Brown Wisdom. Jockey Parke on Brown Wisdom was outriding Hernandez on Misstep. But Mistep would not surrender his lead. On his own courage he kept his nose in front until they had passed the line for the finish. In another stride Brown Wisdom had sailed past him.

Mistep's share of the purse was $3,616. He ran the six furlongs in 1:10 2/5. In the mutuel betting he paid $3.6 to win, $2.84 to place, and $4.86 to show. The entry paid $2.86 to place and $3.60 to show. Martie Flynn moved up in fourth place and Camp Nelson was fifth. High Foot, the Nash Brothers' 3 year old, ran right back to his Kentucky Derby form. He beat no horse and that was Morsel.

The cold weather failed in any way to interfere with the Washington Park opening ceremonies. The crowd was larger than at last year's opening. The favorites or well backed second choices were marching home in most of the races.

Bobashela Gallops Home.

No definite figures were announced as to the amount of money wagered through the mutuels, but Col. Matt J. Winn said it was $25,000 more than at the 1929 opening. "This is the best track in the country to show an increase in both paid attendance and money handled over last year," the Washington Park president said.

In the Western Avenue purse, Bobashela, carrying the purple and white jacket of the Audley farm stable of Virginia, made a show of his rivals. He was in front all the way and won by a length from Devon, a consistently performer. Canaan, a stable mate of Misstep, was third. Jockey Schuttinger had Bobashela out in front by four lengths most of the way, but had him up near the end or the finish would not have been nearly so close. Bobashela was an odds on favorite, paying $3.18.

DROP PLANS TO MATCH M'LARNIN WITH THOMPSON

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—Plans for a world's welterweight championship match in which Young Jack Thompson, recently crowned titleholder, would defend his honors against Jimmy McLarnin, coast challenger, under the direction of Madison Square Garden, have been abandoned, it was announced today by Matchmaker Tom Gallagher.

The indifference of Ray Alvis, manager of Thompson, to overtures made by the Garden was advanced as the reason for eliminating this title struggle from the proposed outdoor schedule. The match was sought as an attraction at the Yankee stadium in September.

Van Ryn, Doeg Keep Yankees' Record Clean

Washington, D. C., May 26.—(AP)—John Van Ryn of New Jersey and John Doeg of California today completed the conquest of Mexico's tennis invaders, their straight-set victories giving the United States Davis cup team an unblemished record in American zone competition.

Storming the net at every opportunity, Van Ryn defeated Ricardo Tapia, 20 year old ace of the Mexican contingent, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1. Doeg, the youngest American Davis cup netman, overwhelmed Frederick Sendel, 19 year old Mexican, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2, requiring but 35 minutes for his conquest.

Doeg did not leave the court after his match, but teamed with Ignacio de la Borbolla of the Mexican team, to play an exhibition set with Van Ryn and Manuel Llano, the Mexican captain. The latter team won, 6-3.

CLEVELAND GETS REVENGE ON SOX FOR LYONS' SKILL

Makes Hose Bite Dust, 7 to 3 and 5 to 2.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., May 26.—Ted Lyons was not available for pitching duty this afternoon so the White Sox put on a double flop for the edification of the citizens of Cleveland and Cuyahoga county. The score of the first was 7 to 3 and of the second 5 to 2.

There is to be another double header here tomorrow between the Sox and Indians, but unless the courage of Tommy Thomas can be buoyed to the point of using his swift one, there isn't much chance of summoning forth anybody of any considerable throwing talent.

Through the whole dismal afternoon, Chicago partisans derived but two items to take their minds off their estate. Both of these came in the second game.

Fans Joey Sewell Twice.

Pat Caraway struck out Joey Sewell the first two times he appeared at the plate. This is worthy of mention because Sewell holds all records for regulars who rarely strike out. In 1925 he struck out only four times in 154 games and he tied his record in 1929 in 154 games. According to Sewell and other observers of his career, he's never fanned twice in one game in his entire ten year major league career.

The other crumb of consolation was the fact that Smead Jolley made a homer, a double, and two singles in four times at bat.

Indians Hitless Until Fifth.

This contest was unusual in that the Indians went hitless against Red Faber until two were out in the fifth, then made eight hits in a row to score all their seven runs. And during the terrible session Jolley, though he was charged with no errors, put on one of the most grotesque exhibitions of fielding to be seen in the course of a season. The spectacle gave him a strong lead over Babe Herman and Earl Webb in the balloting to decide who is the most awkward fielder in the majors.

In the second Game Smead added to his lead over Herman and Webb by further quaint antics in the field, though he did not approach the ludicrous heights he achieved in the first encounter.

Jeffries threw out Hodapp and caught Falk's pop fly. Then Myatt sent a liner to right that even a fair outfielder could have caught with his teeth. But the thing handcuffed Jolley and was scored as the first hit off Faber.

Rain of Hits Follows.

Cissell made a heroic effort to get Burnett's hit toward right, but succeeded only in knocking it down, and Myatt took third. Ferrell singled to center, scoring Myatt, Burnett going to third. Morgan sent a high fly to right, and, although the sun wasn't shining, Jolley apparently lost sight of the ball. It went for a double, scoring Burnett and Ferrell. J. Sewell singled to right, scoring Morgan. Averill also singled, Sewell stopping at second. Sewell went to third on a passed ball.

Fonseca singled to center, scoring Sewell and putting Averill on third. Averill and Fonseca pulled a double steal, Averill scoring. Walsh relieved Faber. Hodapp, up the second time in the inning, sent a ball to right and it went for a double when it bounced past Jolley, scoring Fonseca. Falk then supplied his second and the Indians' third out of the inning by flying to Reynolds.

Blake Picks Sixth for His Blowup; Reds Beat Cubs, 6-2

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

McCarthy's Cub hurlers are versatile if nothing else. They can fall apart in one inning as easily as another. Yesterday Fred Sheriff Blake selected the sixth as the ideal round in which to stage the daily foldup and the Reds scored enough runs right there to assure themselves a 6 to 2 victory over the champions in the chilly opener of a four game series.

HACK WILSON.

The exact damage done to Blake, once he decided to let down the hot pace he had set for himself during the first five innings, was a cluster of five runs. The Sheriff, however, didn't deserve quite all this. He must answer for a homer by Harry Heilmann with two on and for a few hits, but it was no fault of his that Hornsby kicked a grounder about the premises or that English failed to come up with a ball which wasn't labeled a safety when it left the bat.

Hack Clouts No. 13.

The best and about the only thing that can be said for the Cub attack is that Hack Wilson exploded his thirteenth homer of the campaign and that Hornsby was the author of a pair of singles. It one of these immediately in advance of Hack's circuit tap that let the Cubs in for the only runs they were able to manufacture against the southpawing of pudgy Jakie May. This occurred in the fourth, at which time Blake was breezing along so impressively that it looked as if two runs would be ample for his purpose.

May gave only six hits to the team that has been known to do far better. It took the champions three innings before they could gather more than one of this half dozen. The one was a double planted near the right field flagpole by English with one out in the first. He received no assistance from either Hornsby or Wilson, but Hack's effort was caught so close to the bleacher in right that with a little help instead of hindrance from the wind it would have been good for the circuit.

May Recovers from Jolt.

The second hit off May was Hornsby's single to center as the opening incident in the fourth. Wilson stepped up, waited until the count became one and one, and then slapped the ball into the right field four bit territory for No. 13. These two smashes aroused hope that Mr. May was about to fade out, but instead he settled back to work and kept the base lines almost immaculate by yielding only three more hits. All these were widely scattered, thus preventing even the semblance of a rally on the part of the league titleholders.

These disappointing developments occurred despite an effort on McCarthy's part to shake the jinx pursuing him. He benched Lester Bell, who has been more or less hampered by a trick arm which prevents hurried fielding. The vacancy was leased to Clyde Beck. Along with this change the batting order was renovated. Beck took the leadoff rôle. English was dropped to second and Capt. Grimm from second to seventh. It proved the wrong combination. It may be tried again today behind the pitching of Hal Carlson. Bennie Frey is due for the Reds.

Pass Starts Blake's Rout.

Gagnon Matches Knuckles with Von Porat Tomorrow

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Jack Gagnon and Otto Von Porat will race each other to the punch tomorrow night when they meet in a ten round bout at the Stadium if their preparatory workouts are a criterion.

Neither is a boxer. Almost any fighter can give either lessons in defense. But, offense, that's another thing. Von Porat can hit. He's proven it time and again, and apparently he hits oftener and harder when he believes he's up against a second rater. This gives an idea of why Otto didn't whale Paulino in 1928.

K. O.'s Gagnon in the 4th.

And Otto bumped Jack Gagnon around the ring on their previous meeting a year ago February, winning by a knockout in the fourth round. Which, of course, bolsters the Norwegian's confidence for tomorrow night.

How about Gagnon? Chicago saw him a month ago chase Tuffy Griffith around the ring, absorbing left hand socks to the face and body without taking a step backward. All he wanted was to stand up to Tuffy and trade blows. This, Griffith didn't do, and by not doing it won the decision.

Von Porat and Gagnon should be different. He who lands first and hardest will win, fans say who have watched their workouts. And the Stadium officials say 15,000 will be present at the finish.

The Haakon Hansen-Vittorio Livan bout has been lengthened to eight rounds. Henry Lenard and Marty Fields will battle over a six round route. The remainder of the card has been revamped.

Jimmy Mendes, who came west with Gagnon, weighs 172 pounds. Bearcat Wright, his opponent, tips the scales at 240, so Wright has been taken off the program and Battling Redman, a South Bend, Ind., Negro, has been substituted. The bout is scheduled for six rounds.

Larry Johnson also has been dropped from the card through no fault of his. Ill luck pursued all his opponents. First Paul Swiderski sustained injuries in his fight against Mickey Walker at Louisville. Then Paul Cavalier was signed but he was injured last week.

Two Bouts Substituted.

Charley Belanger, who lost a close fight to Walker in Detroit last week, declined to meet Johnson.

Two six round battles will replace the Johnson fight. Buster Mellini of New Orleans will meet Henry Firpo of Newcastle, Pa. The other bout will be arraigned today, bringing the card to 42 rounds.

If Von Porat wins from Gagnon he will be party to the Stadium program on June 30. Paulino is mentioned as his opponent. The Stadium also plans a card for the week of June 9.

JONES' BIRDIES, EAGLE DEFEAT BRITISH MINER

Voigt, Johnston Also Win in Amateur Golf.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 26.—(AP)—Opening play of the British amateur golf championship today was marked by the spectacular golf of Bobby Jones and a hitherto unknown English youth, Sidney Roper, who learned his golf between shifts as a coal miner.

Against an avalanche of four birdies and an eagle during the first nine holes, which Jones shot in 33 strokes, Roper replied gamely with a string of nine fours, turning only two down, and he clung tenaciously to Bobby all the way to the sixteenth hole, where he was eliminated, 3 up and 2 to play.

Roper, entered from a municipal course at Nottingham, where he is the Nottinghamshire champion, did not even have a caddy who knew the course, a friend carrying his clubs for him, but he had the shots which brought praise from Jones after the match and hope in the hearts of British golfers as he poured his steady fire of fours against the American star.

Miner Never Falters.

Roper, dressed in an old coat and flannel trousers and wearing a slouch cap and ordinary street shoes with hobnails, never faltered against his famous opponent, and if the American open champion had played just a little less sensational golf, he might have been beaten.

Jones and Roper provided the thrills today while the other two American Walker cup players in action, Harrison R. Johnston and George Voigt, did the hard work.

Johnston never found the touch of the St. Andrews greens all day and he had to work hard for the two victories he needed to remain in the competition. The American amateur champion won his morning match from Bernard Darwin, 2 and 1, while in the second round in the afternoon, Major A. G. Barry, who was the champion 25 years ago, took him to the 18th green where "Jimmy" won, 1 up.

Irons Trouble Voigt.

George Voigt, in spite of trouble with his irons throughout his match, disposed of Edward Tipple, brilliant young English player, with a good putt at the 19th hole. Dormime at the 17th, the New Yorker lost the 18th and had to start again. The match was all square after nine holes.

Bobby Baugh, Alabama boy who captains the Oxford golf team, won his first round match, but was eliminated in the second round. Last year at Sandwich Baugh survived until the last sixteen.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

EITHER Illinois or Michigan has won every Big Ten outdoor track and field title since 1917, when Chicago carried away the championship. During that period no other college has been within ten points of the winner. This is an unusual state of affairs when one considers other branches of sport with so much greater equality of competition.

Casting about for reasons, The Wake arrives at no satisfactory conclusion. One may concede the known ability of Harry Gill and Steve Farrell as coaches, but there are other track tutors well known and skillful. Illinois and Michigan both have large enrollments. Yet if mere numbers determined the result, it might apply equally well in all other sports. Other state universities also have large enrollments.

Probably track and field events are stressed more at Champaign and Ann Arbor. Again, squads there are large. Both Gill and Farrell attach importance to well rounded out teams as well as stars. The Big Ten system of scoring points—5, 4, 3, 2, 1—favors large teams. Michigan scored in 11 of 16 events Saturday, Illinois in the same number. Perhaps that's partly the answer.

The Olympic congress is not unanimous on the extent to which women should compete in the world games. Uncle Sam's delegates wish no curtailment. In this country, and elsewhere, women take part in practically all sports, as well as share with sometimes debatable propriety in the tobacco and contraband once considered indulgences only for men. Certainly they have the right, if they wish, to take part in track and field games. What the effect on their nervous systems and future motherhood, we leave to the medical profession along with tobacco and liquor. Perhaps we're just plain old fashioned, but girls barelegged in running panties at a track meet never appealed to us as anything to raise our natural respect for womanhood.

Age, I claim, is a state of mind.

If my ambition's fires are dead,

If Love I hold;

No matter how my birthdays fly,
I am not old. A. W. Bivans.

AGREEMENT IS MADE PRIOR TO BIG TEN RULING

West Point Approves Chicago as Site.

BY ARCH WARD.

The ruling of Western conference faculty representatives barring games between Big Ten schools and West Point must wait until 1935 to become effective.

This was established yesterday when THE TRIBUNE learned that Illinois and the Army have arranged home and home football games for 1933 and 1934.

CARL LUNDGREN.

The faculty chiefs at their annual spring meeting last Saturday passed a resolution prohibiting contests with schools which do not observe the three year rule. This was interpreted as a slap at West Point, whose break with the Navy was occasioned by its refusal to adopt this restriction.

Meet Again in Autumn.

The ruling was to become operative as soon as existing contracts were completed. Last fall Illinois defeated the Cadets at Champaign. Next autumn the Illini are to invade New York for the second game of a two year contract. It was believed that the Big Ten's football relations with West Point would end there.

But only two days after the Big Ten action came word from both schools that they previously had entered into another two year contract. Conference officials said last night there probably would be no attempt to break up the agreement. Neither school, however, had announced the new contract.

Major Philip Fleming, director of athletics at West Point, last night said the Army and Illinois had completed arrangemnts several weeks ago for games in 1933 and 1934. His statement was confirmed by Carl Lundgren, Illinois athletic chief in the absence of George Huff, who is in Europe. The 1933 game, according to Lundgren, will be played at Champaign and the 1934 encounter in New York.

Army O. K.'s Chicago.

The Army would be willing to play the 1933 game in Chicago as a World's Fair football attraction. Major Fleming said the site was up to Illinois.

Another resolution passed by the faculty delegates Saturday would have to be violated for Illinois to move the game to Chicago. They voted to bar games betwen conference and non-conference schools on a neutral field when that field is within 100 miles of a Big Ten school. Soldiers' field, where the Army-Illinois game would be played if transferred to Chicago, is within 100 miles of the University of Chicago and Northwestern university.

The new contract with the Army not only has been passed upon by the Illinois athletic council but has been approved by the president and deans. No papers have been signed. West Point and Illinois had no written contract for the two year agreement which will be concluded with next season's contest. Illinois, Coach Lundgren said, frequently accepts games without signed documents. West Point, too, schedules some of its most important attractions without asking for signed contracts. The Notre Dame football battle is an example.

The Army was surprised by the Big Ten action. Neither Maj. Fleming nor Capt. Biff Jones, who has coached West Point football teams for 11 years, anticipates difficulty in filling their schedules, however.

Fleming Asks Hearing.

"I wish," said Maj. Fleming, "that the next time the Big Ten or any other athletic organization plans to discriminate against us that it would give us a hearing. We certainly are entitled to a chance to defend ourselves.

"I believe most of the men of prominence in the sports world who have had relations with us will accept the attitude of Knute Rockne of Notre Dame," Maj. Fleming concluded.

Rockne Saturday said that the Western conference ruling would not interrupt Notre Dame's contacts with the Army. In a statement to THE TRIBUNE he said that "Notre Dame in its long relations with the Army had come to respect the West Point standard of sportsmanship."

There is a possibility that the resolution passed in Evanston never may become effective. It first must be sanctioned by the athletic councils of the various Big Ten schools. If there is a dissenting vote, the matter must be brought up for discussion at the next meeting of the faculty group.

Tryban Elected Captain of Illini Baseball Team

Champaign, Ill., May 26.—[Special.]—R. E. Tryban of Duquoin tonight was elected captain of the University of Illinois baseball team for 1931. Tryban, a sophomore, played shortstop. J. A. Cave of La Grange was named captain of the track team. He is a hurdler and sprinter.

HARRY HAMPTON WINS PRO SENIOR CROWN WITH 76

17th Hole Recalls 1928 National Open.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Members of the Illinois Pro Seniors Golf association played a round yesterday over one of the most difficult, picturesque, and historic courses of the central states—the Olympia Fields No. 4. Harry Hampton of Beverly turned in a 76, but all the others were 80 or over, due largely to unsteady putting.

As Hampton sent a drive straight as a die down the seventeenth fairway Al Naylor of Idlewild remarked that "the kid should have done that." He referred to Roland Hancock a youngster from North Carolina who would have won the national open championship two years ago but for trouble on this hole and the one following.

Hancock, 22 years old at that time, had stood on the seventeenth tee in the final round three strokes ahead of Johnny Farrell and two ahead of Bobby Jones. It was here he hooked into the rough, blew up, and finished one down.

Hampton Straddles Ball.

Due to an unlucky break, Hampton ran into trouble on this same hole yesterday, but he didn't blow up. After his beautiful drive, his brassie shot came to rest between the roots of a tree to the left of the green. It seemed an absolutely unplayable lie but after experimenting with several stances, he straddled the ball as a center does on the gridiron, swung the niblick with his right hand alone and sent the ball between his legs onto the green. He was down in two putts for a five.

Another situation occurred on the last hole which recalled that historic national open. A ditch containing a trickle of water winds across the fairway ninety yards from the green. It was in this ditch that Bobby Jones' 291st shot had landed after he knew that Farrell was in with 294. Unless he could get up the hill and onto the green in one shot victory would be practically impossible and a tie highly improbable. He stood with one foot on the bank and the other in the ditch and pitched to the green.

Patterson Scores Deuce.

Jack Patterson of Midlothian found his ball in the heavy grass at the edge of that same ditch yesterday, though in not so difficult a lie. With a mashie niblick he sent it arching toward the green and it came to rest within eight feet of the cup. Jack made another noteworthy stroke on the thirteenth when he laid his tee shot beside the pin and sank his putt for a deuce. His total was 85.

Kildeer plans an event called the Flag tournament Friday together with the qualifying round for the Founders' cup. There will be sweepstakes Saturday.

The Lawsonia Country club at Green Lake, Wis., which has many Chicagoans among its members will hold its formal opening Friday.

TILDEN RETAINS LEAD; DEFEATS PHILLIPS, 9 TO 6

Tilden Tech maintained its lead in the central section of the City league yesterday by handing Wendell Phillips a 9 to 6 defeat. Ed Hulata held the Pershing road nine in check until the seventh, when he yielded two hits, which, coupled with errors by his mates, allowed three runs. He fanned seven Phillips batters and contributed a pair of hits including a double. Pistello, Kovarik, and Soucek led the Tech's hitting attack. Score:

Phillips	101	010	3—6	8	7

Batteries—King and Hart; Hulata and Kovarik.

HARRISON, 12; MARSHALL, 3.

Harrison took advantage of Pitcher Permatti's wildness yesterday to defeat Marshall, 12 to 3, at Mills' stadium. The victors scored six runs in the sixth inning. Eddie Odron held Marshall to six hits. Score:

Batteries—Odron and Wasco: Permatti and Barry.

WALLER, 5; SCHURZ, 4.

A third inning attack which netted five runs gave Waller a 5 to 4 victory over Schurz yesterday. Pitcher Schmidt, who held the losers to four hits, doubled with the bases loaded in the third. It was Waller's first victory in seven league starts. Score:

Helen and Big Bill Sweep Through French Net Matches

AUTEUIL, France, May 26.—(AP)—The American field in the French hard court tennis championships advanced without loss today along both the singles and doubles lines. Helen Wills Moody, Big Bill Tilden and Elizabeth Ryan had to work for their victories, while Wilbur Coen benefited by a default.

Both Mrs. Moody and Tilden in their singles engagements displayed sparkling tennis, although the caliber of the opposition was not such as they will meet later in the tournament. Their play did, however, give a record crowd of 5,000 fears or hopes—according to whether they were French or American—that the champions from overseas will be among those present when the finals in the men's and women's singles are disputed.

Helen Overwhelms Foe.

Mrs. Moody, now playing at top form, overwhelmed Adeline Neufeld, a young French player, 6-0, 6-0, in which only two games went to deuce. Tilden took the youthful German hope, Edmund Nourney, into camp with ease, 6-0, 6-1, 6-2, experimenting and practicing all sorts of strokes after winning the first set at love. Miss Ryan, the Californian, now living abroad, played her usual fine tennis, although the former French champion, Suzanne Deve, now playing as Madame Desloges, gave her a hard battle in the second set. Miss Ryan won, 6-2, 10-8.

Tilden and Fräulein Cilli Aussem, German miss, were the first pair to reach the semi-finals in the mixed doubles. Big Bill again played scintillating tennis, but as usual committed the fault of attempting to play a singles game while engaged in doubles. They were hard pressed to win the second set from Takeichi Harada and Madame Mathieu, 9-7, after winning the first, 6-3.

French Pair Wins.

France's old doubles standby's, Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, saved the men's doubles championship final from becoming an all-Australian affair, but were forced into five sets to achieve this result. Cochet and Brugnon beat E. F. Moon and J. Crawford, 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 5-7, 6-3. The other Australian pair, Hopman and Willard, whom the French meet in the men's final tomorrow, have shown the best brand of doubles play seen in France in many years. Their performance today in defeating Jean Borotra and Rene Debouzelet was considered the equal of that of Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn in the 1929 Davis cup victory.

Finishing in semi-darkness, Miss Ryan and Jean Borotra defeated Mlle. Jeanne Sigart of Belgium, and Jack Crawford of Australia, 10-8, 8-6, to reach the semi-finals of the mixed doubles, where they will meet the Tilden-Aussem combination.

GIANTS RECALL LESLIE.

Train Grazes Car Driven by Pete De Paolo

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26.—(AP)—Pete de Paolo, famous American-Italian race driver, narrowly escaped death under the wheels of a Big Four passenger train today as he was hurrying to the motor speedway in a car later qualified by Bill Cummings for the 500 mile race.

The racing champion of 1925 and 1927 was speeding in order to get the racer to the track before sundown for the trial Cummings was to make, and forgot to watch for the railroad crossing. Suddenly he heard the screech of a locomotive whistle, and just in time applied his brakes, spun about twice, and landed his mount in the ditch. The hood of the car missed the tender of the locomotive by inches.

Cummings Qualifies It.

The driver and the racing car were unharmed and the car was pulled from the ditch and driven onto the speedway, where Cummings, an Indianapolis boy fresh from the dirt tracks, whirled it about the course at 106.173 miles per hour to qualify it.

Both car and driver were new to the track. Cummings' time was the fourth fastest made in qualifying trials to date for the 1930 race.

24 Eligible to Start.

Melvin Kenealey, Los Angeles, and Jimmy Gleason, Philadelphia veteran, also qualified today, bringing the total number of eligible starters to 24. Kenealey's average was 103.327 miles an hour. Gleason averaged 103.709 miles an hour.

Gleason's mount was the same car in which Tommy Milton won the 500 mile race here in 1923.

Other drivers have Tuesday and Wednesday in which to qualify their cars.

BILLY GIBSON IS RULED MENTALLY INCOMPETENT

New York, May 26.—(AP)—A jury today declared William Gibson, boxing promoter and former manager of Gene Tunney, mentally incompetent to manage his affairs. The jury sat before Commissioner of Lunacy William F. Schneider. Friends said Gibson's trouble, which was diagnosed as general paresis, resulted from grief over the death of his wife, Florence H. Gibson, on Nov. 12, 1928. The promoter was not present at the examination because the physicians who have him under observation at Prague house, Beacon, believed the strain might aggravate his ailment. Alienists said there was a slight chance of recovery.

AMERICAN GIANTS BEAT NASHVILLE PLAYERS, 6 TO 3

The American Giants beat the Nashville Elites yesterday in the fourth game of their series by a score of 6 to 3. Austin, Nashville pitcher, was touched for seven hits in the first three innings, and was relieved by McCauley. McDonald pitched for the Giants. The same two teams play today.

Becker Gives 2 Recipes for Insect Oils

BY BOB BECKER.

The outdoorsman who makes many trips into the woods each summer and must combat insect pests with dopes and lotions will find that a small capped oilcan like that used for typewriters or bicycles is a mighty handy gadget for carrying a small amount of his favorite liquid dope.

We prefer the liquid anti-mosquito mixture to the thick ointment type of repellent. But carrying it in your pocket on a rough fishing trip is a risky thing because most of the stuff is usually put up in glass bottles which will stand but little punishment. By putting the dope in a metal oilcan you don't have to worry about it.

Here are several liquid mosquito dopes which can be made with heavy bases to prevent the volatile oils from evaporating. We have tried these mixtures and found them O. K. It will be noticed that they can be made up either with or without pine tar. To some people the odor of pine tar is very objectionable. There are others who cannot stand citronella. In the following recipes both can be left out and you can still get a strong repellent. The recipes follow:

1. Oil of pennyroyal, 1 ounce; spirits of camphor, 1 ounce; citronella, ½ ounce, and castor oil, 2 ounces. Castor oil is a good base. It keeps the more volatile oils from evaporating quickly. In place of the citronella you can add pine tar. Or you can leave both out and add a an ounce of oil of bergamot. We prefer to include pine tar in this mixture and use 1 ounce of it instead of the citronella.

2. This recipe is for the ladies. Have your druggist add enough genuine oil of lavendar flowers to either borated lanolin or olive oil to give it a strong odor and put it up in tubes.

NO RIVET!

Yes sir, that's the secret of Spalding Cushion-neck Irons. That's why Cushion-necks are the only Steel-shafted Irons that combine the advantages of the steel shaft with the sweet feel of the finest hickory!

YES, in Spalding Cushion-neck Irons, the rivet that has always been used to join the steel shaft to the steel head is out! In Cushion-necks, each shaft, before it is fitted into the hosel of the head, is enclosed in a cushioning sleeve of lively, shock-absorbing rubber. Then the hosel is crimped around the rubber so that no rivet is necessary, and so that no metal-to-metal contact exists.

And with the going of the rivet—with the going of all metal-to-metal contact—goes all vibration, all sour feel, and all objection to the steel shaft in irons.

With the going of the rivet, that great majority of golfers who now use steel-shafted woods, will find the same virtues in steel-shafted irons.

They'll find that the steel shaft, because it's lighter, puts greater swinging weight into the head where it aids controllability . . . that the steel shaft, because it's thinner, cuts through wind resistance with a sweeter whip . . . and that the steel shaft can't warp.

And only in Cushion-necks, will these virtues be found. For Spalding has the whole Cushion-neck principle—the whole idea of rivet-less Steel-shafted Irons thoroughly patented. No other club can achieve the same sweet feel without bringing a corps of fiery-eyed lawyers down upon them.

Try Cushion-necks. See for yourself why students of golf acclaim them as the greatest contribution the club-makers have ever made to the game. Get a trial set from your Professional as soon as you possibly can. Or get them at your Spalding Dealer's, or at the Spalding Store at 211 South State Street.

6 JOCKEYS HURT, HORSE DIES IN STEEPLECHASE

Casualties Mark Race at Belmont Park.

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—A casualty list of six injured jockeys and one horse killed marked the running of the Hyde Park steeplechase at Belmont Park today. Out of a field of fifteen starters only eight finished over the grueling test of two miles.

J. R. Albright and William Passmore were taken to a hospital in Jamaica and remained there. At the hospital tonight it was said neither rider was in a serious condition. The other riders were treated by an ambulance surgeon at the track and allowed to go to their homes.

The injured horse, which had to be destroyed on the course, was Walter J. Salmon's Cardigan, on which Albright had the mount. Jockey G. Breuning, riding Pink Lily, was forced to pull his horse up, leaving only eight to finish, with the Brookmead stable's Friar's McGee the winner.

The Salvator handicap was the feature of the day's program. Only three horses ran and the victory went to A. C. Schwartz' Sortie, one of the candidates for next Friday's Suburban handicap.

Sortie proved himself much the best of the trio. He whipped the Arden farm's Sun Edwin by two lengths, while Grey Coat, conqueror of Blue Larkspur, was six lengths farther back.

SENATORS BEAT YANKS FOR SIXTH STRAIGHT, 10-7

Goslin, Judge Hit 2 Home Runs Each.

New York, May 26.—(AP)—Paced by Goslin and Joe Judge, the Washington Senators stretched their winning streak to six games today as they pounded out a 10 to 7 victory over the New York Yankees. Goslin and Judge hit two home runs each, in the fourth and fifth innings, driving in six of the Senators' runs.

ATHLETICS, 8; RED SOX, 5.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 26.—(AP)—The Athletics raised their world's championship pennant today for the first time and then took the Boston Red Sox into camp, 8 to 5. Six Sox errors contributed to the A's victory. Lefty Grove went the distance for the champions, and aside from the seventh inning, when the visitors scored four runs, he had no trouble. It was Grove's sixth win of the year, against no defeats. Score:

600 Prep Trackmen Enter 26th Stagg Interscholastic

Future college stars will demonstrate their ability Friday and Saturday in the twenty-sixth annual Stagg track and field interscholastic at the University of Chicago. The entry list closed yesterday with 125 schools naming 602 men for the championships. Elimination of the academy division cut about 150 other preps from the total of other years, but the high school representation is as large as ever.

Stripp came through with a hard drive straight at English. Woody had his mind on a double play, and in his haste pulled up his hands too soon. The ball bounced off his foot and shot into left field for two bases, Sukeforth going home and Walker to third. Then Heilmann wrecked everything with his slam into the right field bleachers, adding enough runs to round out the total of five for the inning. Blake was banished without further ceremony, and Nelson managed to suppress the upheaval.

Reds Helpless for Five Innings.

Blake's form prior to the collapse can easily be figured from the fact that in the first five rounds he gave up only two hits. One of these was a double by Sukeforth with one out in the opener. The other was a two bagger by Heilmann to start the second.

The employment of a pinch hitter brought Bob Osborn to the mound in the eighth, and the Reds lost no time frisking him for their last run. They did this on one hit, Meusel delivered the blow—a double against the left field bricks—to start the inning. Ford's bunt moved him to third. Then Durocher sent a short fly to left. The Reds have been reading about the loss of Stephenson's throwing skill, so Meusel dashed for home immediately after the catch and made it with ease.

it could be called, in the seventh, when they made four of the five hits they got off Ferrell. Reynolds opened with a single and stopped at second on Shires' hit. They advanced on a passed ball, Jolley popped to Sewell, but Cissell tripled to right center, scoring Reynolds and Shires. He came in on Harris' single to left. Kamm flied to Morgan and Berg flied to Averill.

Here's how the second game went:

In the third the Comiskeys got across the first run of the game. After Lind had thrown out Jeffries, Reynolds singled to center. Shires fouled to J. Sewell, but Jolley got his second hit, in two innings, a double to right, Reynolds scoring. Cissell lined to Averill.

The Indians lost little time in tying the score in their half of the third. Lind doubled, went to third on Brown's sacrifice bunt, and scored on Morgan's single to left. J. Sewell fanned again and Averill also struck out.

Jones' Birdies, Eagles Beat British Coal Miner, 3 and 2

Cal., won his second round match, but a number of other Americans were removed from the competition, including Robert E. Hunter, G. Parker Toms, Hervey Bates Perrin, all of Los Angeles; John H. Forsman, New York; Joseph Caldwell, Rochester, N. Y., and Paul Azbill, American living in London.

Tolley, Torrance Win.

Cyril J. H. Tolley, British amateur champion, and T. A. Torrance, the only British Walker cup player to win a match in the last two years, survived today. Tolley after a hard match and Torrance under wraps.

George Von Elm, George Voigt, Don Moe, Dr. O. F. Willing, Roland MacKenzie and Francis Ouimet will play tomorrow while Jones and Johnston will rest.

Bobby Jones started his match today in fine warm weather but ended it in chilling winds sweeping from the sea. A crowd of 5,000 or more, making a record opening day gallery for St. Andrews, ran wild over the narrow fairways as the visiting open champion started his day's play by ramming home a 20 foot putt for a birdie three at the 365 yard first hole.

Jones sent his approach almost dead at the 356 yard hole for another birdie. At the fourth hole, his drive of 300 yards rolled into a trap. Standing waist deep in the bunker, he swung his mashie and sent the ball from loose sand into the cup 120 yards away for an eagle two.

Jones' Putter Sinks 'Em.

After seven holes had been played Jones had taken only ten putts, but he used six on the next two holes and ruined what would have been a new record for the outward nine at St. Andrews. He was out in 33 strokes, one more than he needed for his first nine of his record 68 in the first round of the 1927 open championship at St. Andrews.

Jones started home with two birdies in the first three holes, but Roper, never dismayed for an instant, kept plugging with his four at every hole. He never made a long putt and never missed a short one until the thirteenth, where he could have reduced Jones' lead had he made a holable putt. His card showed 15 fours and a lone five.

Bendix Now Enters Marine Field Via Merger.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Stocks on the Chicago board made moderate improvement in yesterday's trading. Motor shares, which have been performing in an indifferent manner for some time, pushed to the front in the day's business along with the utilities.

Bendix forged ahead to 44, but lost part of its gain before the close. Announcement was made yesterday by the corporation of the acquisition of the Charles Cory & Son corporation, manufacturers of marine equipment. The marine equipment firm was purchased outright and, by virtue of General Motors corporation's holdings in Bendix, marks the entrance of the automotive industry into the marine field. The company will be operated as a Bendix subsidiary.

Mo.-Kas. at 1930 High.

Borg Warner was somewhat easier, but apparently pretty well recovered from the adverse effects of the dividend reduction which was voted last week. Auburn spurted some 5 points on larger sales volume than the issue usually enjoys. With prospects of increased business for its subsidiary, General Spring Bumper, Houdaille Hershey "A" stock moved up over a point, while the "B" was quiet around 20.

Anticipating the detailed announcement of its development program which is expected to be made today, Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line was in good demand and advanced a fraction to a new 1930 high.

Announcement was made late last week of the closing of contracts by the company for the construction of a pipe line for bringing natural gas from Texas to Indiana and Illinois towns now served by the Illinois Light and Power company and other Insull units.

Commonwealth Edison advanced around six points and Middle West showed little change on the usual heavy trading. North American Light was higher on early trades, but finished unchanged.

Majestic Down 1½ Points.

In the fore part of the day Majestic Household gave promise of repeating its Saturday performance, but late in the session it lost all of its 4 point gain and closed 1½ under its previous price. The interest which has centered in the stock for days shifted to Grigsby-Grunow, which was the most heavily traded in stock on the board. Opening a fraction higher, the issue was strong all day and closed just under 25, with more than a point to its credit.

North American Car, with a gain of nearly 5 points, was the most conspicuous of the industrial stocks, which, on the whole, were little changed. About 1,800 shares of North American changed hands and the last price was an even 52.

With reports of increased business Swift International sold higher during the morning, but the close found the price unchanged from the previous session. Libby, McNeill showed mild strength and finished up a fraction.

AUTO BUSINESS AROUND NORMAL REVIEWS FIND

Industry Recovers from Ebb Point.

BY O. A. MATHER.

What's the use of moaning over the automobile industry? It's just grief wasted, for this big American industry is doing pretty well, judged by normal standards. Interesting data to this effect are presented by the Chicago Federal Reserve bank in its monthly review and in a study by Ernst & Ernst, accountants.

"Schedules of automobile manufacturers were further increased in April, the output of 374,606 passenger cars representing a gain of 12 per cent over March," the Chicago reserve bank says. "Production was 30 per cent less than the all time monthly record of April, 1929, but totaled 3 per cent more than for the corresponding month of 1928. April truck output of 67,459 increased 5 per cent over March and compared with 84,346 in the same month a year ago.

Sales on Upgrade.

"Sales of new cars in the middle west at wholesale and retail, as well as those of used cars, continued to gain in April, although the expansion over March was not so large as between February and March. The increase in the value of cars sold at retail was considerably greater than that in their number. Wholesale distributions in April again showed a decided loss from a year ago, but the decline in retail sales in the year to year comparison was noticeably smaller than in March. Stocks of both new and used cars continued to decline.

"By normal year is meant not the high record of 1929, which in many ways was unhealthily active because it brought an over-stimulation and the usual reaction, but the fairly normal years of 1928," it is explained. "Production of between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 passenger cars and trucks is the expectation for the motor industry in 1930. The estimates are considerably under the figure of 5,621,000 units produced last year and are approximately in line with the 1928 production of 4,601,000 units. The outlook for the American automotive industry over the next five year period as a whole seems bright."

Good April Showing.

It was just a month or two ago that a group of Chicagoans, headed by Patrick H. Joyce, John W. O'Leary, and Arthur Cutten, took control of the Chicago Great Western railroad. Something seems to have happened to the road's earnings since then, for in the face of generally discouraging April reports, the Chicago Great Western reported net income of $49,-[illegible], compared with a deficit of $59,-[illegible] a year ago. And for the four months this year net income was $[illegible], compared with a deficit of $[illegible] in the same period in 1929.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific also made a good showing with April net operating income of $1,646,-[illegible], compared with $1,366,228 a year ago. The Missouri Pacific had $1,474,-[illegible], against $1,392,511 a year ago.

Net operating income of the first twenty-five railroads reporting for April totaled $16,963,000, compared with $[illegible],782,000 a year ago, or a decline of 31½ per cent. Comparative figures for several of the larger systems follow: Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, $881,472, against $1,-[illegible],470; Chicago and North Western, $[illegible],000, against $1,496,297; Southern Pacific, $2,455,160, against $4,681,501; Northern Pacific, $215,296, against $1,-[illegible],433, and Great Northern, $136,059, against $1,578,297.

Industrial Diversity Boon to Chicago Area Workers

BY SCRUTATOR.

A rather restricted Chicago metropolitan area, stopping at the Wisconsin line on the north, taking in Lake county in Indiana on the southeast and including eight Illinois counties, is producing manufactured products valued at more than five billion dollars annually.

The 1927 census figures gave the total output of this district at 112 million dollars less than five billions. As 1927 was not so good a year as either 1928 or 1929, it is probably quite safe to raise the estimate for last year well above the latter amount.

Cook county was the leader, naturally. Its industrial production in 1927 was $3,844,401,346. Something over a billion dollars was the contribution of the industries in one Indiana county and of Lake, McHenry, Boone, Winnebago, Kane, Will, and Du Page counties, in Illinois. Another approach to the statistics shows that fully 30 per cent of the manufacturing activity of this metropolitan area is carried on outside the political boundaries of Chicago.

Share Same Advantages.

The percentage would grow even larger with the inclusion of more of Indiana properly belonging in Chicagoland and sharing in the same advantages of location, and of the rich manufacturing cities in southern Wisconsin. In South Bend are important automobile and accessory plants and large agricultural implement making. Kenosha and Racine, to go no farther in the Badger state, have large interests in automobile and machinery making and knit goods. A true metropolitan area, which in the case of Chicago, should extend for sixty to seventy-five or even more miles, would leave the city itself perhaps 60 per cent of the salable output.

Few attempts have been made to segregate statistics for natural spheres like this one. Census makers talk always of states or of their subdivisions as a matter of habit and because it has never been agreed with any degree of accuracy just what a metropolitan district is. As an instance, Lake county, Indiana, in which Gary is located, made 684 million dollars' worth of goods in 1927 and Kane county, Illinois, eighty-three million dollars' worth. Cicero, credited with 129 millions, is for all practical purposes a part of Chicago.

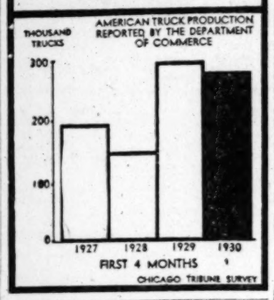
Again having recourse to 1927 census figures, 372,000 wage earners in the city alone were paid a little less than 600 million dollars. The true metropolitan area would support about 625,000 wage earners and give them about a billion dollars for a year's work. Only one comparable area in this country, the one surrounding New York, can show as good a record. And the same geographical factors that make Chicago the greatest inland trade center in the world make New York the greatest seaside center.

Cites Classifications.

Outstanding among the industries in Chicago itself is meat packing, with 557 million dollars output two years ago. Second comes printing and publishing, which in all its branches had a production valued at 296 millions. Bread and bakery products, men's and boys' clothing, electrical machinery and supplies, foundry and machine shops, iron and steel each ran well over a hundred millions a year. There are scores of industrial classifications which produce more than ten million dollars each per year.

Such diversity of work makes for stability of employment. It has been noted frequently in the past six months that conditions were especially bad in areas dominated by one industry and more favorable in those resembling this widespread Chicago.

TRUCK PRODUCTION IS ALMOST AT LAST YEAR'S PEAK LEVEL



PACKERS' CONSENT DECREE REPORT IS ASKED BY SENATE

Washington, D. C., May 26.—(AP)—The senate directed Attorney General Mitchell today to report on enforcement of the packers' consent decree since March 19, 1928, with information of packers' efforts to have the decree modified and the justice department's attitude toward modification.

The resolution, by Senator Black [Dem., Ala.], was adopted without objection after he declared that the attorney general is "now leaving the case to be fought out by grocers' associations."

Senator McNary [Rep., Wash.] withdrew objection after Black said that a letter from the attorney general commenting on the situation, was not sufficient. McNary introduced the letter several days ago.

The Black resolution says Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. are "making efforts to destroy" the decree of 1920 by which packers consented to a restriction of their business activities.

Expect Decision Today on Northern Rail Merger

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 26.—The stand of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways on the question of the merger of the two lines without the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, as approved by the interstate commerce commission, is expected to be decided at a meeting of the depositary committee to be held tomorrow afternoon at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Recommendations of this committee doubtless will be followed, since 70 per cent of the stock of the two Northerns has been deposited with the committee under the merger plan.

Since the interstate commerce commission announced tentative approval of the merger on Feb. 11 officials of the roads and members of the depositary committee have been engaged in a study of the conditions laid down, the principal one of which requires that the Northerns relinquish control of the Burlington.

Committee Members.

Members of the depositary committee who will decide the acceptance or rejection of the plan are George F. Baker, Arthur Curtiss James, J. P. Morgan, and Louis W. Hill.

The problem of separating the Burlington control from the Northerns and still providing for the entrance of the merged lines to Chicago was capable of solution. However, numerous other difficulties lately have arisen. The Couzens resolution passed by the senate and now pending in the house would halt all rail mergers until March 4, 1931. This measure has found support from state representatives in the northwest, and other matters have come up which have discouraged the efforts to unite the roads.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific, confirmed the fact that the depositary committee would meet tomorrow, but declined to comment in advance on the outcome of the conference. Mr. Donnelly said he saw little gain in general business in the territory served by the road at present with traffic still below last year, but that the outlook for the grain crop presented the possibility of gains later on.

Scandrett's Viewpoint.

F. E. Williamson, president of the Burlington, also declined to comment on the future of his road in consolidation.

H. A. Scandrett, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific, stated that he saw no need to consolidate any railroads in the western part of the country and that he found little or no sentiment in favor of rail mergers in the territory served by the St. Paul. Mr. Scandrett declined to comment specifically on the proposed merger of the Northerns.

New York, May 26.—Interest continued at a low ebb on the stock exchange today. Brokers were able to tell the folks at home tonight that the market had made a fresh advance, but none of them had any great cause for feeling particularly chipper about it. It was just about another one of "those days."

Most of the leading shares moved ahead a point or two and the usual half dozen or so "playboys" of the list tossed and tumbled about a bit, some of them scoring sharp rises and others going off the deep end. But there wasn't a real, honest-to-goodness feature to the whole day's proceedings.

Trading was at a leisurely pace throughout, the turnover totaling 2,246,580 shares. Final prices were not the best, and minus signs were plentiful and generously distributed, but the general trend was unmistakably toward better levels.

Money Easy.

Money was as easy as ever and news as scarce. The official call rate held at 3 per cent—partly due to fears lest an official 2½ per cent rate would cause extensive withdrawal of out of town bank funds on deposit here, although accommodations were

Court Orders Universal Wireless to Show Books

Wilmington Del., May 26.—(AP)—An order directing the Universal Wireless Communications company to produce before the court June 9 its books and records was signed today by Judge Morris in U. S. District. Recently the court entered a permanent injunction against the company, enjoining it from infringing upon certain patents in the construction and operation of wireless stations. The injunction was obtained by the Radio Corporation of America and the American Telegraph and Telephone company.

Survey Notes Continuous Gain in Cigaret Sales

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 26.—Continued upward trend in sales of cigarets thus far in 1930 indicates that this branch of the tobacco industry is relatively invulnerable to depression. Consumption has maintained this stride and full year 1930 sales will probably surpass 130 billion cigarets, a gain of around 10 per cent, compared with the 1929 records, says a current survey of the Standard Statistics company. On the other hand, the saturation point of cigar smoking has definitely been reached.

BIG COMPANIES REPORT GAIN IN STOCKHOLDERS

The number of stockholders in the big American corporations now is larger than ever before, according to Frazier, Jelke & Co. The American Telephone and Telegraph company stands first with about 490,000 stockholders, while Cities Service probably ranks second with approximately 359,000.

"From a technical standpoint the biggest thing which the price adjustment has accomplished is a wider diffusion of corporate ownership," says the survey. "Many big blocks of margin-held common stocks have been broken up and the number of stockholders never was so large as at present.

"Montgomery Ward had 11,773 common stockholders on Aug. 4, just one month prior to the peak of the stock market advance. On May 7, 1930, the company's shareholders' list had increased to approximately 51,250 names. General Motors on Feb. 15, 1930, had 218,392 common stockholders, or 100,-625 more than on Aug. 17, 1929. United Gas Improvement in the summer of 1929 had 28,004 shareholders, compared with 68,500 at the end of the year. United States Steel's list gained from 110,166 at the end of the third quarter of 1929 to 124,069 at the end of the first quarter of 1930. Pennsylvania railroad had 206,470 holders of record on April 30."

NEW PREFERRED SETUP OF G. M. C. GETS APPROVAL

Wilmington, Del., May 26.—(AP)—Stockholders of General Motors corporation at a special meeting today approved a plan to simplify its preferred stock issues by the exchange of new five per cent preferred for the issues of 6 and 7 per cent preferred now outstanding.

There is to be a new class of preferred stock without par value, to consist of 6,000,000 authorized shares. This will permit flexibility in series which may vary in respect of rate of dividends and price of redemption as fixed by the board of directors.

However, 1,875,366 shares constituting the $5 series are to be offered at present in exchange for the outstanding preferred shares on the following basis: 1.35 shares of the new $5 preferred for each share of outstanding 7 per cent preferred; 1.10 shares of the new $5 preferred for each share of outstanding 6 per cent preferred; 1.15 shares of the new $5 preferred for each share of 6 per cent debenture stock.

FOREIGN FACTORS HELP PUSH UP WHEAT PRICES

Finish Shows Net Gains of 1 7-8@2 7-8c.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Claims of deterioration in the American and foreign wheat crop outlook, estimates on the prospective Italian harvest showing a reduction of from 40,000,000 to 60,000,000 bu, as compared with last year, with a marked improvement in the foreign demand for North American wheat resulted in decreased pressure on the market yesterday. With houses having eastern connections free buyers, prices advanced to the best figures since April 19 for the July delivery here, touching $1.08¾@1.08⅝. The finish was well toward the top with net gains of 1⅞@2¼c with May leading. The latter closed at $1.07, and July, $1.08@1.08⅛.

Decreasing supplies in Liverpool, with the total now 80,000 bu less than last year, was largely responsible for an upturn of 1⅝@1¾d in that market, which has some effect in North America. Clearances from the latter for the week aggregated 9,126,000 bu, which was also a factor.

Frequent mention was made in private reports of Hessian fly damage in Nebraska, with talk of small heads forming in the Kansas wheat fields. In the southwestern counties of the latter state thousands of acreage were said to be plowed up owing to the fact that the crop had not recovered from the effect of the early drought, despite recent rains.

Visible Supply Decreasing

The trade had the impression that part of the buying through eastern houses was for a large professional operator, but there was a noticeable increase in the outside trade with some houses reporting investment buying. Selling against offer and on the disappointing decrease in the visible supply checked the upturn. The visible decreased 3,811,000 bu for the week, making the total 118,435,000 bu against 98,393,000 bu last year. Minneapolis and other outside markets failed to fully reflect the advance in Chicago with Minneapolis July going to around 1½c under Chicago compared with a premium a short while ago.

Export sales of over 1,000,000 bu were reported in all positions, the bulk of it being Manitoba, and including business done Saturday that was not previously given out. The United Kingdom and Italy were the leading buyers. Seeding of spring grains is Russia is progressingly slowly, according to official returns, although that country offered two cargoes to Italy during the day.

Short Covering in Corn.

Strength in wheat and cool weather over the belt led many local shorts to take the buying side of corn. Offerings were not large and prices advanced 1⅛@1⅜c over Saturday's finish, with the bulge checked by selling against offers. Final trades were at net gains of 1⅜@1⅝c, with May 79c and July 80⅜@80¾c. A decrease of 2,222,000 bu in the visible supply attracted attention, the total being down to 11,762,000 bu, against 16,596,000 bu last year. Receipts of 318 cars were in line with trade expectations, with the basis steady to ½c lower. Country offerings were generally held somewhat above buyers' views. Weather conditions over the belt were favorable for the completion of planting, and some replanting is under way in parts of Illinois and Indiana.

Cash houses bought May oats on the breaks and offset to some extent liquidation by scattered longs. Final trades were at net gains of ⅝@½c, May being 41⅝@41½c and July 40c. A decrease of 793,000 bu was shown in the visible supply for the week.

Commission houses bought rye on a small scale and the close was 1½@2¼c higher with July at 63½c, and September 67½c.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Large traders in Chicago and the east were credited with heavy buying of July and September wheat in Chicago yesterday, scaring in other shorts and weakening the technical position. Fundamentally a number of large traders regard their position as more favorable, based on crop prospects. There are a number of local operators, however, who cling to the belief that there will be a good sized winter wheat crop and that the market should be sold on all bulges from the present level.

A bid of $1.25 for "offers" on 100,000 bu of May wheat, good this week, was made to a number of traders yesterday without being accepted. The inference drawn from this was that the buyer expected that with 10,210,000 bu of May wheat open, there is a possibility of a "squeeze" by Saturday.

Wheat stocks in Chicago are 15,565,000 bu, or 2,500,000 bu more than last year. At one time the totals were up around 23,000,000 bu. Expectations are that there will be continued heavy reductions of stocks here and in the visible supply for the next thirty days at least.

REPORTS 75 PCT. OF GRAIN FLEET NOW IN ACTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., May 26.—Canada Steamship Lines, largest Canadian company carrying grain on the great lakes, announced here today that more than 75 per cent of its grain fleet has been put into action. During the past week orders have been issued from day to day for the immediate fitting out of both upper lake and lower lake tonnage until now there is more activity than at any time since the eastward flow of grain slumped last summer.

This represents a substantial expansion in the company's operations. Only a week or so ago the company was operating less than fifty per cent of its fleet. An improvement in the wheat situation, and prospects of a gradual and steady increase in the grain business on the lakes, has caused the action which is regarded as the most encouraging marine news since the opening of navigation this year. In its official statement, the company says:

"This move on the part of the company is of particular significance as it has been the policy of the company since the early spring to fit out ships only when business was immediately in sight, in this way avoiding the experience of last summer when ships were idle for weeks."

NATURAL GAS
The Most Profitable Utility

EFFICIENT fuel, scarce in the Southwest since its history began, is on the way. A territory larger than many a European country will soon have Natural Gas. No wonder the old timers, who have seen their cities grow without adequate fuel at reasonable costs, are predicting a future growth out of all proportion to the past.

Just as it took courage to travel the Santa Fe Trail in the old days, so has it taken foresight and initiative to bring Natural Gas to the Southwest; but as the traffic of the prairie schooners brought profits to their owners, so do SOUTHERN UNION investments bring a steady income and an opportunity for profit, from pipe lines which today serve many thriving towns and cities of this section and will soon reach Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: 7,000 cattle, 31,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep.

The largest shipping orders for hogs since last March offset the increase in receipts yesterday and the market was back strong in midsession after a little lower opening. The extreme top and general average prices were unchanged at $10.40 and $10.05, respectively, better quality helping to hold average costs of droves in line with Saturday.

Small packers, city butchers and shippers were the principal buyers. Packers obtained 11,000. The three big packers bought only 3,300 head, but had nearly 20,000 directs from other points. About 7,000 were left at the close. Five markets expect 75,000 tomorrow, against 70,000 last Tuesday.

Hog Futures Firm.

Hog futures held firm yesterday in face of increased receipts on the cash trade. One load of May light sold at $10.40 and a load of June mediums reached $10.25.

September mediums carried bids of $10.15 and buyers were willing to pay $10.30 for heavy grades for next September delivery. Light packing grades for next month were bid $9.00 and for July $9.30. Heavy packing grades for June delivery were bid $8.50.

Cattle receipts at 21,000 proved too much for the trade yesterday and prices lost 25@40c of last week's gains, but are still above the recent low spot. Prime 1,361 lb steers topped the market at $13.75, while $13.25 was paid for 1,299@1,350 lb averages and $12.10 obtained the best yearlings.

Butcher stock declined 15@25c, but were not as slow to sell. Calves held steady in face of the loss in other grades of cattle. Stockers and feeders were scarce and steady.

Lambs Sharply Higher.

Additional gains of 25c were scored in good lamb prices yesterday, while some springers advanced 50c on short supplies. Choice native spring lambs to packers reached $12.50, while most good shorn lambs sold at $9.75@10.35, with the top kinds up to $10.50. The few aged sheep available cashed at strong prices, some handy weight ewes selling up to $6.00. Feeding and breeding stock held steady.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 31,000 hogs and 11,000 sheep, against 9,616 cattle, 21,695 hogs and 10,656 sheep, the previous Tuesday and 8,794 cattle, 28,260 hogs and 14,349 sheep a year ago.

REDEMPTION ON GOLD BASIS FOR ISSUE ASSURED

PARIS, May 26.—(AP)—Subscribers to reparations bonds today received assurance of the officials of the bank of international settlements and their reparation bankers that redemption of the bonds always will be upon a gold basis.

The treasury officials and bankers of the nine countries in which the German war settlement issues will be distributed reached agreement whereby the gold basis of redemption will prevail even if money in the countries involved depreciates.

Agreement also was reached upon many points concerning the issue. It is now thought that the formal offering to the public can be made next week. The present sessions of the bankers are expected to continue through tomorrow, after which their decisions will be turned over to the committee of jurists who will pass on their legality.

The price of the issue will not officially be made public until the end of next week.

to be had for the asking, outside the exchange for 2½ per cent.

Some of the rails exhibited energy on the rebound, a sale of Pere Marquette being put through at a rise of nearly 9 points. The leading issues of the group, however, wound up generally lower, some of them selling off after a show of strength in the early dealings.

Oils Do Better.

Public utilities were higher in the main, with Consolidated Gas and others of the Morgan group out in front. Peoples Gas was the star performer of this department, hopping up more than 11 points on a small turnover. Electric Power and Light, Water Works and other favorites of the group moved forward to the edification of their followers.

Oil stocks did a little better, Standard of New Jersey, as usual, showing the way. The coppers were able to hold their own. Market letters, or such of them as commented on the situation in the industry, agreed that the majority of copper producers can realize a moderate volume of profit from business done on the basis of the present 13 cent price.

Radio Rumors.

Half-hearted efforts were made to start something in Radio at varying intervals on rumors that some goods bearing on the company's future might be expected to come out of Washington in the next day or two. The move didn't get very far. Just what the anticipated development might be remained a mystery—to the rank and file at least.

Trading itself it rather difficult to cover their commitments in some directions when this was attempted. The manner which a number of popular trading favorite behaved was indicative of the fact that that floating supply had been pretty well whittled away as a result of the quiet buying which absorbed offerings coming into the market over the last few weeks. This was particularly evident in the case of Johns-Manville, which rose sharply on a light turnover, and in National Cash Register and Gillette Safety Razor, which among others had been favorite targets of the bears for a while back.

Dunhill International.

Please review Dunhill International, now selling around 33 and paying 4 per cent and a stock extra.—W. A. W.

Dunhill International, Inc., was organized under Delaware laws in October, 1923, as a holding corporation, by D. A. Schulte and associates to acquire controlling interest in the Dunhill pipe and tobacco companies in Europe and the United States.

Last year's earnings were somewhat lower than those reported for 1928, which was the company's best year so far. Sales have shown a downward trend in general during the last five years, but profits from 1923 to 1928 showed an increase each year.

Net profit last year was $772,565, equal to $5.46 per share on the 141,585 shares outstanding at the close of the year. After cash dividends amounting to $658,539, there was a surplus for the year of $114,026, excluding provision for stock dividends valued at $89,629.

The annual dividend rate has been $4 since July 15, 1927. In addition, 1 per cent stock dividends are being paid quarterly.

EXCHANGE RULE HITS OPERATION OF TRUST POOLS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 26.—A ruling designed to prevent investment trusts from supporting their own stocks by pool operation was made today by the committee on stock list of the New York Stock exchange and approved by the governing board. The rule provides that investment trusts will not be allowed to trade in their own stock except "under exceptional and special circumstances."

It was decided that whenever such transactions are made the committee shall be informed, so that it may determine whether the amount of listed stock shall be reduced by the amount so purchased.

This new ruling will be added to the list of agreements to which investment trusts must subscribe before their securities will be admitted to trading on the stock market. It was adopted after a study on the part of the committee of questions arising from the right of corporations generally to trade, under certain restrictions, in their own stock.

PATHE HOLDERS OF PREFERRED STOCK ORGANIZE

New York, May 26.—Holders of 8 per cent preferred stock in the Pathe Exchange, Inc., have organized a protective committeee, asserting they are entitled to elect eight directors at the annual meeting postponed to June 9.

The committee says the company's failure to pay quarterly dividends on the 8 per cent preferred for eight consecutive quarters gives the holders of this stock the right to elect a majority of the board of directors to be named at the annual meeting. This is understood to mean that the committee seeks to place at least eight members of the new directorate.

The committee has issued the following statement to the holders of the 8 per cent preferred stock:

"At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pathe Exchange, Inc., called for April 29 and adjourned to June 9, Joseph B. Kennedy, then president, described the condition and prospects as highly unsatisfactory and stated that unless sufficient funds were procured by the board of directors to carry out an adequate production and distribution program immediately he would promptly resign as president of the corporation."

The resignation being subsequently announced, the committee requested proxies to carry out plans to act in accordance with the provisions of the charter in connection with the payment of preferred stock dividends.

CO-OPS PAY FOR COTTON; 575,000 BALES TAKEN UP

It is estimated that the coöp associations operating in the cotton markets have paid for 575,000 bales of cotton bought on the New York and New Orleans exchanges and that they have large holdings of July contracts on which they expect to take delivery. In Chicago deliveries during this month were 3,300 bales, presumably for the account of the coöps, who are also credited with liberal holdings of July. Trading in May cotton ceased Saturday.

These large holdings have little effect on the market for new crop deliveries. Trading in all deliveries was light yesterday and the range of prices narrow. Liverpool was weaker and closed 4 to 13 points net lower, with spot sales 2,000 bales. Weather over the greater part of the belt was favorable and so was the forecast. At the close July cotton in Chicago was 11 points lower and other futures 1 to 4 points higher. In New Orleans, May lost 4 points and July 9 points, with other futures 2 points higher to 3 points lower. In New York July lost 6 points and other deliveries were unchanged to 5 points lower at the close.

Port receipts from Aug. 1, 1929, to May 23, 1930, aggregate 7,951,403 bales, against 8,847 bales last year. Exports for the season aggregate 6,434,034 bales, against 7,614,595 bales last year. Prices follow:

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston, on her way to Paris, meets Geoffrey Macadam in the Havre train. Macadam is an Englishman who lives in Paris. Catherine tells him that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is a little apprehensive about the coming visit because she had received just before sailing a letter from Miss Cushing who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer who tells Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs, but he doesn't know that she were very well. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris Catherine is a little mystified when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey puts her into a taxi, giving her his address and telephone number. He tells her that he is going to know how things are at the Bender apartment and she promises to call him. Arriving at Mme. Bender's apartment, she is treated coldly by the servants and finds Mme. Bender's maid, suggests that she go to a hotel. Catherine insists on staying at the apartment, as she is suspicious of the servants. Jeanne tells her that Mme. Bender had tried to commit suicide the night before. The next morning Catherine goes in to see Mme. Bender, who is pathetically glad to see her. She tells Catherine how she had been driven to it by mistake.

Geoffrey invites Catherine to dine with him and it is a relief for her to get out of the apartment and to tell him of her vague fears. He is disturbed, too. Geoffrey escorts Catherine back to the apartment. The door is locked, but Geoffrey arouses Eduardo, who says that Miss West had come in long before.

On the next morning Catherine calls on Miss Cushing, who takes her to her milliner. There she sees a man she has noticed hanging around the Bender apartment. Back in the gallery she finds the gallery open for the first time and she goes in only to discover that a number of pictures and tapestries missing. She asks Jeanne about them and the latter says they were sold shortly before Mr. Bender's death. Catherine feels she is lying when she says Eduardo are thieves. She finds Jeanne is exerting a baneful influence over Mme. Bender. Jeanne denounces Catherine to the invalid.

Geoffrey takes Catherine out to dinner and she unburdens herself to him. He has decided to act as investigator on the case. When he takes her back to the Bender apartment he takes her in his arms as he says good night. Catherine responds to his kiss. He starts to worry him, but she wants time to be certain of her feelings. On her way home she hears Germaine sobbing and goes to her.

INSTALLMENT I.

THE SPIDER'S WEB.

"I was so unhappy, lying here. . . . I couldn't bear it any longer. I lighted the candles and prayed I might get some relief from the pain . . ." and Germaine touched her heart, while a spasm of suffering crossed her features.

"But why are you unhappy, Germaine? Won't you try to tell me?" Catherine, afraid to speak the words.

It was the old story. Jeanne had distilled the poisonous suggestion into her credulous mind until there was no removing it. It was almost frightfully cruel.

"Germaine," said Catherine firmly yet with an attempt at lightness, "all this is sheer nonsense. Listen to me, dear. Every one has friends—rich as well as poor ones. It is Jeanne who has made you think this evil thing—and is it possible you don't realize why?"

The girl's face expressed nothing but bewilderment.

"Jeanne! I don't understand. Why should she?"

"Surely because she is jealous. She hates the thought of any other sharing your affection. It has been plain to me from the beginning.

"I ought to do it—I know I ought," she whispered indistinctly.

"Don't blame her, but it is so. She is jealous of any one who she thinks may come between you and her. Can't you see that?"

"But can this possibly be true?" faltered the poor woman in amazement. "I'm sure of it. Think for a moment. Who are your friends? Tell me the names."

"Not many," muttered the invalid after a moment. "Some are dead. There was, of course, Madeleine de Bréart . . . ."

"The Comtesse de Bréart is in Africa, with her husband. She has been there for many months. Surely you know that."

Then it was plain to see that Germaine did not know.

"A number of people have called to inquire about you, but you were not considered well enough to see them. They left cards and sometimes flowers. There was the Baronne de Grèves and Mme. Strakosch." She mentioned the names at random, shamelessly, bent only upon uprooting the fixed idea which was exciting so much mischief.

A malevolent joy flamed up in the starved eyes.

"They came? You mean this? And I never knew! Or if I did I have forgotten it," she added, pushing her hair off her forehead with a confused gesture.

"Of course! You see?" cried the young girl triumphantly. "Now you will never get such ideas into your head again." She waited a moment, then, growing bolder, continued, "And then there is Hermione. You forget that she cares for you very deeply, more, perhaps, than any one."

A shadow hovered over the sensitive face.

"Lili . . . do you think she does?"

"I swear it. For that matter, how is it possible you can doubt her devotion after all these years, with nothing to go upon except the angry words of a servant?"

As she said this she shook inwardly, afraid that she had gone too far. However, the abashed expression on her companion's features assured her that she was right to take a firm line.

"You must not reproach me," murmured the Frenchwoman, fidgetting. "Indeed she did urge me to make my will, you know."

"And why not?" interrupted Catherine quickly. "She meant no harm. Every one makes a will. Even I, with my tiny bit of property, made my own after my father died. It is the only sensible thing to do." Here she paused to allow the commonsense of this to sink into Germaine's mind.

"I ought to do it—I know I ought," she whispered indistinctly, as if arguing with herself. "Only feeling as I do about myself I dare not. My mercy . . . Ah, what was that?" she started, trembling afresh. "Did you hear a noise?"

Listening, Catherine caught the sound of a door closing. It was Jeanne returning. Simultaneously the invalid's eyes dilated with nervous dread.

"Go—go!" she urged, pushing the girl away with both hands. "She must not find you here. Quick, I beg of you. I shall pretend to be asleep."

Catherine sprang up, put out the lamp, and slipped into the passage, closing the door behind her. She heard the maid's brisk steps approach and enter the room she had just quitted. She waited till all was silent, then made her way back in the darkness to her own side of the apartment, strongly affected by the recent scene.

She took off her hat and began to unfasten the sleeves of her frock. Then, glancing down, she saw that the lilies-of-the-valley which had been pinned into the opening in front were gone. A little pang shot through her. Where could she have dropped them? They had been in place a little while before she recalled their fragrance during the moments when she had leaned against the post at the top of the stairs. That meant they had fallen off either in the passage or in Germaine's room.

Anxiously oppressed by apprehension, she retraced her steps cautiously all the way to the distant bedroom, feeling the carpet every inch of the way. But the flowers were not there. She had certainly lost them in her cousin's room, where they would remain till the maid discovered them, silent evidence of her presence there.

Would the incident lead to further trouble? It had been only too plain now that Germaine was afraid of what Jeanne would say if she knew she had been talking to her guest. Well, the damage was done now, there was no help for it.

Then she was in her comfortable bed, her body weary, but her mind active. All the events of the day crowded before her, a series of vivid pictures. Lunch at Ledoyen's, the drive in the country, the moonlight on the Seine, the hectic interior of the cabaret, seething with rouged faces and half-naked bodies. Then, like a flash, she saw before her the babyish staring face of the little grisette who had sat beside her, heard again in her ear the high, shrill falsetto as it described with its odd note of loathing the spider, silent and baneful, in the center of its web. A shudder ran through her. Blom was right. Why did her thoughts keep dwelling on him like this, always with a sense of shrinking fear? Geoffrey was right, there was no sense in it whatever. Yet it was true, she could not get the little, insignificant figure out of her mind. Now, when he occurred to her, she would connect him with that fine, weaving a web in which to entangle a helpless, paralyzed fly. O, it was altogether absurd!

And there rose before her the vision of Mme. Bender's hunted, frightened face looking over the edge of the chair, as she had crouched on the floor beneath the crucifix with its burning candles. . . . Those candles were dangerous, close to the bed curtains like that. They should be taken away. . . . But with a little luck now, everything would be altered. She would see Jeanne, the Gorgon, and have the field to herself. What had the doctor meant by the way? She longed to find out. A sudden fear assailed her that Jeanne had been too clever for him, had talked him over and persuaded him that he did not need to go away. O, if one could only know the truth!

Then, she was tormenting herself again! No wonder Geoffrey laughed at her. All the same—and the warm thought flooded her mind—he loved her. What an amazing surprise! He loved her. She must think of that, cling to it, to dispel all these other intangible fancies. It did not much matter what her own feelings towards him were. Enough that he had held her close in his arms and kissed her as she wanted to be kissed.

Urge Change in Laws on Naturalization.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Protest failed yesterday to delay indorsement at the Union Ministers' meeting, of the Griffin bill that would permit naturalization of persons unwilling to bear arms to defend the United States.

The protest was voiced at the meeting held at the Central Y. M. C. A. The Rev. Frank D. Burhans, pastor of Trinity Congregational church, 6232 Eberhart avenue, made the protest.

The Rev. Mr. Burhans stated that he favored such a law, but he felt that it was too complicated for the ministers to give it blanket indorsement, without thorough study. He also expressed doubt as to the right of the meeting to commit the entire group to a position with which it was not completely familiar.

"It is in just such hasty actions that, as ministers, we frequently make ourselves ridiculous," he said.

The indorsement of the Griffin bill was adopted by an indifferent vote with the "ayes" slightly in the majority. It was pointed out that the bill, sponsored by Representative Andrew J. Griffin [Dem., N. Y.], was produced because of the refusal of Judge Warren B. Burrows of the United States District court to admit Prof. Douglas Clyde MacIntosh to American citizenship because he refused to take an oath to bear arms. Prof. MacIntosh is the professor of theology in Yale Divinity school, New Haven, Conn. The case was reviewed by a federal court of appeals in New York last week.

Friends of the Griffin bill declare that its purpose is to "harmonize our naturalization practice with the Kellogg pact outlawing war as an instrument of national policy. The resolution of indorsement was presented to the ministers' meeting by the Rev. Norman B. Barr, the Rev. C. E. Paulus and the Rev. E. B. Allen.

There are few atheists in America because Americans are not religious enough, according to Dr. Edward A. Steiner, Grinnell college, Iowa, as he discussed the "present religious crisis" before the Union Ministers' meeting. Dr. Steiner talked about the religious situation in Russia, and declared that the tide of atheism in that country has risen because of the intensely religious nature of those people.

The Grinnell professor stated his belief that the Russian people had been betrayed by their church and that now that church was receiving its just due. He declared that American Christianity also is rapidly loosing ground because of its commercialism, and that it, too, would get its due.

"The American people will get the kind of religion they deserve," Dr. Steiner continued. "The church is fast losing its grip, mainly because its leaders have fallen before the attacks of commercialism. We have developed a god of size and wealth and the temples of the commercial god are skyscrapers that look down with disinterested disdain on deserted houses of worship."

Chicago High School Boy Will Phone Vera Cruz

Arrangements were completed yesterday for Harold Huffsteter, Lindblom High school senior, to address the high school boys of Vera Cruz, Mex., by long distance telephone on Memorial day. Huffsteter was Rotary club scholarship winner during Boys' week.

The Rotary clubs of Chicago and of Vera Cruz have made arrangement with the telephone company for a system of loud speakers to be installed at Vera Cruz so that Huffsteter may be heard by all of the more than two thousand boys.

He will speak both in English and in Spanish discussing Chicago and inviting the boys to participate in the World's Fair.

Allows Chicago Catholics to Eat Meat on 2 Fridays

Dispensation to eat meat on two Fridays of this year has been granted to Chicago Roman Catholics by Cardinal Mundelein. The special Friday are Memorial day and July 4th. Msgr. Maquire, chancellor of the archdiocese, said the dispensation, which is unique in the Catholic church in America, was given in order that hard ship would not be caused to the holiday picnickers.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Will you dye your hair when it begins to turn gray?

The Answers.

Miss Ann Bolling, 5639 North Talman avenue, stenographer—I hope not. I don't think people look natural with dyed hair. Many young women bleach their hair, but it doesn't look well. One usually can detect the difference. Sometimes it isn't in harmony with the complexion.

William F. Wenslaff, 2639 West 21st street, maintenance man—Men don't dye their hair. If they say they do, either don't believe it or don't tell on him. I'm for leaving it to nature, whether bald pate or gray hair. We already have heard too much about bleached blondes, red heads, brunettes, and so on. And how they do look!

Miss Martha Fjellander, 5449 North St. Louis avenue, stenographer—No. I will make the most of my gray hair, or whatever the color may be. I will wear clothes corresponding with my age and personality. Then I won't have to worry about my hair.

Ralph Bartlet, Evanston (Ill.) garage automobile mechanic—Mine is turning gray now, but I am certainly not wasting any time thinking about dyeing it. I have other things of more importance to worry about. For that matter, it is a beautiful thing to see an elderly person crowned with a head of flowing gray hair.

Miss Lillian Wood, 1482 Wrigley building, clerk—Indeed not. I consider that gray hair lends to one an air of charm and dignity. If one were always to have the work done by experts, so that the artistry of nature were imitated so skillfully that the deception could not be noticed, there might be, for some, an excuse for it.

BEG YOUR PARDON.

Gotham Hails the Kindred of La Fayette

Tricolor 106 Years Old Used in Parade.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—This city was host today to kinsmen of the Marquis de la Fayette of revolutionary war fame. They arrived on the new French line motorship La Fayette on its first voyage. There was a noisy harbor salute to the gaily decorated liner and a parade up Broadway through ticker tape showers, climaxed by an official reception at city hall.

The distinguished guests left tonight for Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson.

The Marquis Jacques de Dampierre, whose great-grandmother was related by marriage to Gen. La Fayette, accompanied by his two sons and daughter-in-law, were taken aboard the city's welcoming boat, Macom, at quarantine. Grover A. Whalen, official greeter, delayed the parade to city hall by failing to appear. The ride up Broadway finally was accomplished without the benefit of Mr Whalen.

The fluttering tricolors today were the same as those which decorated the horse drawn carriage that conveyed La Fayette to a reception at city hall 106 years ago, when the immortal patriot came to join hands with Washington. There were fifty members of the Monticello guard from Charlottesville, Va., in colonial soldier uniforms in the parade.

Count Henri de Dampierre, a captain in the French army; the Countess Henri de Dampierre, and a younger son, Vicomte Armand de Dampierre, took part in the reception with their father. The marquis cleared up the question of whether Gen. John J. Pershing, chief of the American army, did, at the tomb of La Fayette on July 4, 1917, actually utter the words, "La Fayette, we are here."

"I was there," said the marquis, "and the historic phrase was made by Gen. Pershing but the words were spoken by his aid, Col. Stanton, who read the address."

The new 23,050 ton motor liner described as "a French boat by birth but an American by adoption like the man she is named after," caused considerable comment from visitors. The vessel has four great Diesel motors developing 18,500 horsepower, is 615 feet long and can do 20 knots.

Veteran, 99, Talks of Sherman's March, Atlanta to the Sea

A 99 year old war veteran related yesterday how he carried the flag with Sherman on the march from Atlanta, Ga., to the sea. He spoke at the Memorial celebration of a group of continuation school students. He was ex-Judge Frederick W. Seymour, 614 South 8th avenue, Maywood.

Mr. Seymour, who is still erect and hearty, enlisted in 1862 at Racine in the 22d Wisconsin Volunteers. He was the principal speaker at the Bell Telephone Continuation school, 311 West Washington street, before students and guests from Commercial, Hoyne and Winchell continuation schools.

At the close of the program, Andrew Erhardt, past commander of the Bell Telephone post of the American Legion, assisted by Gertrude Reuter and Martin Schultz, honor students at the Bell school, presented an American flag to Mr. Seymour for his civil war service. He is a member of the G. A. R.

Rear Admiral Walter S. Crosley, commandant of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, announced last night that the public is invited to attend memorial services there next Friday morning. A service for navy men who died on land will be held at 8:30 a. m. at the station cemetery, followed by a service for men who perished at sea. In a decorated boat, nurses will be taken away from shore, strewing wreaths upon the waters as the chaplain pronounces a prayer and "Taps" are sounded. Wreaths also will be strewn from airplanes.

When the big parade goes down Michigan avenue on Friday, the veterans from the Edward Hines Jr. hospital, Great Lakes hospital, and North Chicago hospital will be there to see it. They will be taken in 150 automobiles and later will attend a dinner given at 5 o'clock by A. J. Cermak, president of the county board, at the Medinah temple, Cass and Ohio streets.

The British Silver band of twenty-four pieces will make its first appearance in the Memorial parade this year. Capt. T. T. Gilroy, M. C., will head a group of 150 veterans who will follow the band. The place of formation will be at Erie street, east of Michigan avenue.

The Bohemian national cemetery will hold its Memorial celebration again this year. The parade will start from the grounds of the Bohemian Old Peoples' Home and Orphanage, 5061 North Crawford avenue, at 9:30 a. m., and will move to the monument of the veterans of the civil war in the cemetery. The celebration will take place there, attended by members of the veterans of the Spanish-American war, American Legion, Czechoslovak Legion, and other Bohemian organizations.

THE STAGE

THE Philadelphia "civic" production of the "Lysistrata" of Aristophanes, a classic Greek comedy, is promised to Chicago next season by the Messrs. Shubert. A contract has been signed with the Philadelphia sponsors of this enterprise for engagements in other cities. There is a possibility that the direction of the Chicago engagement may be turned over to the Dramatic league.

The text of this play represents a translation by Gilbert Seldes. The Theater Guild also has a "Lysistrata" on its prospectus for next season, which is a modernization by Maurice Donnay, a brilliant French author. The ancient comedy is no novelty to Chicago, for a Russian version was given at the Great Northern in 1926 by the light opera wing of the Moscow Art theater.

"Nancy's Private Affair" will not leave Chicago when its engagement at the Erlanger theater ends next Saturday night. It will follow the example of Charlotte Greenwood in "Mebbe" and will move into the South Michigan avenue sector of the playgoing district, replacing "Your Uncle Dudley" at the Playhouse. Contracts to this effect were signed yesterday afternoon.

Incidentally, there are changes in the "Nancy" cast to be recorded. John A. Willarde, leading man of the neighborhood stock company at the Kedzie theater, is assuming Stanly Ridge's rôle—the friend of the family. The part of the gold-digger's avaricious mother, played by Beatrice Terry when the piece opened, is now in the hands of Ruth Gates.

At the seventeenth annual meeting of the Actors' Equity association, held in New York yesterday, a plan was approved under which "agents" and "personal representatives" of actors will be controlled. They must be licensed by "Equity" before obtaining employment for any of its members. "Agents'" fees were fixed at not more than 5 per cent of the client's salary for ten weeks, and "personal representatives" cannot collect more than 10 per cent for the duration of their clients' contracts.

Frank Gillmore was reelected president. John Emerson, an ex-president, was made honorary president. Arthur Byron replaced Ethel Barrymore as first vice president. Florence Reed succeeded Berton Churchill as second vice president.

Mr. Gillmore referred to "Equity's" unsuccessful attempt to extend its organization to the motion picture industry by stating that "the fight has not been abandoned."

The Dramatic League of Chicago is fertile of anouncements these days. Its latest bulletin proclaims that its next subscription season will have the sanction of a committee of patrons and patronesses who "give their names and good will in the expressed belief that the Dramatic league is performing a fine service; that it adds to the esthetic accomplishments of the community; and that its continued success will serve to give to the city an asset of appeal and interest to the world-at-large for the great Fair of 1933."

Here is the membership of the committee: Mrs. Walter Borden, Rufus C. Dawes, Harold E. Foreman, Robert Maynard Hutchins, Roy D. Keehn, Weymouth Kirkland, Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, Silas H. Strawn, Walter A. Strong, Barrett Wendell, and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr.

"Candle Light," at the Princess theater, announces a special matinée for Memorial day. Donald Brian is now acting the rôle originated by Reginald Owen in this comedy—but don't forget that Eugenie Leontovich, the laughing Russian, is still the star.

The acquisition of the new Wilson theater in Detroit, Mich., is announced by Erianger Amusement Company, Inc., which will take possession of the house at once. The theater, which was opened in December, 1923, was originally leased and managed by the late B. C. Whitney.

Two plays and a musical comedy are announced for production next season by Lew Leslie, following the première of the second edition of the Negro revue called "Blackbirds," which is now scheduled for September. The musical show is "Blue Skies," with a book by Nat N. Dorfman and Mr. Leslie, and lyrics and music by Dorothy Fields and Jimmy McHugh. The plays, according to the producer, will be "Park Avenue," a comedy by Joseph Ruby, and "God's Country," adapted from the German of Rudolph Fischer.

Fritzi Scheff, recently of "Mlle. Modiste," will return to Chicago next Saturday on the vaudeville program at the Palace Theater. She will lead a revue called "Songs and Steps of 1930."

Poppies Today Recall Rifles' Flashes of 1917

Public to Aid Legion in Helping Ailing Veterans.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

While gold star mothers decorate the graves of soldier sons in "Flander's field where poppies grow, between the crosses, row on row," red poppies will be blooming, too, in America, today.

The flowers will be seen on the coat lapels of Chicagoans who remember. Thousands of them will be worn by loop business men, stenographers, clerks, by housewives doing their daily marketing, by laborers toiling in the streets, by the boys who marched home again from war. Thousands will be worn by boys and girls born since the world war, who have had passed to them the tradition of "carrying on" for the boys who came back to hospitals.

Today is Poppy day conducted annually by the American Legion. The receipts of the sales is the only medium through which the service work of the Legion is financed, and is the only aid many world war veterans receive. The paper poppies, fashioned by the hand of sick soldiers, will be on sale everywhere in Chicago and suburbs by volunteer workers for the Legion.

The collections made on Poppy day maintain the state headquarters at 160 North La Salle street, where a service department is maintained for the convenience of honorably discharged veterans of the civil, Spanish-American, and world wars. The poppy fund also is used for relief work handled through that office and in coöperation with individual Legion posts. As to the state Legion office, there claims, employment, legal aid, assistance, and relief to families of ex-service men are handled. Since the first of last October, the department announced, about $400,000 for claims were received for disabled veterans and for their families.

Since last October, the report stated further, the headquarters furnished meals and lodging to 3,068 men who were temporarily stranded in Chicago. The employment service handled 9,809 cases and obtained 184 permanent jobs, 346 temporary jobs, and 6,996 part time jobs. In addition the department and the American Legion auxiliary bought 4,000 sweaters for men in Illinois hospitals at Christmas time.

In commemoration of the birthday of the revolutionary patriot, Patrick Henry, the Chicago Historical society has on display this week a letter written in his own hand.

The letter, written while Henry was governor of Virginia, was addressed to Col. John Todd Jr., advising him of his appointment as a county lieutenant in the new Illinois territory won by the expedition of George Rogers Clark.

Patrick Henry, immortal in American history for his words, "I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death," was born on May 29, 1736.

The letter in the collection of the historical society displays his keen perception to the civil and military difficulties attendant on settlement of the new territory.

Benefit Given for Theater Organ Players

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Feeling with what would seem to be some degree of justification that the lot of those who play organs in theaters has not been an altogether roseate one during the last several months, the Chicago Society of Theater Organists gave a concert last night at Kimball hall for the benefit of those of their number who have been having the least agreeable time of it.

Several organizations and individuals contributed their services. Arthur Dunham and Edward Eigenschenck were guest organists; Mu Iota chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon sorority was represented by Lola Fletcher, soprano, and its president, Evelyn Goetz, pianist, and Mary Esther Winslow, accompanist, and the Chicago Society of Theater Organists presented Louis Webb, organist, and Harry Zimmerman and Leonard Smith, pianists.

The program was made up of solos and ensemble numbers. Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" was played by Miss Goetz at the piano and Mr. Webb with an arrangement of the orchestral score at the organ. Mr. Zimmermann and Mr. Smith appeared at two pianos in a paraphrase, not entirely happily written, by Edouard Schuett on Chopin's Valse in C sharp minor and the always attractive "Espana," by Chabrier. In both of these appearances the accuracy of the ensemble playing was both striking and commendable.

Solos followed. Mr. Eigenschenck played organ numbers by Gigout, Widor, Russell, and Bossi; Miss Fletcher sang a group by Cimara, Buzzi-Peccia, Mednikoff, and La Forge; Mr. Dunham, the veteran of the group in point of years of service at the console, played Bach and Widor. At the end Mr. Webb gave a demonstration of what was termed symphonic jazz.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Amateurly dyed hair may cause a startling change in the appearance, as many a fair one has discovered to her sorrow.

Dyed eyebrows can bring you up with just as much of a start. An acquaintance was persuaded by a zealous beauty parlor attendant to have her blonde lashes touched up. Incidentally, is there a place on earth like a beauty parlor to which a woman should go more fortified with courage to say "No" at the right moment? The things a weak willed one can be persuaded into having done to herself in the transient sort of beauty place are amazing. I know because my spine relaxes as easily as the next fellow's under good sales talk pressure.

The friend with the dyed eyebrows was a sight. She said a holy sight, but there was a question about that. The color was wrong and it was laid on too heavily.

One can have eyebrows tinted as cleverly as one can have hair done. But you have to put yourself into experienced hands for either performance, to have it successful. And, of course, there are brows so light as to be insipid in character, which isn't right, where character abounds. Experimenting had better be done with an eyebrow pencil—not with actual dyestuff—until the exact shade is determined for becomingness and facial expression.

With the eyebrow pencil, too, it's the light hand and deft touch that crowns the job with distinction.

One good thing about departments where cosmetic items are sold is that you can bring your eyebrows there and have them "fitted" to color. And eyebrow pencil colors are branching out along with the varieties we can get in cheek tints and lip colorings. However, practice a bit before a public appearance is made, not only for the color, but for the improved line you can lend the eyebrow with a smart manipulation of the pencil.

A trick that will lend a healthy gloss to the eyebrow hairs is to rub a bit of vaseline ever so lightly over them. You don't want them to sodden with grease — just a faint glistening.

Jewish Nursery Lauded for Work by Various Speakers

James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic candidate for United States senator, was the principal speaker yesterday at a dinner which closed the Festival of Nations, which has been in progress for a week at the Congress hotel for the benefit of the Infants' Home and Day Nursery at 2754 Hirsch street.

"The generosity of the Jewish people of Chicago in making this children's home possible," Mr. Lewis said, "sets a noble example of energy and patriotism."

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Glazed Carrots.

Glazed carrots make a handsome garnish or an agreeable vegetable served by themselves, or when mashed they make an excellent foundation for soup. They are well worth having on hand when one is getting up a meal to correct a cream soup if it chances not to be quite right, or even a vegetable soup made with meat.

Wash and scrape and slice a bunch of carrots into a medium saucepan with a cover. Slice two small onions and add them to the carrots, with about a tablespoon of finely chopped green pepper, a tablespoon of sugar, less or more according to taste; a tablespoon of butter, or two tablespoons, and a half cup of cold water. Cover closely and cook over a tiny bit of fire for fifteen or twenty minutes. Instead of the pepper chipped mint can be used, and if the carrots are to be served as a garnish for green peas, as they may be, it is a good plan to use the mint. We can vary the sugar and the butter a good deal, according to taste, but if we do not use enough butter we will not have the glaze that we should have when the vegetables are cooked and the water has evaporated.

If we are in pursuit of a diet that will correct anemia, we need surely to include the carrot in our list of daily vegetables, because anemia means mineral starvation, and the minerals in the carrot are so valuable. Creamed carrot pulp is more agreeable than any one who holds the old-fashioned ideas about the flavor of carrot would guess. To prepare, wash and scrape the carrots, put them through the food chopper using a fine knife; season the pulp with salt and moisten it with cream. Heat it in the double boiler until it is quite hot, put it in a baking dish, casserole, or individual ramekins, cover with buttered crumbs, and brown in the oven. This is truly a prize recipe.

Art Institute Mardi Gras Rehearsed; Starts Saturday

Dress rehearsal for the annual Mardi Gras ball was held at the Art institute yesterday, with girl students exhibiting costumes of their own designing. The costumes this year are to be American in design and will represent every period from the sunbonnets and ginghams of the Puritans to the long trailing gowns of 1930. The Mardis Gras will be held Saturday, June 7, in the main dining room of the Drake hotel from 9 p. m. to 3 a. m. The affair is open to the public, who may appear either in dress clothes or costume.

Screen "Philo Vance" Here on His Way to Europe

He had time, however, to impart the information that he is on his way to Europe for a vacation and expects to meet Ernest Torrence and Ronald Colman there for an automobile tour.

Here's a Briton Who Captures Only Beauties

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Ackermann galleries have opened a delightful exhibition of paintings and drawings by Vivian Guy. Capt. Guy he is, to give him his due, and an Englishman. He combines a great many careers in his roving life, and not the least of them is that of explorer. He is not the customary explorer. Rather is he the searcher of new places where beauty and wonder and color and strange marvels are to be found.

Soldier, artist, writer, and traveler, Capt. Guy studied art in London, Paris, and Rome, exhibiting later in Rome and Paris and on this side of the Atlantic in Washington and New York. He served with the British army from 1914 to 1918. Four years later he accompanied the Prince of Wales on his tour of India, and this expedition gave him material for many colorful and romantic and spectacular paintings.

Last summer Capt. Guy took to himself a little roadster and went through the United States from New York to Hollywood with his paint brush like a fine tooth comb, getting everything we have of the beautiful and strange into his sketchbook. The present exhibition is a practical record of his trip. There is an Iowa farm; then we are near Winslow, Ariz., then Taos, N. M.; then near Cody, Wyo. With a long swoop back, we find Niagara, and in the next breath an Indian girl, a Taos Indian. Yellowstone park and its inimitable geysers.

Yellowstone park was a fertile playground for the artist's talent. These water colors are delightful. The colors blend into each other like molten bands of some mystical variegated putty. They put one in mind a little of the Chapman water colors recently seen at the Art institute. They have the same infinite variety of beauty and the same pungent, mellow coloring. They are rather mystical. The varying of mood and tempo and atmosphere is one of the painter's characteristics. Capt. Guy feels strongly that every place has its own message and character and should be interpreted individually.

His oil paintings of Chicago possess strength and beauty of a different fiber. The buildings tower like ribs of steel, dressed for the moment in stone. It is more the inspiration of Chicago than its actuality that the painter is after. He succeeds well in interpreting its future. On two thing does this English artist base art, two fundamentals—color and drawing. His own work shows him the master of both.

"B. O." lost her many an admirer until—

"I—I hope you'll come again," she said. But she knew he wouldn't. She could feel he had lost interest in her, just as other men had.

Yet last night, when they met for the first time, he had seemed instantly attracted—eager to call. Why had this evening been a failure? Why had he turned so cool and distant?

Now she knows the reason—knows why she couldn't hold admirers—why she had no intimate girl friends. Today all is different. Lonely unhappy days are over since she learned a truth about herself that everyone else knew. Let her tell you.

"One day I was having tea with the wife of our doctor. She told me something that changed my whole life. She warned me about 'B.O.'—body odor!

"It was a terrible shock to learn that I was guilty. But now I can see how even the most particular person may offend—and not know it!

"Our pores are continually giving off odor-causing waste—as much as a quart daily. But—as always happens—our senses become deadened to an ever-present odor. That's why we don't notice 'B.O.' in ourselves—only in others.

"Yet no one need ever offend. Just wash and bathe with Lifebuoy. Try it a week and you will understand why millions use no other toilet soap. Lifebuoy makes you feel so gloriously clean—so fresh—so safe. It deep-cleanses pores—ends all trace of 'B.O.'"

Want a good complexion?

There's no better beauty treatment to be found than regular cleansing with Lifebuoy. Its gentle, yet searching lather, frees tiny pores of clogged impurities—brings back fresh healthy radiance to dull sallow skins. Its pleasant extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

Here's New Reason for Razzing Mate Before Friends

BY DORIS BLAKE.

If women nag their husbands before friends, it may be there is a reason. One who doesn't nag nor belittle her mate before outsiders because of the bad taste of it has an idea, however, why wives are driven into the practice. When company is present is the only time it is possible for the woman to get her man in a position for attack.

There are men, as "Injured" shows, who are perfect behaviorists on parade before people, but who turn into unreasonable monsters the moment their feet hit the home porch. These men are often heard referred to as ideal husbands by their business and social acquaintances. The wives suffer no end over the remark: "You are one lucky woman to have a man like that."

From the speaker's viewpoint it looks like luck, but out of earshot and eye view of business and social acquaintances what the wife has to contend with is a man suddenly deprived of speech. A grunt is substituted for the gracious reply lent outsiders. A growl is not infrequently heard within the home walls. All the charming social graces of speech and gesture evaporate with the man's entry upon the strictly domestic scene.

If women, then, retaliate with a few cutting remarks before people, perhaps they're driven to it. Their outraged senses urge a showing up of the fellow in his true light. It's the safest place to explode. When company is about the man's trained social consciousness would restrain an arm that might be capable of swinging on a woman did she attempt to call him down privately. It's cowardly, rotten taste and all that for the woman to take advantage of a public moment to exploit her wrongs—but it is the only way open to a number of them. "Injured" contends.

The above is a side of the problem that never occurred to us before. Perhaps there is something to it. Personally, observation forces us to believe, however, that nagging a mate in public is more often than not the letting off of steam generated by a naturally mean female disposition.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

If large or small hailstones start pelting certain cornfields this summer in Madison, Monroe, Champaign, McDonough, Knox, and Henry counties in Illinois those farmers who have taken out hail insurance will rely on their mutual company to cover the damage.

A statement from the Illinois Agricultural association reveals that 341 policies for nearly a half million dollars have been issued, although the growing season is not yet far advanced. Crops covered include wheat, oats, barley, corn, and soy beans.

Damage is computed on the so-called "per cent" basis, so that if a 20 acre cornfield insured for $1,000 suffers a 90 per cent damage, the insured farmer is to receive $900. Appraisers are sent out to estimate losses and confer with the policyholder.

Private companies also insure crops for similar damages. The practice is said to be growing in all midwest farming sections. Rain insurance is another phase of protection from which the hail insurance has grown.

By BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS. — [Special Correspondence.] —Almost every woman has in her wardrobe somewhere a frock that is too good to throw or give away, and yet it lacks that freshness necessary to fashion.

If you have a plain tailored dress that is wilting away, Paris is showing accessories in ensembles that will give it a new lease on your love of pretty clothes.

One of these accessories is sketched and it will give you a working idea of the effectiveness of such details. This set of accessories is made chiefly of pink handkerchief linen, but any cotton fabric may be substituted. There are collar, cuffs and band of tucked handkerchief linen. The band buttons down the front of the blouse and is easily removed for washing. The collar and cuffs are tacked on. Over the frock Paris puts a short, straight jacket of handkerchief linen, with tucked borders to match the collar and cuffs. This jacket is unlined and may be laundered with the greatest facility.

The hat shown in our sketch has a crown of straw and a brim of pink handkerchief linen that is starched to hold its shape and tucked around the edge to match the other accessories. The brim is buttoned on under the removable band at the base of the crown, so it may be removed with ease.

There is a large handkerchief of handkerchief linen that is one of the smartest and most popular accessories in Paris this summer, and Paris makes these handkerchiefs almost a yard square, so you may mop your perspiring brow many times without exhausting it.

by Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A book on the care of babies by Miss Carolyn Conant Van Blarcom, a noted authority on the subject, can be had at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 65 cents.

How many grown men and women who were brought up under the régime of stern discipline, just punishments, etc., have done a complete right-about-face when it came to rearing children of their own? An intuitive understanding of human nature, some independent thinking, and perhaps ideas garnered in reading, have set them on the humane and creative track in child guidance.

When anyone can put the two systems side by side as eloquently as the writer of the following letter I step aside and let her do it. It merely happened that in this case my articles were the factor which influenced this mother to work along new lines.

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I would like to express my appreciation of your helpful column. It has done more than any one thing in showing me the proper attitude towards my children.

"I was brought up under a régime of stern discipline, always fair and just, but basically antagonistic. It meant a watchfulness on the part of my parents for undesirable traits that might appear and an intense will to eradicate them. With such a viewpoint, a parent—and I speak of an intelligent, conscientious parent — is tackling an impossible task and making it so hard for themselves and their children.

"I have read your column for three years. My oldest baby is a little boy of 2 and the younger a girl of 1. They are such darlings! The little boy is adapting himself easily to the household with only a light touch on the guiding line. He is high strung, sensitive, and active, with a quick temper. A perfect type to become a problem, if that is what was expected of him. The only problem he presents to me is to keep him harmlessly occupied, and we have arranged a regular schedule of occupations that keeps us all happy.

"This is where you have helped us all so much. I originally had a goal set for me of perfect discipline, but you showed me how wrong that is. With my own little boy the goal is approached easily by helping him to develop according to his own individuality. He is not perfect, by any means. He is mischievous when I fail to find proper employment, defiant when I forget and speak too harshly, etc., but in almost every instance I have some mistake of my own to blame for his apparent naughtiness.

"The training of children must be guidance, but for parents comes the discipline. I have only started on my road, but it looks like such a long, happy one and so intensely interesting that I am anxious to learn all I can about it."

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

GIRL'S DRESS.

The bodice of this pretty dress has dropped shoulders, forming short sleeves, and there is shirring each side of the neckline. A jabot frill is stitched to the left side of the front, and the skirt is cut entirely in one piece, being shirred at the top to simulate a snug hip-line. Any one of the wash materials, including crêpe de chine, will make up beautifully in this design.

The pattern, 3,487, comes in sizes 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. Size 8 requires 1¾ yards of 36 inch material with 1½ yards of binding.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE NICE TEETH MAKE

Don't let your teeth and gums go on getting in worse condition—until your smile is unsightly. Keep your gums firm and healthy—your teeth lustrous and gleaming.

Thousands use Squibb's Dental Cream regularly for its wonderful protection. It contains 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia. Plenty of this safe, effective antacid to soothe the gums and to penetrate the crevices about the teeth and render destructive germ acids harmless. These acids cause tooth decay. Ordinary dentifrices are insufficient. How different is Squibb's Dental Cream! And how much nicer and healthier your teeth and gums keep when you use Squibb's.

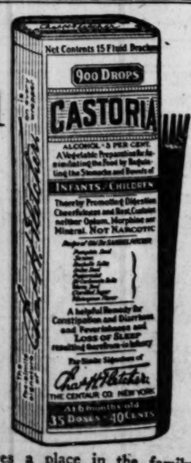
Children Cry for it



Children hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and harmless as the recipe reads. (The wrapper tells you just what Castoria contains.)

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, use it to keep the system from clogging. Your doctor will tell you Castoria deserves a place in the family medicine cabinet until your child is grown. He knows it is safe for the tiniest baby; effective for a boy in his teens. With this special children's remedy handy, you need never risk giving a boy or girl medicine meant for grown-ups.

My next door neighbor, Mrs. J., is a chronic borrower. Recently she rang my doorbell while I was bathing. My little 6 year old son Eddie answered the door and I could have gone down the plug in the tub when I heard him say: "Mother can't come to the door, Mrs. J. She's in the bathtub. But I can get you whatever it is you've come to borrow."

I dropped a quarter in the basket at church and picked up 20 cents. I am a clerk and so used to picking up change, that I thought nothing of it, but everybody saw me and it caused quite a laugh. I was so embarrassed I felt like getting up and leaving.
